REVENUE COLLECTOR WORKS GRAFT GAME IN SKAGIT COUNTY

NOW BEING TRIED ON CHARGE OF SECURING $624 FROM UPPER SKAGIT VALLEY MEN FOR "PROTECTION."

James Read, a deputy collector of internal revenue at Aberdeen, is now being tried in the federal court in Tacoma on a charge of having used his position to secure money by promising "protection" in connection with liquor cases. Although it is claimed that Read operated principally in Southwestern Washington, the specific charge on which he is being tried took place in Skagit county, which is outside of his territory. Read was arrested several weeks ago, but Joe Williams, an Aberdeen taxi driver, who is said to have been working with him, has not been located yet.

According to the government officials, Read is said to have worked in this county some time ago under the name of Hewitt, and is charged with having secured $624 as protection money from Grover C. Welch, Gene Leadbetter and James Ford, well-known residents of Hamilton and Lyman. It is alleged that Williams made a deal with these men for a quantity of moonshine whiskey, and as the delivery of the liquor was being made to Williams, Read stepped out of the brush with a gun in his hand and commanded all to hold up their hands. He then told Welch, Leadbetter and Ford that the matter could be compromised with the revenue department by the payment of $124 as revenue and a penalty of $500. The money was raised and turned over to Read, who then placed Williams under "arrest" and drove away with him, taking the liquor with them.

A. Davidson, a hotel man; C. N. Colvin, city marshal, and W. S. Maw, all of Sedro-Woolley, appeared in the federal court in Tacoma Wednesday to identify Read as the man known in Sedro-Woolley as Hewitt. Welch, Ford and Leadbetter also appeared as witnesses against Read later in the week. The government claims that Read has been operating his graft game for some time, and that the money received by him would amount to many thousand dollars.

EUGENE UPPER INJURED AT CAMP AT MONTBORNE

Eugene Upper, recently of Van Horn, was brought to the Sedro-Woolley hospital last week suffering with a dislocated elbow, received at the camp of the Nelson-Neil Lumber company at Montborne. He was working in the woods when a cable broke, striking him on the elbow. He was employed at the camp of the Van Horn Logging company at Van Horn for some time, and is well known here.

Pouring Houses, a Flying Daddy, Remodeled Opinion

Points of interest in news pictures of the day are varied. At Union, N. J., C. H. Ingersoll, manufacturer, and Thomas A. Edison, famous inventor, are "pouring" concrete houses, the total cost about $2000, which is believed will help relieve the house shortage all over the nation. They can be completed in less than one month's time.

The woman and two children are waiting at Roosevelt field, N. Y., for return of "their daddy," Lieut. Maynard, the "flying parson" who led in the first half of the great airplane derby across the continent.

The two men represent a "dream come true." It is a literal "Capital and Labor" talking it over. It is Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and John D. Rockefeller Jr., as they were snapped at Washington outside the "Round Table Conference" session on the steps of the Pan-American building. They were in earnest discussion.

EAGLES TO MEET IN HALL OVER CONCRETE THEATRE

Baker aerie No. 1444, F. O. E., was this week offered the free use of the old lodge room over the Concrete theatre by Magnus Miller, the owner of the building, and Mr. Miller's generous offer has been accepted by the aerie. This room was formerly used as a lodge hall by the Odd Fellows and other orders, but was abandoned some years ago in favor of the Eagles hall, which was more convenient in many ways. The room has been vacant for some time, and will need some repairs and alterations before it will be ready for use by the Eagles. This work is now under way, and will be completed by the time the furniture and supplies which have been ordered by the aerie will reach here. It is hoped to have the new hall ready for use for the regular meeting next Thursday night. The aerie will use this hall as a meeting place until such time as their own hall can be rebuilt.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will meet in the old laundry building, near the depot, which is being fitted up as a lodge hall. The other orders that were rendered homeless by the destruction of the Eagles hall will probably meet at the homes of members until other arrangements can be made. The Baptist Sunday school is being held temporarily at the home of Rev. H. V. Davies.

COUNTY TAX LEVIES ARE HIGHER FOR COMING YEAR

The tax levies for 1920 have been completed by County Assessor Jess E. Roessell and final figures show that all levies will be considerably higher than for last year. The state, county, road district and city levies for next year are as follows:

For the state, 14.65 mills; last year it was 12.35. For the county, 23.30 mills; last year it was 19.10. Road district No. 1, including local improvement district, 9.75 mills; last year it was 7.50 mills. Road district No. 2, including local improvement district, 14.15 mills; last year it was 11.15. Road district No. 3, including local improvement district, 12 mills; last year it was 7.95.

