DIPLOMA: A certificate that makes it possible to distinguish those who have college educations from those who do not.

Some girls don't profit by their college course. They get so absorbed in their education they forget to look for a husband.

Mr. Gates: "What did your son learn at college?"

Carl Monrad: "Well, he hadn't been home a week before he showed me how to open bottles with a half dollar."

Puzzle

Why is it a course in husbandry at the State College leads to a bachelor's degree?

"Albert has a lot of original ideas," said a proud mother.

"Yes, he has," replied Mrs. Lindbeck, principal, "especially in spelling."

"Yes, Dad, I know I got the lowest standing in the class of 150 students; but it might have been worse. There might have been 300 in the class."

"Are your father and mother" asked the visitor of the small boy who opened the door.

"They was in," said the child, "but they is out."

"They was in. They is out. Where's your grammar?"

"She's gone upstairs," said the boy, "for a lay-down."

Fable

Once upon a time there was a tale that wasn't the most colossal, stupendous and terrific hit of the year.

"Waiter, bring me a piece of political pie."

"Yes, sir. Apple sauce or plum filling?"

Sandy McTavish likes his new radio, but thinks the light on the dial is kinda hard to read by.

Three little skunks and an old mother skunk were walking leisurely through the woods.

Suddenly one of the little skunks shouted, "Mother, yonder comes a big black bear. What must we do?"

"Let us spray!" commanded the old mother skunk.

Eric Elmgren: "On this appliance you pay a small deposit, then make no more payments for six months."

Lady of the House: "Who told you about us?"

Many ignorant people, says Dad Gummit, never would be found out if they kept their mouths shut.

Remember the old Chinese proverb, he suggests: "Keep quiet, and they may only think you are a fool; speak and remove all doubt."

A University professor declares students have changed very little in the past twenty years. That's why a good many alumni, who have children in college, worry.

AVERAGE AMERICAN: One who deplores the terrible toll on our highways in one breath, and the next brags that his old bus can do 80 miles an hour.

The height of bad luck, we would say, would be to have a two-pants suit, and burn a hole in the coat.

When a man gets too old to set an example, he begins to give advice.

No-Accidents For First Half June Campaign

Plant Workers Drive For Clean Accident Record Is Off To Good Start.

Employees of Superior Portland Cement passed the half-way mark in their June No-Accident Campaign Tuesday. So far the interest in the campaign is high and every effort is being made to keep the record clear for the entire month and for many months after that.

During the past few weeks a slogan contest was sponsored by company, with the winning slogan "Safety Promotes Cheer", using the initials S. P. C., submitted by Miss Christine Lindbeck of the office force. The present plan is to have this slogan installed in neon lights above the plant.

Other features of the campaign so far have included a safety photo contest, daily bulletins, a safety newspaper issued by the cement association and a specially printed safety calendar for the month.

Safety Committee Enlarged

Prominent in plant safety activities is the Safety Committee, composed of selected members from various parts of the plant who meet each month to take care of all safety problems. To bring more of the workers in contact with this work a special meeting of the committee was held Wednesday evening in the church basement with about fifty present.

The men enjoyed a fine dinner served by the Catholic Ladies and then heard a regular session of the committee during which Mr. H. H. Sanderson, prominent safety worker gave the men an instructive talk on "Eye Safety" and displayed the latest types of protective goggles for industrial workers.

The next committee meeting will be held in two weeks and at that time a new group of workers will attend. In the following months one meeting a month will be held and new workers will attend each time, so that every employee will be given a chance to attend.

Tom Savage Married In Beautiful Home Ceremony

There was a quiet wedding in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Savage of Birdsview Saturday at noon when their son, Tom Savage of Seattle and Miss Edith Macaulay of Seattle were joined in wedlock with Rev. Snowden of Concrete reading the service.

The bridal party stood beneath an arch of white roses, the bride and bridesmaid both gowned in white, wearing corsages of white gardenias. Miss Florence Savage, sister of the groom was bridesmaid and Aaron Kvalheim accompanied the groom.

Other guests were a cousin of the bride, Henry Campbell of Merritt, B. C. and Edith Kahne of Seattle. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ira Savage served a delicious lunch and then the bridal party, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Savage, motored to Seattle and attended a reception at the home of the bride.

The young couple will make their home in Seattle.

