This is tax time, and they ask us to pay our taxes with a smile. Wouldn't it be swell if they would accept smiles instead of cash.

OLD TIMER: One who can remember when the sit down strike was common, with Pa applying a razor strop or slipper.

It is also almost time to toss the seed catalog and pick up a seed map.

A woman got on a trolley car finding that she had no change for the conductor a $10 bill. "I'm sorry," she said, "but I haven't a nickel."

"Don't worry, lady," said the conductor, "you'll have just 199 of them in a minute."

TOLD WEALTH: That which is off your Income Tax statement.

Some husbands give their wives allowances. Other still give their pants hanging over the chair.

A dog fills an empty space in a life, says a magazine writer. True, all right, especially if it is a Hot Dog.

How to settle the unemployment problem: Put all the men on one side and all the women on another. In no time everybody would be busy building boats.

Everyone is crazy over me," the inmate on the first floor of the insane asylum.

Arist (paying his bill): "Well, square now."
Hotel Manager: "Yes, sir, and I hope you will be 'round again very soon."

Woman: "But I'm not kissing you."
Man: "Well, I thought I'd tell you anyway."

These rooms cost from a dollar to $12," the hotel clerk told Percy Whiffletree. Then Percy had to ask how much they'd be if he stayed all night.

Miss Sadie: "Yeah, he bores me too."

What every woman craves—a wrist watch that will run, and a pair of hose that won't.

"I never kissed a girl before in my life," declared the young man. "I have carefully removed the kiss from his vest pocket before taking her in his arms."

A local merchant last week received some goods which were not up to the quality he wanted. He sent a telegram to the manufacturer: "Cancel my order immediately." Back came a return telegram: "Regret can not cancel immediately. You must take your goods."

Judge: "But madam, how could you marry a man you knew to be a regular?"
Witness: "Oh, I thought he'd be a quiet around the house."

Isn't nature wonderful! A million years ago she didn't know we were going to wear glasses, yet at the way she placed our eyes.

Oratorical Contest Displays Wealth Of Ability Here

Victory McIntosh First In Legion Competition Held
At School Last Night.

As the third annual Patriotic Oratorical contest, sponsored by American Legion passed into history last night Miss Victory McIntosh, member of the Junior class, was awarded first honors and in addition to her individual award will have her name engraved on the handsome plaque with the winners of the two past contests. Her winning oration was on the topic "The Inevitable Growth of American Republicanism."

In winning the event she was hard pressed by Phillip McGarry and Stuart Johnston, who have each placed in former contests. Phillip McGarry was awarded second place this year and Stuart Johnston, third. Last year Stuart placed first and Phillip second.

Phillip McGarry's topic was "An Honorable Peace and Its Price." Stuart Johnston spoke on "Our Constitution."

Orations Interesting
All orations on the program showed many hours of preparation and all were interesting and well presented. Those not placing in the first three received participation awards as consolation. These were awarded to the following, whose topics were:

"Wealth of America" Bertha Miller
"James Otis" Jean Ross
"The American Legion" Vivian Howe
"Hurdles Surmounted" Harold Thompson
"Our Symbol of Unity" Norma Chinn
"Patriotism—What Is It?" Mary Louise Willett
"Father of Our Nation" Leonard Hornbeck

The judges for the contest were members of the Hamilton faculty, O. J. Mast, Miss Evitch and Miss Bassett, members of the English department.

The crowd was not as large as in former years but all present were amply repaid for their attendance by the fine display of oratorical talent possessed by the school. The experienced received by the participants of past contests was apparent in the improved delivery of their speeches this year.

Adult Bible Class Holds Party For Members

The Adult Sunday school class held a party in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. A review of what had happened to the class in the past year was given and a new chairman to several committees were chosen. After singing a number of songs a very delicious lunch was served to all present.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Harold Thompson entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home Wednesday afternoon. The St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out. Sixteen guests were present and Mrs. Charles McGovern won first at cards, with Mrs. William Woodworth winning consolation.

Noisy Celebrants

Otto Olson, Geo. Harper and Sivert Morken were fined in the local justice court Monday, following arrest of charge of disturbing the peace. Olson was fined $10 and costs, Harper $5 and costs and Morken took 10 days labor on the city streets instead of a fine.

Fishing Too Soon

Rudy Clark and Frank Parker of Marblemount were fined $10 each in Mount Vernon Saturday, following their arrest by game protectors on a charge of fishing during closed season.

Former Resident Marries

Friends of Miss Vera Nicol of Seattle will be pleased to learn of her marriage to William Casey of Seattle in that city last week. Mrs. Casey formerly operated a beauty shop here.