The tax levies for the various towns are: Anacortes, 26 mills; last year it was 23 mills. Burlington, 16 mills; last year it was 11. Hamilton, 15 mills; last year it was 10. Lyman, 21 mills; last year it was 16. LaConner, 10 mills for both years; McMurray, 10 both years; Mount Vernon, 17 both years; Sedro-Woolley, 22 both years.

EX-SOLDIER IS KILLED IN LOGGING CAMP ACCIDENT

Gus J. Hahn, a donkey engineer employed at the Puget Sound camp, was killed while at work at the camp early Monday forenoon, when a heavy block used in a square lead gave way and struck him on the head, causing injuries from which he died in about twenty minutes. The body was taken to Sedro-Woolley to be prepared for shipment, and was shipped from there Thursday to Wallace, Idaho, his former home, for burial.

Hahn was a few months over 32 years of age. He was inducted into the army in August, 1917, and served 18 months with the front line in France, going through the war without a scratch. He was discharged from military service some months ago, and had been employed at the camp for about sixty days. He was a man who made friends easily, and was well liked among his fellow workmen. He had been married, but secured a divorce from his wife a few years ago. He is survived by two brothers, one in Seattle and one in Mays, Idaho.

LUTHER DAVIS LOSES ARM IN LYMAN LOGGING CAMP

Luther M. Davis, of this city, had the misfortune to lose his right arm as the result of an accident at the camp of the Skagit Mill company near Lyman Thursday afternoon. Davis was employed in cutting wood for a donkey engine, and was reaching across a block of wood when a small tree, pulled down by the cable from another donkey, fell across the block, catching his arm between the tree and the edge of the block, severing it just below the elbow. He was taken to the Burlington hospital, where he is reported to be getting along as well as could be expected. He is well and favorably known here, and his many friends heard of his misfortune with regret.

BILLIARD HALL IS OPENED IN FELICETTI BUILDING

Joe Shelas, a recent arrival in this city from Seattle, has opened a billiard hall and soft drink stand in the Felicetti building in Central Concrete, occupying the room formerly used by Mr. Felicetti as a warehouse. The room has been completely furnished and has been appropriately furnished for the new occupancy. The building is now owned by Mrs. Anna Early, formerly of Seattle.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY DIES IN SEDRO-WOOLLEY

Robert B. Roberts, a resident of this city some years ago, died in the Sedro-Woolley hospital Tuesday morning following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Roberts was taken to the hospital the first of last week from his home at Skiyou and underwent an operation Wednesday. He seemed to rally from the operation, and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but the latter part of the week he took a turn for the worse and grew slowly weaker until his death Tuesday. Funeral services were held from the Baptist church in Sedro-Woolley yesterday, having been deferred to await the arrival of a daughter from Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and children made their home in this city for a number of years, leaving here about six years ago for Skiyou, where Mr. Roberts had since been employed as ferryman on the Skiyou ferry. He was a member of the Concrete lodge of the Neighbors of Woodcraft and was also a member of the Woodmen of the World. He was about 60 years of age. He is survived by his wife, who is reported to be seriously ill, and by six children. He had many friends among the old time residents of this city, who mourn the passing of an old friend and neighbor.

SUCCESS ATTENDS DRIVE FOR ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

The managers of the Roosevelt memorial fund drive in this city report that contributions have been coming in steadily during the week, and while no check has yet been made indications are that the city's quota has been passed. The committee will continue to receive contributions from all who desire to help out this fund until Monday evening, when the campaign ends. The returns will then be checked up and a final report made.

FINE PROGRAM RENDERED BY LOCAL SCHOOL PUPILS

An excellent literary and musical program was given by the pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades of the Concrete school yesterday afternoon under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. P. J. Lindbeck. The program was a combination of Roosevelt day, Columbus day and Halloween exercises, and consisted of songs, recitations, readings and dialogues. All of the little folks carried their parts well, and the visitors in attendance were well entertained.

UNCLE SAM WANTS ENUMERATORS FOR CENSUS NEXT YEAR

MANY MEN WANTED TO HELP WITH WORK OF TAKING FEDERAL CENSUS OF 1920—EX-SERVICE MEN PREFERRED.

The government census bureau is making a strong drive now for enumerators to take the federal census next January. All state and district supervisors are reporting plenty of jobs open and very few applicants, and it now appears that there will not be sufficient enumerators to handle the work expeditiously. There are still a large number of positions to be filled in Skagit county, and if there is anyone who wants to tackle the job of census taking his application will be gladly received. Ex-service men will be given the preference wherever possible.