Forest Service Crews Now Busy On Mountain Trails

The Forest Service has thirteen men in its employ above Marblemount at this time, opening up main trails and repairing telephone lines for the coming season. The trails so far have been found in the same condition as other years. A great deal of work is planned for the coming season and better trails are promised on both Skagit and Cascade rivers.

George Ross has entered the Veteran's Hospital at Portland, where he will secure medical treatment for two months.

Mrs. Harry Ambler and daughter Nancy are living at their summer home at Warm Beach.

That'll Drive Him Away!

State Postmasters Meet At Newhalem

Newhalem, metropolis of the City of Seattle power project on the upper Skagit river, will play host to the annual convention of Postmasters beginning next Sunday. This place was selected by the members of the Postmasters League at their convention last year and so far 150 have registered at Rockport for the trip.

The members, who will come from all parts of the state, will leave Rockport at 6:00 Sunday and will hold their business sessions and other events during the next day. The group will return by train Tuesday afternoon.

Due to excellent scenic and entertainment features and adequate housing facilities, Newhalem is becoming very popular as a place for conventions of this kind.

Upper Skagit Folder Out For Tourists Very Soon

The Upper Skagit folder recently approved by the Concrete Booster club and upper valley businessmen is now in the process of being printed at the Sedro-Woolley Courier Times shop and shortly twenty-five thousand of the folders will be distributed throughout the state.

The folder contains a map of the valley, scenic views and descriptive matter of interest to tourists. Prominent in the folder are pictures of Mount Baker, Baker Lake, and views along the Skagit and Cascade rivers.

DAD'S DAY PROGRAM AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Next Sunday will be Dad's Day, and in honor of this special occasion, special services will be held for his benefit at the Mt. Baker Presbyterian church. A program of music will be rendered by local people, including several violin numbers by Mr. Muller and selections by the women's chorus and a men's chorus will be heard.

Flowers will be given all Dad's and boys who attend. The pastor will give a bouquet to oldest and youngest Dad being present.

The pastors message for the day will be on the subject "Our Dads." All are welcome to attend.

Betty Vaughn And Dan Dye Are Married Saturday

This week's contribution to the ranks of the newlyweds in the announcement of the marriage on Saturday of Miss Betty Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Vaughn of this city, to Denzil Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dye, also of Concrete.

Both young folks are well known and have many friends wishing them every happiness.

Cars Hit On Van Horn Road

A car driven by H. Murray of Sauk and another driven by William Runyon of this city came together Saturday evening on the Van Horn road. Both cars were considerably banged up but no one was injured in the crash.

Sixty Boosters See Game Dept. Film

Attendance at the Booster Club dinner meetings was boosted another notch Tuesday evening when about sixty met in the church basement for a meal prepared by the Presbyterian Ladies Aid, and a program of moving pictures presented by the state game department.

After an excellent meal, followed by a short business meeting the moving picture projector was set up and an hour and a half of interesting pictures were shown. Part of the pictures were in full color. The audience was given a real insight into methods employed by the game department in handling fish and birds at their hatcheries and game farms, and each reel contained humorous and scenic shots that rounded out the program without a dull moment.

Members of the Concrete Troop of Boy Scouts were special guests of the club during the showing of the films.

Special Meeting Tuesday

All members of the Booster Club were reminded at the dinner meeting that there is to be a special business session at the City Hall Tuesday evening, June 22. As many important matters must be disposed of at this time, as many as possible are asked to attend.

Skagit County A Million Short On Property Taxes

Skagit county residents have been behind in their property taxes to the extent of nearly a million dollars in the last nine years, the state auditor reports. For the entire state taxpayers are behind just $37,157,476 on property taxes.

An analysis of delinquent property taxes for the years 1927 to 1935, inclusive showed counties had a $10,951,026 interest in the total delinquency. $9,809,310 was due to schools, $7,923,116 to cities and towns, $4,875,589 to the state, $866,055 to port districts, $113,444 to townships and $984,962 in miscellaneous levies.

Sedro-Woolley Man Hurt At Grandy Lake Camp

Cliff Nettleton, 23, of Sedro-Woolley, a bucker at the Grandy Lake Logging company, was seriously injured Monday morning when hit by a log. He was taken to the Sedro-Woolley hospital to be treated for concussion of the brain, cuts and bruises and a broken left arm.

