FEATHERS from the Duster

By The Overtime Editor

GOING TO MAKE A TRIP? Just try doing Seattle and you'll find it isn't necessary to go any further for all the fun you could pack into three or four days. You don't have to repeat an evening and a bit of conscientious prospecting will find all the glamour and class of fabulous San Francisco equalled or excelled in our own seaport city.

Take this past week's wedding trip of the editor and wife. Our schedule ran slightly to the knife and fork circuit, but that in itself is a thrilling experience in Seattle right now. Supper at the Polenesian on Sesame Chicken, washed down by Mi-Hi-MiHi's; the famous steaks at Panchos; Broiled lamb chops at the Dublin House; sandwiches and beer at the Hoffbrau; breakfast at the Pancake House. And not even time for Ruby Chow, Daverio's Italian food, the Top of the Town's prime rib or Rosellini's salads. The food guide book, "You Can't Eat Mt. Rainier," is far off—you can't even eat all Seattle has to offer in a week.

For other entertainment we found Joy & The Boys at the "410" good enough to hold us through four shows; the Ice Capades again a treat for the eyes; and "The Man Who Came To Dinner" excellently done on-stage by a group of talented Seattle amateurs. Didn't get down to the movie level, although the choice was very good.

Lord knows what it will be like when there is a World's Fair to see, too!

● WEDDING RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. George Regan, who were married during the Christmas holidays, will hold a reception for their friends at the Eagles hall this coming Sunday, January 14th, beginning at 2:00 P. M. A public invitation is issued to all those who wish to attend.

● GATES HOME DAMAGED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gates, former residents of Concrete, was damaged by fire which started in a clothes dryer last Thursday. The Gates lived at Lake Sammamish and their home suffered $10,000 damage.

March Of Dimes Drive Next In Upper Valley

The 1962 New March of Dimes with its challenge the fight against crippling diseases, has began its drive in Concrete. The local campaign is being sponsored by the Concrete Lions Club. The campaign program will continue through January with the support of Concrete's businessmen, organizations and schools.

The city's committee of Lions Club members includes David Jay—Chairman, Howard Boulton, George Bricka, John Stadlman and Rev. Gene Boger. Other organizations have been asked to lend their assistance.

"Your Dimes Will Do It Again" is the theme of this year's New March of Dimes. It reflects on the past achievements in controlling polio and at the same time looks toward the public support that can bring about the eventual control and prevention of crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Ujo

Ed V. Pressentin is Chairman of the New March of Dimes in the upper Skagit Valley, he covers the Rockport area and his Assistant Mrs. Karl Lindall will cover the Marblemount area.

Card mailers have been sent to all residents of the Valley. Coffee hours will be held at different homes, bake sales and card parties, also. This will all be for the benefit of the New March of Dimes.

Chamber Out To Sign Members

At a meeting of officers of the Upper Skagit Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday evening, the membership drive for the new organization was officially started and in the next few weeks the representatives of the group will be out contacting business men to join and get the program going for the coming year.

Minimum membership for a business firm will be $25, with rates scaled upward according to size of operation. Indvidual memberships will be pegged at $5.00

One of the first projects that will require a good amount of money in the treasury will be securing a re-order on the popular "Sleeping Bag Country" travel folders issued here last year. Already request for the folders from the state travel bureau, the automobile clubs and Century 21 agencies have reached far beyond the amount printed in the first order.

Another project the group has in mind for early completion is the installation of signs guiding visitors to the upper valley.

P. T. A. To Hear Panel On Hospital District

The regular meeting of the Concrete P. T. A. scheduled for next Tuesday evening, will be postponed for a week, due to the basketball game here Tuesday and the plans now being made to hold an especially interesting program for the regular meeting. The session is now to be held on Tuesday evening, January 23rd, starting at 8:00 P. M.

The program planned will be on the hospital district and plans for a new hospital for the Burlington-Sedro-Woolley and upper valley area. Fred Shular, hospital district director, will explain the problems and proposed plans. This will be followed by a panel discussion at which all question by the audience will be answered.