Spring Wedding Is Social Event Here

A beautiful spring-time wedding was solemnized within the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Methven here on Tuesday evening, March 16th, when Miss Queenie Bindon became the bride of Mr. Carl Melosh. The bride is a daughter of J. P. Bindon of Bellingham and a sister of Mrs. John Methven.

Enhancing the dining and living rooms were baskets of flowers and ferns and hanging baskets of Old English ivy. Easter lilies decorated the archway.

Rev. John C. Snowden, the Presbyterian minister, read the impressive marriage service at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of near relatives and intimate friends. The prelude to the ceremony was a vocal solo "Because," sung by Miss Christine Lindbeck to accompaniment by Mrs. Leonard Bindon. Wagner's wedding march from "Lohengrin" was also played by Mrs. Bindon.

Miss Bindon, a brunette, was a charming bride in her blue crepe dress trimmed in white lace, a princess model with matching blue shoes. She wore a coronet of white flowers in her hair, also three strands of crystals, a gift from the groom. The bride's all-white bouquet was composed of fresas and

Flyers Can Tell What Town They Are Passing

Quite unknown and unseen by local residents, Concrete is now definitely labeled so that it can not be mistaken—from the air. Workers connected with the Bureau of Air Commerce were in town this week and when they left the name "Concrete" was painted in huge block letters on the roof of the Concrete Hardware building.

Church Basketball Teams Hold Pleasant Banquet

Members of the basketball teams who took part in the church tournament here recently, and their dads were honored with a banquet held in the parlors of the Mt. Baker church last Thursday evening.

Another Pension Plan

A bill just signed by Governor Martin makes it unnecessary for persons over 60 to buy a fishing license. After 60 it's "on the state."

Searchers Find No Trace Of Trapper

No trace of Mathew Thomas, missing Rockport trapper, was encountered by Deputies Finsen and Welch, who with Harvey Sopher made a four day trip into the hills in search of him last week. Thomas was feared lost when he failed to come in after supplies recently and when his cabin was found deserted the county authorities were notified.

The deputies and their guide visited Lake Illabot, all cabins in that district and the trappers cabin. There they found letters and a sealed envelope which contained instructions for notifying relatives in case he was taken ill.

The note was dated August 29th of last year and read: "If I should be taken seriously ill notify my sister, Mrs. Ross Doughty, San Bernardino, California. In event of my death, notify Mrs. Jane Thomas of Taffville, Connecticut or Mrs. T. B. Mathews, of Peacock, Texas."

The other letters revealed that Mrs. Jane Thomas was his wife and that he has two sons and two daughters at Taffville.

The searching party found the snow five feet deep in the district and believe that Thomas met a serious accident and perished along his trap line, now being buried in the deep snow. The body will likely remain covered until the snow is gone, when another search may be made.

Thompson's Cafe Now Under Hammer And Brush

Local artisans have been busy during the past week changing the appearance of Bud Thompson's Cafe. All booth partitions have been removed, including the wall that separated the back room from the main dining room.

New low booths are to be built to provide more seating capacity and the interior of the room will be redecorated to make it one of most convenient and attractive restaurants in the county.

Okay Barber Shops Adds Beauty Parlor To Service

The Okay Beauty Shop, an addition to the services of the Okay Barber shop, across from the bank building, is open for business this week under the management of Mrs. Alfred Hodgson. The new shop occupies the room adjoining the barber shop.

New equipment of latest type is being installed to take care of all types of beauty work. "Croquinole" permanent waves will be featured.

School Waits For Federal Action Before Building

District Ready To Build As Soon As P. W. A. Funds
Are Available.

Work on Concrete's new eight-room grade school building awaits only the action of the P.W.A. in making an allotment of funds. The project as now set up calls for the federal government to provide the sum of $22,500 dollars toward the project, the balance to be furnished by the local school district, which has a building fund equal to that amount.

According to all reports priority is given to school districts having their own share of the project immediately available and for this reason it seems highly probable that Concrete will be on the next list to receive federal funds.

Ask For Proof

Recently the district was asked by the P.W.A. to submit proof that they have on hand the necessary funds. This was submitted and in reply E. R. Hoffman, state administrator stated:

"We have advised the Central office in Washington in order that your project may have the advantage of the priority in consideration which is given to projects, the financing of the applicants share of which has been arranged for."

Just when the next allotment is to be made is not known, but since Concrete is on the priority list the grant is deemed certain whenever the allotment is made.

