Concrete Wins In Exciting Contest Here Last Sunday

Marysville Gang Is On Short End Of 10 to 7 Score—Two Homers In First Inning Is Feature—Hamilton Next...

The Concrete Merchants won a hard-hitting game Sunday, although the gang made enough errors to lose any average game. However, the loose play was made up by timely hitting, and Concrete took an early lead and managed to hold it. The local bunch made eight errors during the afternoon, to three for the visitors. Haussler, who is usually one of the steadiest players on the team, made four bobbles during the contest.

The feature of the game was two successive home runs in the first inning. Carleton lined one over the road in left field with Frank on first, and Chapin followed with another in the same place. Elkins just missed another in the same inning, his liner going on to the pavement for a double. Chapin had a hitting streak for the day, getting five hits in five times up. Peterson, Marysville catcher, did almost as well, hitting three out of four.

Marysville scored two in the first on one hit and three errors, but Concreet took the lead with three in the last half. The visitors added two more in the second on two hits and an outfield error, and the local gang made it up in the last half, when Cook's single, Leeman's triple and an error at short was good for .two runs Marysville then drew blanks until the eighth, when one run was scored, followed with two more in the ninth. Concrete bunched three singles with an error for two in the fourth; added two more in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Next Sunday the Concrete team goes to Hamilton for another contest with the down-river nine. The record so far stands at one victory for Hamilton and one tie game. The teams are evenly matched and the game should be a good one. In the last game here, half the population of Hamilto was on hand to root for the home team—Concrete should reciprocate by having a large delegation in the Hamilton stand next Sunday. The game should be well worth the trip to any real baseball fan.

Concrete People Will Spend A Quiet Fourth

Tomorrow is the Fourth of July, but to most of the residents of this city it will be just Friday, July 4, as there are no indications that there will be very much celebrating on the holiday. The bank, post office and most of the business houses will be closed all day, giving bosses and help a chance to work in the garden or mow the lawn. Of those who are leaving town for the day, most are headed for some beach to spend the day in camping and bathing, while a few are visiting relatives in outside towns. The day of the old-fashoned Fourth of July celebration, when one tramped the streets of some city all day long, amid noise and crowds, seems to have passed, and the holiday is now one of individual or family rest and recreation.

It Happened Fifteen Years Ago...

Concrete Herald, July 3, 1915

The greater part of this issue of the Concrete Herald is devoted to a write-up of the big fire of June 30, which destroyed six buildings and their contents and gutted three other buildings, causing a loss estimated at $35,000. The fire was first discovered at about 11 o'clock in the evening in the rear of the Griffin Hotel and the Concrete drug store, both buildings being ablaze when the fire was first seen. The fire quickly spread to adjoining buildings and by midnight the entire row of business houses had been wiped out.

The buildings destroyed included the hotel and drug store, Bjerstedt & Weir's candy store, the Horseshoe Bar, Binzer & Robertson's barber shop, H. C. Bryson's grocery store, Harold J. Smith's billiard hall, and the E. E. Aldridge store building. The fixtures and equipment of the Concrete post office, which was located in the drug store, were also destroyed and all the mail in the boxes was burned. The Concrete theatre, the Pioneer saloon, and other buildings on the other side of the street were badly scorched and many windows were broken. Practically nothing was saved from any of the buildings in the burned district. Only hard work on the part of volunteer fire fighters prevented the flames from leaping across the street and wiping out the entire business district.

Of the business houses burned out Wednesday night, four are already back in business. Dudley I. Green is putting in a new stock in the Kellner building near the school house; I. R. Reid has reopened the Horseshoe Bar in the Zabel building near the depot; Bjerstedt & Weir have erected a temporary tent on the site of the former building, and Binzer & Robertson are shaving customers in the Miller Real Estate office near the theatre.

* * *

Will D. Crofoot and C. E. Franklin left yesterday for Mount Baker and plan to celebrate the Fourth by a climb to the summit of the mountain.

* * *

Miss Stella Woods and Madison Hooper of Hamilton were married in Bellingham on June 26. They will live in Hamilton.