On the panel will be Dr. Wm. Monzingo; Charles Dwelley, member of Memorial hospital board; and the new administrator of the Anacortes hospital, who took part in the recent survey of the valley's hospital needs.

Northrup-Harris Rites At Lutheran Church

Miss Joyce E. Northup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Northup of Ridgefield, Washington, and Marvin (Jim) L. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harris of Concrete, were united in marriage at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church here on December 30th, 1961 in the presence of about one hundred and fifty relatives and friends. Rev. Arnold Kjesbu of Puyallup officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in Marriage by her father and mother, the bride was ushered down the aisle by her brother Dean. The bride was gowned in a white street length taffeta with neckline edged in Irish lace—full skirt with fitted bodice—short shoulder length veil and carried a bridal bouquet of white gardenia and white roses and stephonatis.

Mrs. Carol Cain, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Hascall, cousin of the bride. The bride's attendants wore light blue dresses with white accessories and carried bouquets of white roses and white carnations.

Mr. Richard Harris was his brother's best man and Murray Johnstone was his attendant. Ushers were Dale Jonson and Dean Northup, brother of the bride. Sprayed pine and cedar boughs with white carnations and gardenias decorated the Sanctuary.

Mrs. Robert Sjoboen was organist and Bob Whipple sang a solo "True Love" and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Northup sang "The Lords Prayer" to her accompaniment during the ceremonies.

The brides mother wore a rose beige satin dress with pink accessories and a corsage of white roses and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a silk violet and grey print dress with

Skagit Districts Short In Baker Dam Tax Split

Concrete's school directors and those of the Sedro-Woolley district which shares in the tax funds of the New Baker dam, were jointly calling "foul" on the apportionment of the tax bite by the State Department of Public Instruction. In the final agreement after a long hassle over sharing the funds, Concrete was granted 25% and Sedro-Woolley 15 per cent of the total. When the chips were counted it was found that Concrete's share was only 22.66% and Sedro was getting only 12.43%. Thus the screams.

The Skagit county valuation in the Upper Baker is $2,39,037. Both districts are now calling for adjustment to their proper percentages.

● TB FUND TOTALS

Figures released from the office of the Skagit County Tuberculosis League for Concrete and the upriver area show Christmas Seals returns total $419.00 as of December 31, 1961, with Concrete's total of $199.00, Hamilton $30.00, Lyman $49.50, Marblemount $39.00, and Rockport $101.50. The total for the County as of December 31st, is $6,726.15, still short of our goal of $8,000.00.

● Undergo Surgery

Mrs. John Stadlman returned last week from Seattle where she underwent major surgery at the Providence Hospital over the holidays then stayed several days at her sisters, Mrs. Wm. Schunzel.

Mrs. Maurice Barber underwent major surgery last Thursday at the Memorial Hospital and returned home Monday.

Burglary Is Quick Case

Burglary in the early morning hours—arrest of the culprits before the day is over. That was the picture yesterday when the Cascade Supply and Concrete Department Store were broken into and robbed, allegedly by two young men from this community.

Entry was made into the hardware store by mashing the glass in a front door with a large chunk of cement taken from the rear of the building. Once inside the boys collected all the small arms; three rifles; two electric razors; a chain saw and considerable amounts of ammunition.

At the department store the front door was pried open and a window in the rear broken—just which for entry or exit is not known. There the robbers opened the till and took about $35 in silver and bills that had been left in the change compartments. They evidently did not take anything else, and overlooked some $35 or $40 in rolled coins in a desk drawer.

Marshal Fred Bianchini and Deputy Sheriff Nick Petrich worked on the case all day, and by late in the afternoon had all the Cascade Supply loot recovered and the culprits under lock and key.

● Extra Prize Awarded

Due to icy road conditions the judges in the Holiday Lane Xmas display contest missed the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Pressentin of Rockport, who had entered their yard in the competition. As it was one of the best, an extra "first" was belatedly awarded.

