Feathers from the Duster

By The Over-time Editor

CHRISTMAS being just a few days away, the nearness seems in some ways a bit of relief. You are absolutely certain that you will never be ready for it. So sure, in fact, that there is a let-down in spirit just before the final shot of red, green and tinsel adrenalin enters the veins through eyes and ears. In many past campaigns it always seemed to come out all right. No matter how much procrastination you employed, by the time Christmas eve arrived the work somehow was completed.

It's not really work, we know. The fun just gets mixed up in a jumble of packages and ribbons for a few hectic days. On Christmas when same packages and ribbons threaten to run the family out of the living room the fun has been discovered to have been there all the time.

The Herald and staff wish all of our readers many packages and much fun inside of each.

NEWS and the mail bag bring in a lot of miscellany this week. We hear that Herb Larsen and Bill Sullivan have started up their new shake mill which has been under construction on the Swinomish Indian reservation at LaConner for several months. It has the ritzy name of "Thuja Plicata, Inc." A likely handle for a firm operated by a Scandanavian and an Irishman—it happens to be the Latin name for Cedar. Check and add to your wealth of incidental knowledge.

OUR PEACE Corps people, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gerrits, have completed their tour of duty in Africa after two years and are now working their way home slowly. They have been in Ethiopia and Greece and plan to spend Christmas in Vienna before heading for stateside.

WINDOW ARTISTS were in a short supply this year as the Cascader Juniors found Saturday a cold and miserable time to gather a group of kids together for the annual event. Only two showed up, both boys. Randy Wood of Marblemount won first with his reindeer in the Herald window. Russell Phillips did his second place winner in the Cascade Supply window across the street.

IT WAS with deep regret that we learned of the death in an auto accident last week on Put Anderson. The "Putter" had a galaxy of friends in the valley from his many years of playing for dancers in a number of popular bands, including his own, at the community halls from Lyman to Marblemount. He was a great entertainer, a grand guy personally and at 73 was still chipper and smiling the last time we saw him.

Mrs. Hazel Bell Of Marblemount Passes

Mrs. Hazel Bell of Marblemount, died at the family home there on Sunday. Mrs. Bell is the wife of Arthur G. Bell and the family have lived in the Newhalem and Marblemount area since 1927.

Mrs. Bell was born May 14, 1903 in Medford, Oregon. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Carol Mellom of Newhalem and Miriam Johnson of Marysville; one son Leslie G. Bell of Metaline. There are seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She also leaves one sister, Reva Schmitz of Seattle, and a brother, Harold Strandley of Unalaska.

Funeral services will be held at Arlington.

Winter Band Program Wednesday Evening

A Christmas program will be held at the high school gym on Wednesday evening, Dec. 20th at which the Concrete High School Band will be presented in it's 19th annual winter concert. The program will be somewhat shorter this year because only the band will be participating. The musicians will be given their intermission rests by community singing conducted by Mr. Mill.

The first group of band numbers the program will open with the Iowa Band Law March by King. This will be followed by a Latin overture "Argentine" by Buchel and a Latin Pop number "Blue Tango" by Anderson.

With Sande Mellom at the piano Mr. Mill will lead the audience in singing "Rudolph, the Red-nosed Reindeer" and "Jingle Bells."

In the second group the band has chosen "Jesu Joy of Man's Desirings" a choral by Bach. The second piece will be a medley by Playhar, "Christmas Around The World."

During the second intermission the songs for the crowd to sing together will be the old favorites "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night."

The concert will close with typical Christmas music as expressed in a Jingle Bell Rhapsody arranged by Walters, and "Rudolph . . ." in a popular tempo by Marks.

The concert will start at 8:00 and again is free to all who wish to attend.

Bob Johnson, Former CHS Star, Is Stricken

Robert B. Johnson, 40, former resident of Concrete and well-known by many in the county through his athletic ability and as a State Highway Patrolman, died in the Brewster Hospital in Eastern Washington last Wednesday evening following a series of heart attacks. He had been out hunting and the truck had stalled in the snow. He and his partner tried to dig it out, but finally gave up and the partner went to get help. When he returned Bob had apparently attempted to dig out some more and was exhausted. On the way home he suffered one attack so was taken to the hospital and there suffered the final one several hours later.

Bob made his home here with his mother and brothers and sister, attending and graduating from Concrete High School in 1947. He was a star athlete and active in all sports, highlighting his career in helping take his team to the state basketball tournament where he was accorded honors for his play.

After leaving school he started in law enforcement work, serving for a time as town marshall here. He joined the state patrol in 1949 as a radio operator trainee and was commissioned a trooper in 1951. He married Dolores Pulice of this city, who survives him. There are three children, twin girls Cheryl and Carole, and a son Robert, all attending Chelan High School.