* * *

The town council held a special meeting to attend to some emergency matters brought on by the big fire. Several temporary permits were approved and granted, I. H. Reid was given permission to transfer his saloon to a new location, and steps taken to safeguard property. It was decided to open Grasmere street from the end of Main street to the new county road, and a crew will be put to work

Town Council Holds Special Meeting Last Friday Evening

A special meeting of the town council was held Friday for the purpose of straightenng out some matters in connection with the road improvement on the east side. The meeting was called to order by Mayor McDonald with Councilmen Ritchie, Gates and Middleton present.

Hugo Bauman, county commissioner for this district, was present and asked the town to execute an agreement under which the county would be permitted to tear about 200 feet of the pavement on the East Side Boulevard to make a connection with the new Concrete-Van Horn road. The connection at Everett Ave. comes at a point where there is a hump in the pavement, and it is necesary to tear out the pavement to lower this hump to conform with the grade of the road. Mr. Bauman stated that the pavement would be relaid as soon as the grade was set, which would require about a year, and very likely the road would be either paved or surfaced with crushed rock and oiled from the intersection with the pavement to the east city limits some time next year. After some discussion it was decided that the improvement is a benefit to the city, so the permission was gladly given and the mayor and clerk authorized to execute the agreement. The written agreement, Mr. Bauman explained, is necessary for the records of the state highway board, as state money is being used to build the road.

The regular monthly meeting of the council will be held next Monday night, July 7, and indications are that only routine matters are likely to come up All persons having claims against the city are asked to have them filed before Monday night or they will go over until the August session.

Eagles Are Planning Big Celebration Here

The Eagles of Skagit, Whatcom and Snohomish counties will fly high in Concrete on Sunday, July 20. Some time ago the Everett Eagles challenged Skagit county to a membership contest, the prize to be a feed for the winners at the expense of the losers. Sad to relate Everett won by a wide margin, and at the meeting of the Skagit county council, held here last Thursday night, it was decided to hold the feed in Concrete, and the date was set for July 20.

The four Skagit county aeries, Concrete, Sedro-Woolley, Anacortes and Mount Vernon, will be the hosts, Everett will be here in full force to enjoy the feed, and the Bellingham aerie has been invited to attend. It is expected that there will be over a thousand Eagles in town for the day. An elaborate entertainment program is being planned, to include music by the Mt. Shuksan band, exhibition drills by the Bellingham and Everett teams, and a program of races and sports for the youngsters, and possibly for the men and women. It is planned to make the affair a real picnic, and all will be made welcome.

Scout Moter's Club To Meet In Club Rooms Tuesday

The next monthly meeting of the Boy Scout Mother's club will be held at the club rooms of the Women's Community club in the library building on Tuesday afternoon, July 8. All mothers of Girl Scouts are invited to attend this meeting. An interesting program is planned for the afternoon and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The meeting will open at 2 o'clock.

Skagit Valley Pioneer Passed Away Sunday

Peter Larsen, Sr., one of the pioneer settlers of the upper Skagit valley, died at his home in Everett Sunday after a short illness. Funeral services were held in Everett Tuesday afternoon, with burial in one of the cemeteries in that city

Mr Larsen was 76 years old. He came to the Skagit valley while a young man and made his home on a farm near Sauk for about 40 years; about eight or nine years ago he turned the farm over to the boys and moved to Everett, where he has since made his home. He is survived by his wife and by sevens ons, H. L. Larsen of this city; Merz and Elmer at Sauk; Nels, Peter, Jr. and Harry at Port Angeles, and Louis in Everett. He was a typical pioneer and visitors were always welcome at his home. He was well known throughout the valley and leaves many friends to mourn his passing.

Shower For Bride

About twenty of the neighbors and friends of Mrs. Chris. Weigers, a recent bride, gathered at her home on Thursday afternoon of last week and surprised her with a miscellaneous shower, bringing many useful and handsome gifts. The afternoon was spent in social conversation, ending with a delicious luncheon served by the self-invited guests.

AUXILIARY WILL MEET

The next meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon, July 10, with Mrs. H. L. Larsen and Mrs. B. H. Solomon as hostesses.

LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD CALLS ANOTHER SPECIAL ELECTION

To Vote On Special Tax Levy Of Five Mills For Purpose Of Completing The Improvement Of School Plant—Date Set Is July 12—Contracts Are Let For New Building And Heating System—Work Started Saturday .