MISS NANCY JOY METCALF BECOMES THE THE BRIDE OF ROBERT DAVIE OF BIRDSVIEW

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT DAVIE

Miss Nancy Joy Metcalf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Metcalf of Sedro-Woolley, became the bride of Mr. Robert DeForest Davie, son of Mrs. Kenneth Balzar, November 24 in the First Baptist Church in Sedro-Woolley.

The bride's full length gown was of white satin covered with lace. She wore a chapel length veil. Frances Metcalf was her maid of honor Diane Metcalf and Karen Metcalf were bridesmaids. They all wore blue ballerina length dresses.

Mr. Bill Gerrits was the groom's best man. Ushers were Gene Morgan and Ron Bates. Elena Balzar was the flower girl and Larry Morgan was the ring bearer.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Douglas G. Beason. The Church was decorated with white crysenthemums and blue color accents. Mrs. Beason was the soloist and Mrs. Fitzgerald played the organ. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Fred W. Metcalf.

A reception was held at the Church Parlor, with decorations carying out the blue and white color scheme. Mrs. Ruth McCoy of Burlington served the cake. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Irene Morgan of Brewster and Mrs. Joyce Dillard of Burlington served the punch. In charge of the guest list was Marilyn Starkovich of Sedro-Woolley. Misses Terry Adams of Hamilton, LaRee Miner of Sedro-Woolley, and Jean Moyer of Hamilton opened the gifts. Linda Metcalf, Mike Metcalf, and Ricky Balzar passed the grooms cake.

After the reception the newlyweds left for a week end trip. The bride was attired in a green tweed suit.

Mrs. Davie graduated from Sedro-Woolley High School in 1961. Mr. Davie is a 1958 graduate of Concrete High School and is now attending Skagit Valley College.

The young couple is now residing in Sedro-Woolley.

Town Election Will Be Held On March 13th

Election time will come around again soon for Concrete with the date for the next Municipal Election set for Tuesday, March 13th. At that time the voters will choose almost an entire council, with four positions of the five to be filled. Martin Spargo will be the lone hold-over as most positions are being filled with appointees.

Up for further terms or retiring at the case may be are Kenneth Robertson, Rusty Solomon and Rev. Gene Boger. A fourth position, left vacant by the resignation of Ken Sullivan, is still unfilled.

According to election laws the nominations will be made at an official Caucus which is to be held at least 24 day prior to election. In accordance the council set the date for the caucus on Tuesday, February 6th, to give ample time for any further caucuses, if such be desired.

The caucus will be held at City Hall, starting at 8:00 P. M.

TORRENT OF RAIN HITS HERE OVER WEEKEND

Didn't It RAIN! Over the past weekend the heavens opened up and all the accumulated water of several weeks seemed to fall on the upper valley all at one time. The Concrete area was credited with a total depth of 2.6 inches in one 24-hour period and this adds up to the usual high water in the rivers and creeks, flooded basements and overworked drain sewers.

The Skagit rose to flood stage at Mount Vernon but failed to develop any serious threat in the upper valley. Jackman Creek, however, was back in the news as a renegade in spite of the flood control project of last year. The beautiful new channel failed to restrain the raging waters and it began cutting away the west bank above the Parker home. Logs and debris again became a problem at the highway and railroad bridges and in the lower portion of the creek the waters fanned out over the creeks banks to flood a wide area.

Other creeks up the valley were over their banks and some over the highway. No serious damage was reported.

State Highway 16 above Marblemount was blocked briefly by a slide caused by the heavy rains.

The downpour was just too much for drains around town and many homes and businesses had to call on pumps to handle water that piled up where it didn't belong.

COUNCIL, FIRE DISTRICT REVIEW CONTRACT

The town council, members of the local fire department and the directors of Rural Fire District No. 10 met Tuesday evening to work over the contract between the town and district for future operation of the rural fire fighting equipment—but no action was taken until the district commissioners study the proposed changes in the present contract.

The contract was reviewed by the council Monday evening and recommendations of the fire department approved. The main changes would be that the contract would be negotiated yearly instead of let run indefinitely, and that full agreement would be outlined on control and operation of equipment held in the local fire hall.

