STAGE AND MAIL TO CHANGE SCHEDULE ON NEXT TUESDAY

TIME CHANGED TO GIVE BETTER SERVICE — AFTERNOON MAIL WILL CLOSE A HALF HOUR EARLIER HEREAFTER.

One of the first things done by A. V. Stoneman after he became sole proprietor of the Concrete—Sedro-Woolley stage line, was to make application to the state department of public works for permission to make a change in his running schedule so as to give better service for his patrons. The proposed change was approved by the department and the new schedule goes into effect next Tuesday, October 20.

Only two stages each way are changed, but for people traveling to Seattle or Bellingham the change is an important one, as the stage now makes direct connections, and any wait at Sedro-Woolley or Mount Vernon is eliminated. The stages now leaving Sedro-Woolley at 9:30 and 11:30 in the forenoon are changed to 10:30 and 1 o'clock, respectively. The two afternoon stages out of Sedro-Woolley remain the same. At this end of the line the only changes are in the two afternoon stages, now leaving at 2:50 and 5:50. Under the new schedule these cars will leave here at 2:15 and 5:15, or 35 minutes earlier than under the present schedule.

Under the new time card all stages will make direct connections with stages or interurbans for Seattle and Bellingham on the westbound trips, and on the trips leaving Sedro-Woolley people headed for Concrete from either direction will be able to make direct connections at Mount Vernon and Sedro-Woolley with the stage headed up the valley.

On account of the change in the stage schedule, Postmaster McGovern has had to make a corresponding change in his outgoing mail for the afternoon, which is carried by stage. This mail, which is now being closed at 5:30, will hereafter be closed at five o'clock, to catch the stage leaving at 5:15. All mail not in by five o'clock will lay over and go out on the early morning train. The mail which has been arriving here at about 11 o'clock will not reach here until about noon under the new schedule, as the mail stage leaves Sedro-Woolley an hour later than formerly. There is no change in the mail schedule for the Great Northern train service.

MOUNT VERNON ATTORNEY DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY

Ira E. Shrauger, one of the best known attorneys in Skagit county, died suddenly at his home in Mount Vernon Tuesday morning. He had retired in aparently good health, and at 6:30 in the morning was found dead in his bed. Funeral services are being held today. Mr. Shrauger was 67 years of age and was a native of Michigan. He came to this state in 1890, first settling in Bellingham; later he moved to Hamilton, where he opened a bank and practised law. In 1896 he was elected prosecuting attorney and moved to Mount Vernon and has since made his home there. He has always been active in city and county affairs and was well and favorably known through the county.

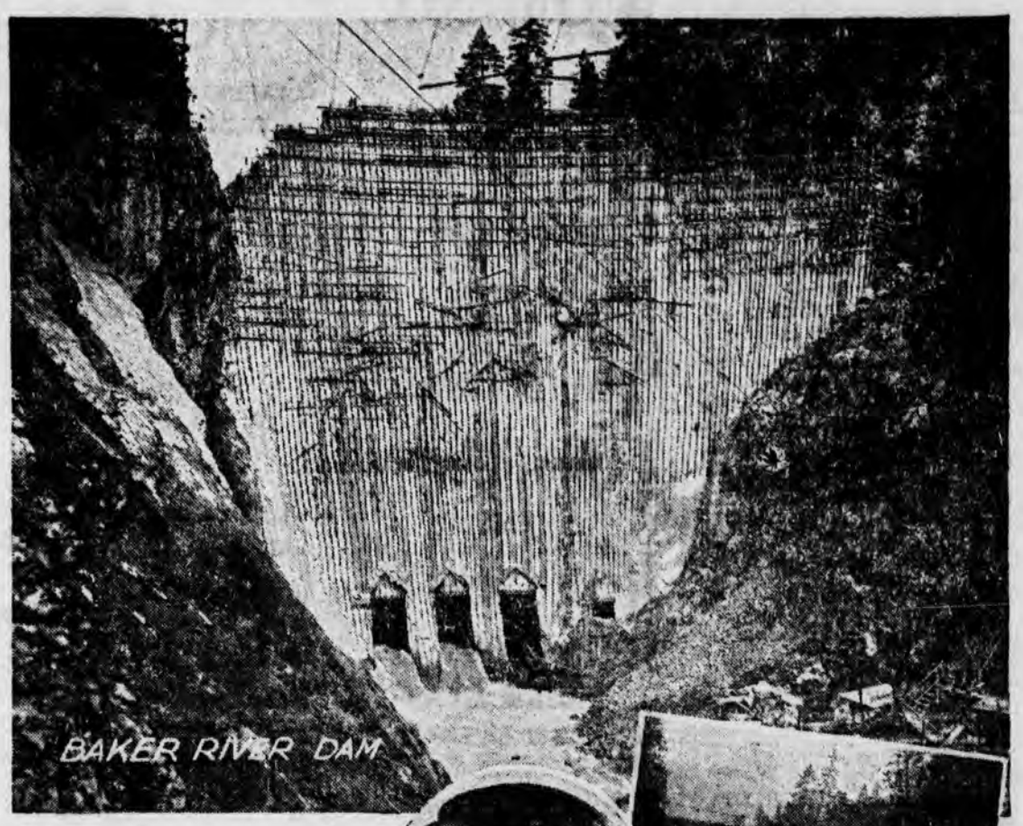
The place consists of a handsome cottage and six improved lots and is one of the finest home properties in that section of the city.