Though the school board would like to have the building completed by next September and could possibly build it without federal funds if necessary, they feel that it is worth a year's delay if it means $22,500 to the school building fund.

BOOSTER CLUB PLANS FOR CASCADE DAY

A meeting of the Concrete Booster club was held Tuesday night at the City Hall for the purpose of forming plans for "Cascade Day" to be held next August in this city. All details were discussed during the evening and many fine suggestions turned in. Preliminary work was lined up but formation of committees and other details will be taken care of at the next meeting, March 30th.

Also during the meeting an advertising plan, calling for printing a map of Concrete and the upper valley on the back of business stationery of local merchants, was approved and the club voted to provide an engraving of the map for all who wish to use it.

Martin's Bounty Bill Signed By Governor

Cat hunters and woodsmen in the Skagit valley can afford to give a little more attention to their favorite sport in the future, following the news that the new bounty bill, introduced in legislature by Rep. Fred Martin, of Rockport, has been signed by the Governor and is now a law.

The new law provides for a $50 bounty on cougar, $5 on bob cats and $2.50 on coyotes. Mr. Martin states that these increased bounties will make our bounty system the best of any state in the nation.

Palm Sunday Is Next On Church Calendar

"Palm Sunday" will be observed next Sunday by the local Presbyterian church. Rev. Snowden will speak on the subject, "His Triumphant Entrance Into Jerusalem."

A feature of the program will be solos by C. E. Sharpe, including a request, "The Palms."

ANACORTES WINS

The Seahawk basketball team opened their battle for a place at the top of state teams by winning their first state tournament game from Aberdeen 40 to 17. Millard scored 14 points, Robinson 12.

Hope of government assistance in building a new school building here may hold up the project for some time unless swifter action is taken by department officials. The local district has their share in cash, ready to start work immediately, and though the project has been approved, given preference and a few other encouraging phrases but until the money is available and the government says "Go" nothing can be done. It is hoped that the building can be finished in time for the next school term.

Now that the legislature is adjourned, all we have to do is wait for the governor to finish up his work and then start trying to figure out what we are in for when the new laws take effect. All we know now is that it could have been worse, for which we are very thankful.

The fact that local boosters are already making plans for a "Cascade Day" here August 14th, points toward a celebration that will eclipse all records for this town. We hope it can be in the nature of a celebration of the placing of the Cascade road on the primary system.

Now that the bounty bill provides more money for bob cat, coyote and cougar, the upper Skagit cat hunters will have a dandy alibi any time they want to stay out all night.

Congress is going to have to do something about the strike-situations soon, if only to get back on the front page once more.

Concrete now has a sign that proclaims it's location to aircraft, but we still need a few telling the motoring public where it is.

The last hold-out for a late spring has capitulated. They have taken the skid chains off the Superior Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Elkins moved yesterday from Central Baker addition to the building known as the Washington annex in East Concrete.

Wednesday night, March 22 an extra show will be given at the Concrete Theatre, the attraction being the showing of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures.

The Sedro-Woolley high school basketball team won the championship of Skagit county last week by defeating Mount Vernon high in the last game of the play-off series. At the close of the season Sedro-Woolley, Mount Vernon and Edison were tied for first place.

Dudley I. Green and Richard Thompson, who have been living away from home for the past six weeks on account of quarantine for scarlet fever, were permitted to return to their homes Thursday. They are envied by Perry Thosath and Dave Vier, who will be "homeless" for a few weeks yet.

Mrs. Etta Gates and children moved yesterday from Crofoot addition to their new home in Mill addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Armstrong, who have made their home in this city for several years, are packing up their household goods preparatory to moving to National, where Mr. Armstrong is employed as an engineer with a lumber company.

CONCRETE

TRAFFIC on busy streets is measured in millions of car-miles annually—and millions of car-miles. Can you make these stops swiftly, surely, with possible skidding?

You can if your streets are concrete. Concrete gritty surface grips and holds tires; offers maximum traction in any weather. Its uniform riding surface gives you driving confidence—a further safety. And at night concrete's light gray, highly visible color makes your streets safer for motorists and pedestrian alike.

For economy, for good appearance—and safety—insist on concrete.

Larry shoved his chair back a foot, facing them with a faintly furrowed brow. Caroline's face was as red as a beet in hurt incredulity.

"You two are engaged," she said quickly, as one not to be surprised. "Married!" Joe said, Tony drawn down on his knee now, and his kiss on her chin. "We were married two weeks after you were."

"I've always felt a little that way about him, I think."

"They were so stupefied," Tony mused, "that I didn't dare spring our real news on them."