The job next year will entail more work than merely taking the names and ages of the residents of the community. Statistics of all kinds must be secured and intelligently reported, and in many cases the blanks to be filled out are more complicated than an income tax return. However, it is said the work does not require any exceptional education or ability. Every applicant will be required to pass an examination to show that he is qualified for the job. This examination will be held at some convenient point.

Actual work in the various census districts will begin January 2, 1920, and it is hoped that there will be enough enumerators on the job to gather the population statistics of the cities and towns in about two weeks. In rural districts it will probably require a month to complete the work.

Any person in this vicinity who aspires to the job of enumerator can secure a detailed information in regard to the work by applying to Postmaster R. E. Williams.

CONCRETE IS UP-TO-DATE; HAS REAL LADY BARBER

Concrete has always been an up-to-date town in many respects, but heretofore it has never had the distinction of having a real lady barber. However, it now ranks with the big cities, for we have the aforesaid lady barber in our midst. She is Mrs. Clara Riley and she is employed in Geo. W. Feazel's shop. She carries the license issued by the state board of barber examiners, and she is said to be an expert at her trade. She has worked at barbering for a number of years, principally in Bellingham, from which place she comes to this city. She has been working regularly for the past week, and Mr. Feazel says that she is making good.

GEO. W. ROSS WILL HAVE FURNISHED ROOMS SOON

Geo. W. Ross has a crew of carpenters busy making alterations and improvements in his building on Main street, preparatory to using the second story as a lodging house. As soon as the carpenter work is finished the rooms on the second floor will be furnished and will be made as comfortable and convenient as possible. There is still a serious shortage of furnished rooms for lodgings in the city, and the new house will help considerably to relieve the shortage. It is understood that all the rooms have already been rented and that Mr. Ross has started a waiting list.

TURN CLOCK BACK AGAIN BEFORE RETIRING TONIGHT

At two o'clock tomorrow morning the clocks of the nation will be officially turned back to standard time. As few persons will care to remain up to make the change at that time, most of the clocks will be set back an hour before bedtime tonight. Any person failing to do so is liable to be an hour too early at the depot or at Sunday school.

GETTING READY FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE OF THE RED CROSS

DRIVE WILL BE HELD DURING WEEK OF NOVEMBER 2—PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN ARE NOW BEING MADE.

Final plans are now being made and county and precinct organizations perfected for the annual membership drive of the Red Cross, which has been advanced from Christmas week to the first week in November. The drive will begin Monday, November 2, and will continue for one week, ending November 9. The selection of district chairmen and precinct managers has been practically completed by the various chapters of the county, and it is planned to have all local committees formed early next week, so that everything will be ready to start the drive off with a rush on the opening day.

The drive will not be for funds, but will be for members only, and it is anticipated that by the end of the campaign the Red Cross will have the biggest membership in its history. It is expected that practically all present members will enroll again, and the main efforts of the campaign organizations will be directed towards securing as many new members as possible.

The membership fee is still one dollar, and every cent collected during the drive will be spent for relief work by the Red Cross. One-half of the amount will be sent to the national headquarters and one-half will be retained by the local chapter to be used for home service work. Although war work is practically ended, the Red Cross still has much work to do in all parts of the country, and in many ways this work is fully as important as were the services of the organization during the war.

WALLACE LOSES FINGER WHILE CHOPPING WOOD

W. H. Wallace completely severed the forefinger of his left hand Monday morning while splitting stove wood at his home on C street. He was using a sharp and heavy axe, and was holding the block of wood with his left hand, when the handle of the axe caught on a block and glanced, striking the left hand and severing the first finger close to the hand. Dr. Mertz dressed the injury, which is healing as rapidly as could be expected, but it will probably be several weeks before Mr. Wallace will be able to return to work.

FORMER COUNTY ENGINEER CALLED BY DEATH SUNDAY

Emmett Costello, formerly county engineer of Skagit county, died at his home in Mount Vernon last Sunday from pneumonia after an illness of four days. He was employed as a deputy engineer in Whatcom county when taken ill and brought home Friday of last week. Mr. Costello was a native of this county, having been born in Lyman April 10, 1889. He was well liked throughout the county and had made for himself an enviable reputation as an engineer. He is survived by his parents, a brother and two sisters.

EAGLES INITIATE WITHOUT HALL OR PARAPHERNALIA

The local aerie of Eagles had promised two applicants that they would be initiated into the order last Saturday night, and although their hall and paraphernalia were burned Friday the Eagles made good. The meeting was held in Judge Wolfe's office and the attendance proved larger than usual. The two applicants were inducted into the lodge and seven new applications were received. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic held for several months.