Great Baker River Power Plant Nearing Completion



BAKER RIVER POWER HOUSE & 245 FT. DAM EMPOUNDING LAKE SHANNON

"Lake Shannon" Newly Created 7-Mile Lake

Washington's newest hydro-electric project, the great Baker river plant, is rapidly nearing completion. It will ultimately become the largest hydro-electric power plant of the Puget Sound Power & Light company.

In honor of William D. Shannon, the man who has had entire charge of construction, the lake formed by the dam thrown across the Baker river will be known as "Shannon Lake." The lake will be more than seven miles long and will contain sufficient water to cover 70,000 acres one foot deep, ample to supply the power plant with the necessary flow every day throughout the year. Thesurface area of the lake will be 1780 acres, and it will be 405 feet above sea level.

Baker river rises among the glaciers on the south slopes of Mount Baker and Mount Shuksan, in Whatcom county. Near the foot of these peaks a glacial moraine backs up the river to form beautiful Baker lake, the elevation of which is 664 feet above sea level. From the lake the stream flows down mountain gorges and through a valley 15 miles to its confluence with the Skagit river, near Concrete. Just before reaching the Skagit the Baker flows through deep Eden gorge, across which the power project dam has been built, 245 feet high and 180 feet thick at the base. It contains more than 220,000 cubic yards of concrete masonry.

Back of this gigantic dam will be Shannon lake, the reservoir that will store the flood waters of the river which will develop eventually 80,000 horsepower for use throughout Western and Central Washington—wherever the Puget Sound Power & Light company's transmission lines extend.

The first installation of power units will consist of two 20,000 horsepower water wheels. These giant generators are now in place and almost ready for operation. The power house has been designed for future development of the project up to 80,000 horsepower.

The main pressure tunnel has been constructed through the solid limestone of the canyon's side and is 24 feet in diameter. The tunnel is approximately 1300 feet long, lined with concrete, and will carry the water from the reservoir to the penstocks. A surge tank has been provided near the lower end of the tunnel. Gates and rack bars control the inlet of water at the upper end of the tunnel.

Short pipes or penstocks connect the pressure tunnel with the power house and will deliver the water to the turbines.

The cost of this great undertaking, with a 13,000 kilowatt sub-station at Sedro-Woolley, is exceeding $8,000,000.

Under the supervision of Mr. Shannon, a world's record is being made in the construction of this project. As far as known no other plant of equal power will have been constructed in as short a time, or at a smaller relative outlay, and this despite the fact that last winter proved one of the worst on record. Construction was started April 1, 1924.