Fire Chief Armond Bianchini reported that his department was of the opinion that all equipment in the local fire hall should be solely under their control and that all suggestions or complaints be handled through the council, which would act upon them and issue the orders.

Minor changes in the contract were in designation of trucks by number for easier identification of town and rural equipment; asking that the local department be authorized to make minor purchases for tires, batteries, etc. without waiting for a meeting of the commissioners; and that the number of men guarantee to answer rural calls be cut from 8 to 6, as two men now remain at the fire hall to handle radio contact work.

Cost to the town and the $550 yearly payment guaranteed by the district will be reviewed to see that a fair distribution of fire costs is reached.

COUNCIL SAYS—

Tiled Stream To Be Re-Routed

Council meeting Monday night was a series of different subjects, covered in other stories in this issue. For the routine part of the meeting the main subject was what to do about a drainage problem in Central Concrete in which a tiled creek broke out under the Fred Crinklaw property on Limestone St.

Mr. Crinklaw reported that the creek which comes off the gully north of his property, was carried by tile to the town draining system under the school field, but that whoever put the tile under his property in past years didn't spend too much money for a quality tile. One simply melted away and the resulting flood of water threatens his back yard and garden plot.

The town recognized the need of handling the creek water, so came up with the suggestion that the property owners provide a new ditch and location for the stream to route it under the street. The town will furnish the tile under the privately owned property and provide for tiling under the street to the present outlet, which in recent years was installed on lower Limestone street.

More water problems due to the heavy rains of last weekend were found in East Concrete and need of a culvert and adequate drainage for that area was discussed. This is to be handled by the street department.

Comprehensive Survey Received

The first part of the comprehensive 6-year plan for improvement of the town was received by Mayor Peterson. This was the arterial street plan which is required by the state highway department.

The plan listed costs of $17,580 for improving Superior avenue to the Burpee hill road; $28,732 for a secondary arterial to Crofoot addition and $33,000 for improvement of Limestone street as a secondary arterial. Total of all work projected would be $73,393, including engineering costs. Only Superior Ave. would be considered a primary arterial and subject to immediate attention.

A check for $500 as the town's share in survey costs was forwarded to the State Dept. of Commerce & Economic Development.

Still to be received are plans for sewer and other town improvement.

Punch Board Tax Discussed

Due to recent publicity on punch boards and "trade stimulators" the mayor reported he had been approached with a suggestion that a quarter license be collected instead of by the board.

In the pursuit of the question it was found that although in past years the tax had collected several hundred dollars yearly, not a single deposit had been made during 1961 to the town treasurer from this source. The mayor, embarrased by the apparent failure to collect the tax, promised a full report at the next meeting on the lack of revenue from the ordinance.

B. P. R. Sets Figures For North Cross Road

A shadow of forthcomng events is read in the encouraging report by the Bureau of Public Roads in which projects for this coming year include $954,000 for 3.2 miles of new construction on the North Cross-tate Highway from Thunder arm toward Ruby Creek; and a sum of over $800,000 for improvement and tunnel widening on the highway between Diablo and Newhalem.

It appears that both contracts will be let before spring.

It was the old case of the quick young lad against the slow, old fellow New Year's Eve. The old fellow lost the contest, but it was close—'61 to '62.

We note that City Light has been commended for an excellent job of sweeping Ross lake after completion of Ross dam. We hope such commendation will be forthcoming on Baker Lake, not to mention the most horrible example of neglect —Lake Shannon.

It has been suggested that Concrete brighten up Main Street at night by leaving more lights on in the stores. Also an inexpensive way to advertise a good-looking establishment. Attention, C. of C.!

British Columbia took 68 per cent of the East Coast lumber market in November, mostly at the expense of employment and industrial activity in this state. It is estimated that the Canadian lumber that set this figure represented enough primary and services employment to support a city of 100,000 people. The lumber industry of the state is making a strong protest of the unequal terms on which our loggers and mills must compete to hold any part of this market. There are many basic costs that balk a firm solution to manufacturing competition, but a key point is being pointed out in the overwhelming advantage given to foreign shippers by our maritime laws. Any changes that will keep our forest industries from falling away should be made without delay.