While his condition is serious he is expected to recover.

Thrilling Game Ended By Rain In Ninth Inning

Score Tied At 1 Each From Third Inning—Pat Frank Breaks Thumb.

Score 1-1, ninth inning and a bunch of fans all set for a hot over-time session was the picture Sunday afternoon on the local field when old man Pluvius decided to bring out his sprinkling can and make further play impossible. But in spite of this undecided ending, Concrete's young bunch of players hailed the game as a victory over the pessimists who said Concrete couldn't have a good team unless they hired outside players.

Yet, while everything was perfect as far as the game went, the boys took a hard blow when they found that Pat Frank, coach and catcher, will be out for the season with a broken thumb. Pat broke the thumb in the third inning but played the entire game before discovering that it was broken. This leaves the lineup subject to a change, with E. Johnson likely to take over the catching job.

Game A Pitching Battle

Sunday's game was a duel between H. Johnson of Concrete and Jarvis of Mount Vernon. Johnson, a youngster, allowed only five scattered hits, while Jarvis allowed only two, but was hindered by three errors by his team.

Concrete's infield of Wiseman, McDonald, Thompson and Taylor played air-tight ball, only one error showing up and that at a time when it did no damage.

In the field Whitehair took the lion's share of the work, catching a half dozen high ones in center field. E. Johnson and Vier had an easy time watching him.

Tough Game This Week

While the boys may just be getting used to Mount Vernon the game here Sunday will prove the real test if one is needed. Sunday Oak Harbor brings a team composed of stars from Anacortes, Everett and everywhere. This team walloped Langley 12 to 2 last week with George Olson of Anacortes doing the chucking.

From this advance dope it appears the local team will have their hands full for the afternoon.

Grand Opening At New Drug Store On Saturday

With all fixtures in place and well filled with stock, the Morgan Drug Store, Concrete's newest business house, will open bright and early Saturday morning for their first day of actual business. The store has been open all week, but in the task of moving in and arranging the stock no attempt was made to solicit patronage.

Saturday, however, the store will be ready for visitors. From 9 to 11 a.m. every child visiting the store will be treated to free ice cream. During the day every adult coming in will receive a gift. A number of special prices have been advertised for the day.

BASEBALL LESSONS FOR YOUNG FELLOWS

Pat Frank, being out of the lineup of the local ball team for the summer and also out of a job on account of a broken thumb, will turn his energies toward baseball talent for the future. Monday of next week he intends to start a "baseball class" for youngsters of school age.

There is no charge connected with the classes and any boy wanting to learn baseball is asked to report at the school field Monday morning at 10:00 a.m. Coaching in fielding, knock of hitting and other angles of the game will be given to each student.

Report On "Penny Drive"

Mrs. C. L. Wagner, chairman for the Orthopedic Hospital's annual "Penny Drive" reports that the drive in Concrete netted a total of $22.49 for the hospital.

Fifteen Years Ago In Concrete

Concrete Herald, June 17, 1922

The voters of Concrete were given the second opportunity Wednesday to approve the paving of Main street so there would be a paved highway through the city, and for the second time the said voters rendered a verdict against the pavement. The result was exactly the same as at the election held May 3, 1921, a majority for the paving project, but not enough to make up the three-fifths necessary to pass the bonds. The vote Wednesday was practically a full vote of the city, 228 votes being cast out of a registration of 259. 118 were in favor of the bonds and 103 against.

Three little boys, Vernon Seabury, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Seabury of this city and William and James Graham, only children of Mr. and Mrs. James Graham of Seattle, were drowned and another boy, Joseph McDonald, three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McDonald of this city, narrowly escaped the same fate last Sunday afternoon while playing on a raft in a small slough at the farm home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moran of Sauk. The little boys started out to play and were not missed until they had been away from the house for a half hour. A search was started at once and when the slough was reached the McDonald lad was seen floating unconscious on the surface of the pond. He was soon revived and the bodies of the other children were quickly recovered. Every effort was made to resuscitate the boys, but without avail.

The Concrete baseball team hit their stride last Sunday and won

Rumors of more business houses here are unconfirmed at present, mostly because all details of each pending deal have not been completed. However, this community is definitely one of the promising sections of the county and is beginning to draw new business men and new ideas. The development of any community lies chiefly with its merchants. When both new and old awake to the fact that the old town is headed for something bigger and better there will be no stopping us.