Baker river power will go through the largest out-of-doors sub-station in the Pacific Northwest, at Beverly Park, near Everett, and another at Sedro-Woolley. Transmission lines will lead to Bellingham from Sedro-Woolley and also to Beverly Park and from there to Seattle, crossing the Lake Washington canal on steel towers 233 feet high.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY FOREST FIRE NEAR SAUK

A brush fire, starting early Monday morning near Sauk, swept over the small logging camp operated by O. Linne and caused damage estimated at over $5,000. Mr. Linne had been cutting timber and hauling it out for the High Rock Lumber company's mill, and had about two million feet down and bucked up, ready to be hauled out. Much of this timber was destroyed and more of it was badly damaged. Two donkey engines in the path of the fire were burned so that it will require heavy expense to salvage them. The fire also destroyed most of his cables and lines and much of his tools and other equipment. The loss is particularly severe to Mr. Linne, as he had nearly all his available capital tied up in this job. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to have been caused by some careless hunter.

DISANTIS MURDER TRIAL IS POSTPONED BY COURT

The trial of Joe Disantis, who is charged with first degree murder for the killing of Elmer Brammell here some months ago, which was scheduled to start yesterday morning, has been postponed until October 28. The postponement was taken on the request of the attorneys for the defense, who have been unable to find an important witness and wanted more time in which to locate him. It is said that the missing witness is Al Searight, who roomed in Disantis' lodging house and is said to have been an eye witness to the stabbing affray that resulted in the death of Brammell. The trial is expected to last for three or four days.

William O'Neill, who was tried last week for the murder of his wife in Sedro-Woolley, was found guilty of manslaughter. He will be sentenced at the end of the jury term.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday, October 18, the Mt. Baker Presbyterian church will hold its annual anniversary service. Rev. James Wilson, pastor of the South Bellingham Presbyterian church, will deliver the anniversary sermon, and special music has been arranged for the occasion by the choir. Rev. Mr. Wilson has preached here several times, and his sermons have always been greatly enjoyed.

A Junior Christian Endeavor society has been organized at the church recently and is gaining new members rapidly. Rev. John L. Thompson of Seattle, who specializes in this work, assisted in the forming of the new society and helped to get it started. Miss Marie Craig and Mrs. Sinclair are in charge, and meetings are held on Sunday afternoons at 3:30. The junior society is for children between 6 and 12, and all are invited to join.

ELKS ARE MAKING A NATIONAL DRIVE TO SAVE OLD FRIGATE

ARE DIRECTING DRIVE AMONG SCHOOL CHILDREN TO RAISE FUND TO RESTORE FAMOUS OLD WAR VESSEL.

The national organization of the Elks has started a drive to raise funds for the restoration of "Old Ironsides," the famous old frigate of Revolutionary war days, which is now resting in Boston harbor and is rapidly rotting and falling to pieces. The Elks have undertaken to raise a fund of $500,000 to restore this vessel to its original condition and to save it for generations to come. The plan is to raise this fund among the school children of the United States. This figures out at about $40 for every 1,000 children, and the Anacortes lodge of Elks, which will have charge of the drive in this district, has been assigned a quota of $450 for the territory within its jurisdiction.

The drive to raise this fund starts next Monday, October 19, and the campagn will end Friday evening, November 6. On the latter date it is planned to hold patriotic exercises in every school in observance of the occasion, and the Elks will provide a speaker to participate in the exercises at each school. Already the teachers of the county have signified that they will get behind the movement, and at the institute held in Mount Vernon last week the instructors of the county went on record in favor of the drive. Those in charge of the drive feel that every community will give whole-hearted support. Printed buttons will be available soon and will be turned over to the schools of the county. On a donation from a youngster he will be given one of these buttons. Any sum, from a penny up, will be accepted from the children. Eugene D. Merriman, superintendent of the Anacortes schools, is chairman of the campaign for the Anacortes lodge. Other members of the executive committee named by Exalted Ruler Bertrand to assist in the drive are E. A. Ratcliffe, Anacortes, secretary; Reno Odlin, Anacortes, treasurer, and Oliver Noce, Mount Vernon, press representative.

It is not often that movie fans residing in a town the size of Concrete have a chance to see a first run of a picture without leaving home, but through the enterprise of the management of the Concrete theater the people of this community will have that chance next Sunday. On that day "The Phantom of the Opera," one of the biggest productions of 1925 and one of Lon Chaney's finest photoplays, will open here. The first showing in the Northwest will be in Seattle on Saturday, October 17, just one day ahead of Concrete. The picture is a drama of Paris theater life and is as full of action as a Western, with some of the finest acting ever seen in a movie. There is some wonderful scenery and a lot of thrills, and the picture is one that will draw a crowded house in any theater in the country. Lon Chaney, with Mary Philbin and Norman Kerry, heads a large cast.