Funeral services were held at Chelan, where the family has

Two Groceries Slated For Marblemount

Marblemount is on the move these days. Vail's Grocery, which has been operated in the store building owned by Ed Clark since the Clark's sold their stock to them, will be opening in a new location the first of the year. The old Skagit Tavern building, west of Sadie's Hotel, has been purchased and is being renovated and remodeled for the store.

At the same time the Clark building is slated to again become "Clark's Grocery" but with Mrs. Oliver Clark and son Richard as the proprietors. They plan to open for business as soon as the former tennants complete their move.

Winter Makes Traffic Hazardous In Valley

Icy road conditions continue to plague motorists in the valley as the small dusting of snow over the week end has frozen in the 25-35 degree weather and occasional sun has created ice patches on most of the roads. Minor accidents are too numerous to report, mostly of cars sliding off the highways.

Reported accidents include Rett M. Adair, Jr., 18, of Rockport, who struck a slick spot Sunday about three miles east of this city. The car rolled over on its top in the ditch and was totalled out. Rett was not injured.

In Concrete Alfred Knutson, high school principal, and Leonard Hornbeck, 25, of Rockport, met on the crest of the rise going to Capitol Hill. Hornbeck was entering the road that leads to Mill addition and Knutson was coming west. Neither were able to stop.

Mrs. Rose Jones Dies Here At Age Of 82

Rose E. Jones, 82, mother of Kenneth Cabe of this city, passed away here on Tuesday morning of last week. Mrs. Jones had been a resident of the county since 1913 and for many years made her home in Hamilton where she had gained a host of friends throughout the upper valley.

Funeral services were held at the Lemley Chapel in Sedro-Woolley on Friday with Rev. Kenneth Green of the Assembly of God Church of Lyman officiating. Burial was made in the Hamilton cemetery.

Mrs. Jones was born July 6, 1885 in Jackson County, North Carolina. She is survived by her husband, Oscar Jones; one son, Kenneth of this city; three daughters, Mrs. Pearl Reece of Darrington, Mrs. Lena Garland of Canyonville, Oregon and Mrs. Beulah Byrd of this city. There are nine grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren. One son, John, died in 1964.

HAMILTON CUT-OFF OPENED TO TRAFFIC

The long awaited opening of the new stretch of Highway 20 between Lyman and Hamilton came last Wednesday noon with little fanfare. Suddenly the "stop" signs were taken down and the detour road blocked and traffic began moving over the new blacktop.

The highway eliminates the dangerous crossing that construction made necessary just above Hamilton, and marks the end of the long lamented four right-angle corners that had to be negotiated to get through the town of Hamilton and back to the road directed towards which ever east or west destination you wished to reach. A by-pass had been sought since the days when the up-river route was a county road.

An innovation on the new highway is the first automatic railroad crossing signal to be installed in the valley. It is on the crossing east of Hamilton. The new highway has been well signed for access to both Hamilton and Lyman.

Next large scheduled project on Highway 20 in the valley is the new bridge across the Baker river at Concrete and the cut-off approaches that will take the traffic away from the Main Street. No date has yet been set for the call for bids.

Martin Heads School Board

The Upper Skagit Valley School board was reorganized at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening with Harry Martin as chairman and Herb Larsen as clerk. The session was a busy one with several matters of importance taking up the members time for the evening.

A review was made of the professional negotiation agreement with the teaching staff and Thursday, January 4th, was set as the date for a meeting with the negotiation committee on the question of salaries for the next term.

A discussion was held on the use of school facilities by groups outside the school, a problem arising from the fact that there is no longer a custodian living on the high school property who can be responsible for handling opening and closing of the building for such affairs. The board also is considering an updating of charges to be made for the various facilities when used for non-school activities.

In a move to consolidate the upper grades and high school the board voted to include both the 7th and 8th grades in the high school enrollment next fall, moving these classes to that location and working them into the regular scheduling.

A request has been received from the Rockport firemen (District No. 19) to make use of the Rockport school garage to house their fire truck. The school is now using part of the building as a bus garage but will meet with the fire district officers at the next regular session to talk over joint use.

Who carries the brighter candle? In a world desperately seeking leadership toward something better, many light a thin flame that flickers for a moment, then expires. Humans cry for humanity, yet will not accept it. Leaders cry for power and are consumed by it. The weak cry for strength to survive and gaining it, use it badly. The strong find their energy sapped by defense instead of the good they would do. All the blind gropings of a world in search of something tangible upon which to rest a weary faith have in later years found few sanctuaries. Only Christmas still carries the spirit of comfort that most seek. Only Christmas mends the tatters, renews the hope, restores the smiles—and all in the twinkling of an eye. That is why we long for Christmas each and every day and are given it but once a year. The other days are up to each of us to make of what we will. One day is left to prove there is a brighter candle than our own. Light yours from it. Merry Christmas.