"They'd think you were crazy, with this long trip ahead of you, and married only six months."

"Why crazy? There are hospitals and nurses in Rio, I should hope!" Tony said. "Caroline wanted a chin-chilla coat. I want something else. That's all there is to it."

Outside the house a soft autumn wind sprang up, whined about the chimney. The dog stirred comfortably on the hearth; two logs fell together and sent up a fresh rush of flame; the lamp burned softly. Tony, her face bright with her own thoughts, stretched a hand up to her shoulder and felt Joe's fingers there.

"What of the way to the end? The end crowns all," she said. [THE END]

"Joe, You're So Wise and You're So Good."

out needing you to praise me and see me and talk to me about it."

"There wasn't the least twinge tonight?"

"Nothing but pity for the poor fool girl who fell in love with a painted totem pole."

"Larry isn't a totem pole, you know."

"To me he is. I looked at him and I looked at you, Joe. You are so wise and quiet and good—" She stopped.

"Go on, wench. Your discourse displeases me no whit."

"Yes, but you know what I mean. You're so big that you can afford to be little, and fool around here making fires and playing with me. But Larry—did you notice that he spoke of his valet, Joe? He would have a valet!"

"However," Tony added in satisfaction, "I think he saw how happy we are; I think he did. Anyway, she did."

Joe's laugh—she loved it, and it was rather rare—broke out.

"They did, unless they've suddenly gone stone blind. You were rubbing it in all over the place! I never saw you look so pretty or heard you laugh so much. You let 'em have it right in the eye."

"Oh, Joe, I didn't!" Tony protested.

"Oh, Tony, you did!"

"I didn't mean to," Tony apologized, looking up penitently into his eyes. But her face was radiant. "The truth is, darling," she said, "that I had rather been dreading meeting Larry. I wasn't exactly conscious why, but in the background of my mind—my soul, all these months, there's been the feeling that I'd be glad to meet him—glad to—well, have it over!"

"And was it so awful?"

"Awful?" Her joyous laugh rang out. "Why, it was—it was flat!" she said. "For the last two years I haven't seen him, you know, and I have seen—I have had the friendship of a real man. And it was almost dizzying. It was almost bewildering to feel my old emotions slipping about and changing places, and to feel under it all 'Joe, Joe, Joe's mine and I'm Joe's forever and ever, and this handsome, important, serious man doesn't mean one thing to me!'"

She sat silent, staring into the fire for a long moment, her shoulder pressing in comradely fashion against his knee. "Joe," she said suddenly, "do you know I feel sorry for Larry?"

"Do you really love me, Tony?"

"Joe, so much that I can't pull out a weed or pick up a shell with-

DANCE EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT At GLACIERVIEW HALL 6 miles east of Rockport.

Well, folks! Here we are again. Attend the big victory dance at Glacierview hall and say folks, here is one on all of us—the Cascade wagon road from Marblemount to the Methow has always been on the state primary map, as it was the first state sponsored highway! When Murrow had the Attorney General look up it's status, the Attorney General found that the law establishing the Cascade wagon road had never been repealed. Therefore it has always been a primary highway so it is up to Skagit county to get funds to build it. With our secondary road from Marblemount to Sedro-Woolley everybody has what they were fighting for so let's all pull together and get our share of the money.

R. BULLER

P.S. A ten weeks old live pig to the lucky number—think of it, a winter pork if you feed it till fall.

ferns, tied with satin ribbon. The bride was accompanied to the improvised altar by her father and preceding them was a dainty flower girl, Carol Methven, in a pink crochet dress and carrying a tiny basket of carnation petals. Mrs. John Methven, as matron of honor, wore a black chiffon velvet dress with matching toque trimmed in silver and with silver slippers. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations with ferns. Mr. Leonard Bindon, a brother of the bride, was groomsmen for Mr. Melosh.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held for the guests, some of whom came from distant places. Luncheon was buffet style and gracing the table was the huge wedding cake and crystal candle holders with tall pink candles. Mrs. Arthur Allen presided at the urn, assisted with serving by Mesdames Leonard Bindon and LaVerne Johnson and Misses Christine Lindbeck and Lillas Skidmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Melosh departed on their honeymoon to southern points and are expecting to return and spend a few days here before making their home in Seattle. For a honeymoon outfit the bride wore a brown check top coat with brown accessories. In her corsage were carnations and freesias.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Van Keuren from Seattle, Mrs. Arthur Allen and son of Auburn, Mrs. Melosh of Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bindon and J. P. Bindon of Bellingham and Miss Lillas Skidmore of Bow.