For Saturday night the attraction is "Daughters of Today," a story of young men and young women of the jazz age. The plot is interesting and the picture is one that every young person should see and study. The cast is headed by Patsy Ruth Miller and Ralph Graves.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights Yakima Canutt is featured in "White Thunder," a Western drama of the cattle ranges that is full of pep and excitement. For Thursday and Friday nights Virginia Valli and Eugene O'Brien are featured in "Siege," adapted from the novel by Samuel Hopkins Adams. It is a human interest drama of the struggle between a young married couple and relatives who tried to interfere with their happiness.

GAME AT HAMILTON WAS FORFEITED BY CONCRETE PLAYERS

LOCAL TEAM WALKS OFF FIELD AND HAMILTON IS AWARDED GAME BY 1 TO 0 SCORE AFTER QUEER DECISION.

The football game scheduled between the Concrete and Hamilton school teams last Saturday afternoon was ended by the referee forfeiting the game to Hamilton by the score of 1 to 0 after the Concrete team had walked off the field. For three quarters the game was close and interesting, and it promised to continue so to the end of the game. Concrete had scored a touchdown in the first quarter, and Hamilton had scored in the second and third quarters, making the score 12 to 7 in favor of Hamilton at the start of the last quarter. Soon after play started in the fourth quarter Concrete made a touchdown on a long forward pass by Hawkings. The referee allowed the touchdown and brought the ball back for the try for point, and then, apparently on coaching from the sidelines, announced that the touchdown was not legally made. Coach Wiseman, believing that his team was being given a raw deal, called his boys off the field and the referee had no recourse but to forfeit the game to Hamilton.

The decision of Coach Wiseman to withdraw his team has been a subject of discussion throughout the city ever since the game. A few claim that as he was not being given a fair chance he took the right course, but the general opinion is that he should have played the game out and abided by the decision of the referee. The argument of those who take this position is that school athletics are meant to develop real sportsmanship and not to win or lose games, and that quitting is not sportsmanship, even though the provocation may be great. However, the game is only another indication of how easily a poor official can spoil a good game.

The Concrete team has no game scheduled for this week, and so far no game is in sight for next week, although efforts are being made to schedule one. On November 6 the local boys will play Oak Harbor at that place, and on November 13 Hamilton will be here for a return game, and it is hoped that this game will be played out and each team given a fair chance to show what it can do. It may be said that the referee in Saturday's game was from Sedro-Woolley and that the Hamilton team was not to blame for his poor work.

TED FRIEND PASSES AWAY IN HOSPITAL AT EVERETT

Theodore E. Friend, who worked as clerk at the Concrete depot for over a year, passed away in the Everett hospital this morning, according to word received this morning. He was taken ill last March and had to give up his work, and has been in the hospital most of the time since. His ailment developed into an infection of the digestive tract and nothing could be done to stop the spread of the infection. Ted was only 22 years of age and was a well liked young man. He made many friends during his stay here, and all regret his untimely death. No word has been received in regard to the funeral.

NEW CARD ROOM OPENED BY TWO CONCRETE MEN

Allen McPhee and Walter Merryweather have leased the vacant storeroom in the Van Kirk building, adjoining the Puget Sound Power & Light office, and have opened a card room and confectionery. While their place is quite small it is neat and convenient, and they are already receiving a good patronage. Both of the boys are popular in the city and they should be able to make a success out of their new venture. They have not decided on an official name for their place of business yet.

Allen Gardinier of the seventh grade has been absent from school this week on account of illness.

The girls of the seventh and eighth grades are working hard to get their aprons finished before the end of the week, so they can get a grade in sewing. Some very good work is being done.

Edgar Mosher, of the seventh grade room, was absent from school Monday.

In the seventh grade room there were 21 pupils who finished the first month of school with perfect attendance records. This means that they were neither absent nor tardy during the month, and is a good showing for the room.

Everett Clark of the seventh grade has been absent from school this week.

The eighth grades had a test in arithmetic last Friday and Robert and George Leonard made the highest grades, getting a 99 apiece.