The board of directors of the Concrete school district have decided to call another special election. At the meeting held Monday afternoon, following the opening of bids for the heating system, the total cost of the proposed improvements to the school system was checked over and it was found that the proceeds of the recent bond issue would be insufficient to complete the work planned. Then the question for the board to decide was whether to curtail the program and leave out some of the improvements planned, or to ask the patrons of the school for funds enough to complete the whole job.

It was found that a five-mill special tax levy would raise enough money to finish all the work planned, and to provide the high school with all modern equipment needed to properly carry on its work. The board decided to submit to the voters the question of levying the extra tax, and a special election has been called for Saturday afternoon, July 12, to vote on the question.

This is the first special levy that has been asked for the local school since the Baker River Power Project was built. Prior to that time a ten mill special levy was almost an annual necessity. The proposed special levy will raise about $8,500, and being spread out over all the taxable property in the district, the increase in taxes will hardly be noticeable except to the Puget Sound Power & Light Company and the Superior Portland Cement, Inc., these two concerns paying about 75 per cent of the taxes in the district.

In round numbers the addition to the school building, including wiring, painting and architect's fees, will be about $16,000; the heating system, completed, will cost about $7,000, and equipment for the new addition, and rooms will add another $4,000. The grade building must have a new roof, and this will entail another expense of almost $1,000. The extra levy will provide enough funds to complete this program in ful. Any balance remaining will stay in the treasury and will be used to lower the tax levy for the following year. Even with the five mill special levy, the Concrete school will have by far the lowest tax levy of any high school district in Skagit county.

Contracts Are Awarded

At a meeting of the board held Saturday, the contract for the construction of the high school addition was awarded to Alexander & McNeil of Mount Vernon on their bid of $13,320, this being considered the best bid. The paintng contract was let to L Van Keulen of Bellingham, and Car E. Johnson, Bellingham, was awarded the contract for the electrical wiring and fixtures. Alexander & McNeil had a steam shovel on the job Saturday afternoon and dirt started moving Sunday. It is expected that the excavating will be finished by the end of the week.

Heating Bids Opened

Bids for the installation of a central heating plant for all the school buildings were opened Monday afternoon. Seven bids were filed, as follows: Geo. A. Clinchard, Concrete, $6,863; C. J. Christopher, Bellingham, $7,982; F. M. Haskell, Bellingham, $6,669; A. J. Blythe, Bellingham, $8,120; Alm & Thompson, Mount Vernon, $8,556; Chas. L. Ewing, SedroWoolley, $8,298; H & R Manufacturing Co., Sedro-Woolley, $8,904. After considering all the bids, the contract was awarded to F. M. Haskell.

The specifications provide for a large boiler to be installed in the basement of the grade building, with piping to the high school building and the gym. The new system will have an automatic stoker, with coal as fuel, and will have an automatic heat regulator, so that the heat in all the rooms will be kept even throughout the day.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. McPhaden and children are spending the week with old friends in town. Dr. McPhaden has closed his office in Mount Vernon and is leaving soon for Chicago to take a post graduate course in medicine and surgery.

Jack Hagen Dies At Home Tuesday

John T. Hagen died at his home in this city Tuesday morning after an illness of over two months. In the latter part of April he was taken ill with pneumonia, which developed into tuberculosis. He put up a brave fight against the ravages of the disease, but it was a losing fight, and news of his death was not unexpected.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon in the Mt. Baker Presbyterion church with Rev. L. H. Pedersen in charge. Burial will be made in the Forest Park cemetary at Grasmere.

Jack Hagen was 44 years old, having been born in Kansas City, Mo. in August, 1885. He came to Concrete in 1916 working in mills and camps in tis vicinity until about three years ago, when he went to work at the government fish hatchery at Baker lake, continuing to work there until he was taken ill. He was married last February to Miss Susie Ryan. He had no near relatives in this state and little is known of is family history, but he is beleived to have two brothers in the Middle West. He made many friends during his residence here, who regret his untimely death and are extending their sympathy to the bereaved wife.

Alice Woodworth Is Married In Seattle

Miss Alice Woodworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Woodworth of this city, was married last Saturday afternoon to Milo C. Bell of Seattle, the wedding being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Dickinson in that city. The Episcopal wedding service was read by Rev. Rodney Arney of Kent, with the bridal couple standing defore the fireplace, which was banked with a mass of summer flowers. The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Woodworth, as matron of honor. Ward Bell, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served by sorority sisters of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Bell left on a two weeks auto trip through Canada and Eastern Washington. They will make their home in Seattle.