HAMILTON

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon of last week funeral services were held at the church here for George Cruse, who was accidentally drowned at Sauk on the Friday preceding. Rev. C. I. Andrews, pastor of the Methodist church at Sedro-Woolley, preached the sermon and gave a very inspiring and comforting address. Ivy vines and jasmine were twined about the chancel railing, and graceful baskets filled with sprays of the same dainty blossoms were placed on pedestals on the rostrum. The casket was covered with lovely floral pieces, the gifts of sympathizing friends. Interment was in the Hamilton cemetery. George Orvel Cruse, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. ## He Wears a Necklace.

Did you ever hear of a man wearing a necklace? Well, that is what the male Canadian warbler does, while on the female of this attractive bird there is only the slightest indication of a necklace, says the American Forestry association, Washington, which is conducting the nation-wide bird-house building contest among school children. The warbler's necklace of black spots shows up very strikingly on his olive green and yellowish throat and breast. On the back the bird is of a slate gray color with the tail more of an olive brown tone. This is a very lively bird. It is very seldom still for more than a few seconds before it dashes out at some tempting bit to eat. It is partial to the wooded banks of streams. It usually keeps in underbrush near the ground.

Shells as Feed.

America possesses some of the largest chicken hatcheries in the world. A single establishment at sometimes having a capacity of 25,000 eggs. One room in such a hatchery has 33,000 eggs in process of incubation at one time. An interesting by-product of the industry are the shells which accumulate in mountainous piles. They are not wasted, however, but are ground and sold to chicken raisers for feed, principally as bone builder, thus completing the cycle to everyone's satisfaction.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

FACES HUGE TASKS

War Task Not Finished--Public Health Problems Must Be Solved By Red Cross

The American Red Cross, according to a statement just issued from Washington, D. C., believes that its first duty is to finish its war task, one hundred per cent. The Red Cross must also continue to carry on even more effectively than in the past, its established system of National and International relief, in mitigating the suffering caused by famine, fire, floods, and great national calamities. It must also render every necessary service to the Army and Navy, and must continue the work undertaken prior to the war in the field of nursing and First Aid.

The responsibilities of the Red Cross are greatly increased as a result of the lessons taught by the war, the statement continues. Higher standards of responsibility have been set to prevent needless suffering and loss of life. The Red Cross, with its traditions and its established organization, will aid in maintaining these standards by co-operating with all recognized agencies engaged in conserving human life and happiness. Activities already authorized include the encouragement and support of Public Health Nursing, educational classes in dietetics, home care of the sick, and First Aid, the extension of Red Cross Home Service, an increased Junior program, and co-operation in developing community health centers.

War time developments have given every community in the United States a recognized and organized center of Red Cross activity through which the people of that community may, if they wish, serve themselves, with all the advantages of national leadership, national standards, national and international contacts. It rests with the people of every community to determine for themselves just how fully they have need of a movement which under the associated Red Cross Societies is to express the effort of the peoples of the world to free themselves from needless death and suffering through neighborly cooperation and service.

You're in mighty good company when you belong to the Red Cross.

So long as there's sickness, suffering, disaster, the Red Cross must stand by!

The H. C. of L. hasn't hit Red Cross memberships. They're still a dollar.

If nine million youngsters believe in the Red Cross, it must have the right idea.

Dr. Livingston Farrand, the greatest authority on public health in America, served in France as the head of the fight against tuberculosis. He now succeeds Henry P. Davison as head of the American Red Cross. Dr. Farrand recently visited Seattle, Spokane and Portland and conferred with representatives of Red Cross chapters of Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. "The Red Cross faces problems in the post-war period more serious, if possible, than the problems of the war itself. Not a great amount of money, but the membership and hearty co-operation of every American citizen is what is needed to help the Red Cross to solve these problems, which threaten our national vitality, and which, unless solved, will rob us of the fruits of victory," said Dr. Farrand.

"The Red Cross is the Gospel in boots," the

TRIBUTES FROM THE WORLD'S LEADERS

Work of the American Red Cross Is Praised By Noted Men.

"It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate health and social service."—President Wilson.

"The American Red Cross is the mobilized heart and spirit of the whole American people."—Henry P. Davison.

"A magnificent spirit breathes in the American Red Cross."—Marshal Foch.

In giving prompt and efficient relief the Red Cross has won the eternal gratitude of millions of people."—General Pershing.

"It requires no organization to allow one of us as an individual to buy a dinner for a hungry man. It requires the greatest degree of organization to deal with the foes of a world. The Red Cross seems to be essentially demanded. . . . Without the Red Cross I do not know whether the world would have been able to bear the horrors and devastation of this fearful war."—Newton B. Baker.