The new bit of highway that by-passes Hamilton was opened quietly last week, possibly not to draw attention to the fact that it was several years late in construction. With due modesty we claim some credit for this editorial column. We remember writing several ringing pleas for this road that must have shaken Olympia to it 's foundation. The power of the written word! Only trouble is that so few readers recall our effort which, now we think back, was quite strong—but thirty years ago.

For too many people the future always gets in the way of things that have yet to be done.

The original story of Christmas was a gem of infinite beauty. Late revisions seem to have been written to please a sponsor.

The courts continue to find new ways to make criminals safe from the discrimination of being treated differently than those who obey the law. How did we ever come to believe that was the general idea of law enforcement?

All the fancy names of Golden Age, Senior Citizen, etc. will never cover up the fact that all that spare time came about forty years too late.

"PICKED UP ALONG THE WAY"

—By PASTOR ROY OLSON

"I live in a small town out in the sticks." Thousands of people who live in out-of-the-way places have said that. Certainly many citizens of Concrete have said that over the years.

One can say that with a sense of apology or a sense of pride. Did you ever stop to think of that?

I have been thinking a great deal about this the past week. I live in a small town, numbers wise, that is. None should ever apologize for that. We have gone bigness crazy over the years. And as I look around at the hills and then see what they send rolling through our town in the form of what we call "sticks" we hear someone remark, "Boy, was that ever a load of BIG sticks!" They came from big trees, trees of which we are and should be very proud.

So we are not ashamed of living in the sticks, as we know sticks. But now what about this small town business? If we are not ashamed of living in a small town numbers wise, what is there left to be concerned about?

The tragedy comes when we let our town become small people-wise. When we do not ourselves act big, and when we do not actively support those concerns which make a community big, and when we presume to lead and think small, then community dry rot is just around the corner.

Dry rot is the constant worry of every wooden boat owner. I and my family almost met with tragedy in Alaska because of it. But community and state dry rot carries with it immensely more far reaching consequences.

Concrete may not ever be anything big from a numbers standpoint and that is nothing to cry about. But if it never achieves bigness as bigness speaks of people, this is something we should cry about. Or is it too late for tears? And on that note I have decided to write "finis" to this column. My thanks to Editor Dwelley for the space and to those who have expressed appreciation for my efforts.

We hope your Christmas is the happiest yet. You deserve the best!

TEEN CHATTER

by Kathy Nims

Last Wednesday class meetings were held. The main topic discussed was the decorations for Christmas. Each class was assigned a certain area to decorate. This year there will be no competition. Instead, in February a money competition will be held. It will probably be a contest to see which class can collect the most toys to send to the orphans in Viet Nam.

Friday a Pep Assembly was held. The Seniors won the Pep Jug.

Friday night the game with Tolt was a complete victory for the Lions. The J.V. team came through with a score of 54-45. The varsity proved to be ready by winning with a score of 50-28. Saturday night both games were won by Monroe. Oh well, you win one and you lose one.

There was a dance held in the cafeteria after the game Friday night. It was sponsored by the Sophomores. The theme was "Christmas". The turnout was pretty good.

Lion Wrestlers Win Over Mount Baker

The Concrete High wrestling team came up with a squeaky win over Mount Baker on Tuesday night of last week, taking the total match scores 25-24.

The team will meet Ferndale in the local gym on Thursday night of this week, Dec. 21 with the first match starting at 7:30.

Lions Win From Tolt, Lose To Monroe

The Concrete Lions moved into league basketball over the weekend, winning big at Tolt on Friday night 50 to 28; and losing on Saturday night to Monroe 60 to 46.

The Tolt game was played in the local gym and the home crowd saw Con Kelly and Larry Hoover take over the rebounding with 10 and 11 each, while their teammates helped out by making the count 47 to 36 for Tolt's backboard work. Dan Johnson and Darrell Johnson were outstanding on defensive play.

Rick Balzar led the Lions by scoring 15 points. Others contributing were Dan Johnson 8, Mike Kempkes 4, Tyke Thompson 2, Darrell Johnson 3, Conn Kelly 6, Larry Hoover 7, Charlie Messer 3, Ron Strand 2 and Dan Hornbeck 1.

MONROE GAME

The Lions stayed in the ball game at Monroe for three quarters, but were unable to stop a hot Bearcat five in the final period. The score was 10-14 at the quarter; 28-21 at half time and 41-35 at the start of the fourth period.

Concrete held Monroe well on defense, except for Larry Ottini who piled up 26 individual points to make the big spread in the final totals.

Conn Kelly was top rebounder with 11. Concrete beat them in this department 32-27. Larry Hoover was high scorer with 12 for the Lions. He leads for the season with 42 rebounds while Rick Balzar tops the scorers so far with 55 points.

Others scoring on Monroe in Saturday's game were Darrell Johnson 4, Dan Johnson 6, Tyke Thompson 1, Rick Balzar 11; Conn Kelly 10 and Charlie Messer 2.

The next home game will be after the holidays on Friday, January 5th with King's Garden.