The report that Skagit County Superior Court Judge Charles Stafford may be in line for appointment to the state Supreme Court is one that should not be unexpected, and surely one the state as a whole could applaud. Judge Stafford's record in his present position has more than justified the promise under which his seeming youth was ignored when voters gave him the Superior judgeship. He is still young in respect to the higher court, but also just as capable of distinguishing himself there. The appointment would be an excellent one. The penalty, however, would be to Skagit county for his loss.

President Kennedy today makes report to the Congress on what he desires from them this term. It is stated that he will "give them both barrels." To be filled, preferably.

A man's outlook on life may be pretty good when he is single, but addition of a couple of female eyes to the household broadens the view.

Nothing like a good rain to make everyone thankful for little blessings—like not being fish.

Thievery is growing more prevalent as times get difficult. Under modern theory it is better to steal than work for less wages than the last job.

A weird sense of reasoning figures in the punch board controversy in Seattle and elsewhere. Slightly illegal but profitable taxwise, which is supposed to salve the wounds to the state constitution. They say there are degrees to pregnancy, too, but most agree that either you are or you aren't. We'd say that the punch boards need a similar ultimatum.

Income tax time with 1962 estimates due next week. In times like these the problem is whether to file the threats or the promises of the coming year. Keeping in mind that uncle hates a tax pessimist.

Marblemount Forest Ranger Distict Report

A bad fire season during 1961 reduced the planned trail work on the Skagit District, Mt. Baker National Forest, according to Al Brown, District Trail Supervisor. Brown and crews, however, managed to maintain over 100 miles of trail, restore four miles and construct two trail shelters.

Dave Hamilton's maintenance crew fell slightly short of their goal, but still maintained over 90 miles of trail. Hamilton's crew worked on the Granite Creek, Fisher Creek, Desolation, and Three Fools Trails, some of which had not seen a crew for many years. "Ham's" crew used four pack horses to move their camping gear from day to day. On a typical day, the crew rise about 5:30 a.m., cook and eat their breakfast, then break camp and load the pack animals. When the horses are loaded, the packer starts out the animals. His job is primarily to move camp, cut out the windfalls and brush with the power saw, and then set up camp in the evening. The rest of the crew works along behind the pack string, removing rocks, correcting drainage problems, and cutting brush.

Ten miles of the Big Beaver Trail received heavy work this season. Lawrence Bates of Concrete, heading up a crew of two men, started out at Ross Dam and did a heavy maintenance to the Ten Mile Shelter. Severe drainage problems were corrected, puncheon was constructed, and brush cut back. After cutting the brush, three different types of dry chemicals were used on an experimental basis to see which one would curb or stop its re-growth. This crew will be back in the Beavers next summer continuing where they left off.

Lawrence Winn of Marblemount, with a crew of three men, spent the summer in the Lightning Creek and Three Fools country. Winn's crew completed the restoration work on the Lightning Creek Trail. Portions of this trail were quite treacherous and shale rock slides were stabilized and much rock was "shot" to make this trail safe for public use. Upon completion of this job, the crew moved into Elbow Basin where a trail shelter was constructed.

A second shelter was constructed at Devils Park by regular Forest Service personnel. At this same time, three and a half miles of trail were staked for contracting next summer. This is part of the expanded trail and shelter program on the Skagit Ditrict.

Some of the local men who worked on our trails included Ron Bates, Concrete; Tim Roetman, Alvie Kratzer, Marblemount; Mike Radich, Newhalem; Robert Brown, Bellingham.

Our trail plans for next summer will be announced in the spring.

You're using twice as much electricity as you did 10 years ago

Look around your home and you'll see why. Today, you own more appliances than ever before. And, in these long, cold, dark days of winter you call on them to do more jobs, more often. As a result, last year we supplied a billion more kilowatt hours of electricity than in 1951. When you consider that an electric refrigerator operates for nearly a full day on one kilowatt hour, you get some idea of the magnitude of the increase in electric usage. It's reflected in the fact that you, the average Puget customer, use five times as much electricity as the people in New York City.