The bride has spent most of her life in Concrete. She attended the Concrete schools and afterwards graduated from the University of Washington. Her many friends here are extending good wishes.

Concrete Scouts Give A Splendid Program

The entertainment given in the high school gymnasium by the Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops of this city last Saturday evening was a success in ever way but one, the attendance being discouraging when the amount of work required to prepare the program is considered. The program was well arranged and well balanced and every number showed hard work on the part of the boys and girls and their director, Mrs. J. W. Applegren. It was an entertainment that was out of the ordinary and one that all could enjoy.

The program included songs, drills, marches and ended with a splendid play. Excellent vocal solos were contributed by Jimmy Brooks, Edgar Mosher and Buddy Cardenas. One of the finest numbers on the program was a negro spiritual sung by Adelle Roller, Eleanor Butler, Buddy Cardenas and Robert Leonard. The signal flag drill by the Girl Scouts and a pantomime camp drill by the boys were well rendered and greatly enjoyed. The one act-play given as the concluding number was a surprise, being in Chinese costume and much different from the usual run of home talent plays. The play was well staged and well presented.

Tomorrow the United States is 154 years old. In that time we have become the wealthiest and one of the most prosperous nations in the world. And as history repeats itself, a great nation is often tested as to its greatness, we are beset with many problems which threaten our welfare. They are the problems of unemployment caused by development of labor saving machines, lawlessness caused by conflicting use of too many laws, and finally, the laxity of interest and active participation of the public in government affairs. The latter is a result of a tax burdened people who feel that their responsibility ends when they furnish the money to run the government and so leave the control in the hands of a few. Just how great the United States can be will be revealed in the way these problems are handled. And only the future can reveal that.

Scott Bullitt has come out strongly against the present prohibition laws and states that if his party does not like his platform they can find another candidate. With both parties against the prohibition law, the fight for offices will narrow down to a question of who can suggest the best plan to take care of the liquor problem.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS PRAYER

O Lord, for all I've done today
To cause annoyance and delay,
To make a person rant and rave,
For all wrong numbers that I gave,
And gave and gave when I'd be cryin'
For 5-2-7 or one-two-ni-yun;
For all the needless irritation,
When I cut off a conversation,
The curses, calls for information
Because of me; the slaps and slams,
The smashed receivers, darns and damns,
I've caused this day—O Lord, for these
And all my sins—excuse it, please.

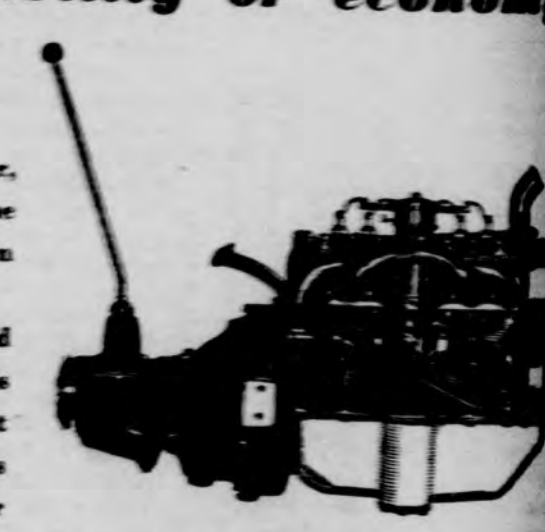
The Value of Sound Design

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy



The good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, the simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

LAZY AS THER'YE MADE

A motorist, stopping at the cross roads and seeing a native lying under a shady tree, inquired the way to the next village. The native had no ambition to rise and direct the motorist. He just pointed with his foot to the proper direction.

Motorist: Well, if you can show me anything lazier than that, I will give you ten dollars.

Native: Turn me over and put it in my hip pocket.

Results Of Independence Day of 1776!

The step our ancestors took when they fought to make our country free from oppression of other countries was a commendable one and you see today the wonderful results from that act. A nation among nations because the people saw fit to support it, instead of the outside nations.

You can do the same with the town of Concrete. To make it a bigger and better town you have to be willing to support the local tradesman, who is in reality the person who will build your community and show the prosperity of the town. Your trade is vitally important, and the more you give, the better service and prices you will receive.

These merchants are boosting for a better community, help them gain their objective.