"The Red Cross is the great Neighbor. . . . If the world is made a little more comfortable, a little happier, a little stronger for the struggle of life through its effort, the Red Cross is content."—The Secretary of the Navy.

"The Red Cross is not going to turn its back on its responsibilities."—Livingston Farrand, Chairman, Executive Committee, National Red Cross.

"I don't know what we would have done without the help of the Americans. I thank you from the bottom of my heart."—Ignace Paderewski, Premier of Poland.

"Mr. Davison has spoken to me of how the Red Cross hopes to continue work even in peace time. This is a noble enterprise. . . . Wonderful results could be obtained if all countries would join hands, especially in all questions concerning small children, tuberculosis, and sanitation in general."—Queen Marie of Rumania.

"We surely can do no better than to emulate the human and social work of our sister organization, the American Red Cross."—Signor Circolo, newly elected President of Italian Red Cross.

"Our heartfelt thanks go out to our American friends."—Union des Femmes de France.

"The help given by the Red Cross is but a proof of the great heart and sympathy of the American people."—Prince Regent Alexander of Serbia.

"The Polish people look upon the American Red Cross as their salvation. It holds in its hands the destinies of nations. This world war has been fought in vain if there is no early restoration of normal physical and moral conditions in the newly born Republic of Poland. Poland is the keystone of the world's permanent peace."—Lieut. Col. Francis E. Franczak.

"I wish to express to the millions of Americans, who have made the work of the American Red Cross possible, the deep gratitude of my people."—The young King Alexander of Greece.

"I have confident hope that the American Red Cross' world-wide plans for charity and mercy will be largely realized, bringing the grateful appreciation of suffering millions as a partial recompense, and a greater reward, the richest blessings of God."—Cardinal Gibbons.

"One is honored by the privilege of membership in the Red Cross, and blessed in being permitted to make any kind of contribution to its work."—William Fraser McDowell, Presiding Bishop, Methodist Episcopal Church.

"The Red Cross is America at her best. . . . Money given to the Red Cross is not an investment, nor is it a charity. It is a sacrament."—Charles A. Eaton, Pastor Fifth Ave. Baptist Church, N. Y.

"It is extraordinary what can be accomplished when a free people all unite and work together for their common good and for the good of humanity."—Cardinal Mercier.

Public Health Nurse
MENTIONED IN BIBLE

"I commend unto you Phoebe, our sister, who is a servant of the Church which is at Cenchrea," wrote St. Paul to the Romans, "that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you, for she hath been a succorer of many and of myself also."

Phoebe, explains Biblical history, was a woman who went about nursing the sick and teaching them better methods of living. Phoebe was the first public health nurse.

Public health nursing, which is one of the most important enterprises in the peace program of the American Red Cross, is not a new movement, but it is one which heretofore has never received its just need of attention as a factor in maintaining the health of the nation.

Phoebe's sister in the twentieth century is the community nurse who teaches better, cleaner living. Because the betterment of public health is now definitely accepted as an individual and a community responsibility, the Red Cross will make a definite effort to raise the standards of living in the United States by urging the employment of public health nurses in all cities, towns and rural districts, particularly in those where there are no organized public health activities. A healthier, happier America—that is what the Red Cross is striving toward in its Roll Call the first weeks in November.

WHOLE WORLD EMULATES

With the Red Cross societies of twenty-six nations co-operating as members, the League of Red Cross Societies is now actively engaged in extending Red Cross efforts throughout the world, says a cablegram to the American Red Cross from Sir David Henderson, director-general of the league.

The membership roster now includes, the cable said, the Red Cross of the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Portugal, Roumania, Serbia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, the United States and Venezuela.

MOTHERS MUST NOT DIE,
SAYS THE RED CROSS

Sixteen thousand mothers die in childbirth every year in the United States of America, more than are thus sacrificed in any other country of importance in the civilized world. The American Red Cross has announced its belief that these mothers, the very flower of the womanhood of America and heroines every one, shall no longer die through ignorance or neglect, if the public health nursing resources of the country can possibly be extended to give them the necessary care. This is one of the reasons for the Third Red Cross Roll Call which begins Sunday, November 2.

MERCY WOMEN PRODUCE
FORTUNE IN GARMENTS

More than 8,000,000 women and girls participated in the sewing and knitting of the American Red Cross during the war. Most of these workers will be active in soliciting members for the Red Cross for 1920, during the ten days ending Armistice Day. When it is remembered that these women and girls in two years' time produced nearly $100,000,000 worth of surgical articles and garments, including more than 375,000,000 surgical dressings, the fact that they are to assist in the Roll Call is a practical assurance that universal membership will be achieved.