Morgan's Dug Store, which we introduce to you as an advertiser this week, gives Concrete one of the handsomest drug store in the county. To us it's another step in the right direction and a valuable asset to the community. We extend our congratulations to Mr. Morgan and heartily recommend his establishment to our readers.

Sunday's baseball game here is proof that Concrete has enough youngsters who can play ball to make a real league team. Give them a few more games and then watch them go.

Anyway the June showers are not confined to those from the skies. Diamond rings and wedding licenses are causing a few of them.

The 4th of July is next on the calendar and is rapidly approaching. From then on our own celebration will come like lightning.

Dad's day was probably designed to get father in a good humor before planning the 4th of July trip.

an exciting game from the fast Hamilton bunch. The outstanding feature of the contest was the brilliant pitching of Al Lisherness, who performed the creditable feat of striking out three men with bases full and continuing the good work to strike out three more in a row in the third. The game was called off in the fifth inning when news of the tragedy at Sauk reached the city, the first report being that Umpire McDonald's boy was one of the boys drowned.

Joseph Kemmerich, who has been foreman in charge of the government fish hatchery at Baker Lake, has received notice that he has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of J. R. Russell to the office of field superintendent for the Pacific coast. In his new position Mr. Kemmerich will have charge of all government fisheries stations in Western Washington, with headquarters at Birdsview.

A dangerous forest fire broke out near the government fish hatchery at Birdsview yesterday and is reported to be still spreading. The fire started in the old logging works and it is reported that all the old camp buildings have been burned, including the dwelling of Nick Stevens. For a time the fish hatchery buildings were threatened.

Mrs. Nora Cupples and five children left yesterday on an automobile trip to Oklahoma and Texas. Sam Cupples is acting as driver for the new Dodge car, and they expect to spend plenty of time on the way, camping. They will be gone several months.

Parsnip Used by Romans
 Botanically the parsnip is known as Pastinacea sativa and the carrot, celery and parsley are some of its closest relatives. In fact, parsnip culture is not unlike that for carrots. Although the parsnip grows wild in certain sections of North America it is, nevertheless, a traveler in this sphere, having been introduced to Virginia in 1809 by the colonists. The native habitat of this vegetable is England, continental Europe and the more temperate parts of Asia. Its earliest use on the European continent dates back to the time of the ancient Romans, who cultivated the fleshy root as an esculent.

TRAFFIC on busy streets is measured in millions of car-miles annually—and millions of car stops. Can you make these stops swiftly, surely, with least possible skidding?

You can if your streets are concrete. Concrete's gritty surface grips and holds tires; offers maximum traction in any weather. Its uniform riding surface gives you driving confidence—a further safety aid. And at night concrete's light gray, highly visible color makes your streets safer for motorist and pedestrian alike.

For economy, for good appearance—and for safety—insist on concrete..

Concrete's Resistance to Spring "Break-Ups" Worth Millions to Taxpayers Every Year

When the frost comes out or the rain pours down, concrete pavements "can take it." They're always ready to get you through with safety. Even after the terrible punishment of this winter, routine, inexpensive maintenance will quickly put concrete in condition for heavy summer traffic. REDDY KILOWATT says: "THIS IS A WONDERFUL COUNTRY!"

"As I dance along the wires from Blaine to Kalama, or from Montesano across to Wenatchee and Waterville, my eyes are regaled with a panorama wonderful to behold, but impossible to describe. The sight of winding rivers, fruitful farm lands, glistening lakes, forest covered hills and stretches of waters running inland from the sea, makes me rub my eyes at times to assure myself that it isn't all a dream.

"There is an inspiring story behind this empire, too. It is written in the Bunyan-like language of the axe and the saw. It is flavored with the aroma of fir and hemlock; it is resonant with the music of the tides, the rippling rivers and the waterfall. It is salty with the tang of sweat. It is punctuated with human heart beats as the pioneers blazed their trails through the wilderness and carved their roads from one small settlement to another.

"My Company helped these hardy men conquer their wilderness; harness their rivers and bridle the strength of their waterfalls. When these strong men of an earlier day beckoned, we came—we fought all obstacles, struggled, lived, laughed like Titans—and we conquered under the banner of progress and civilization. And—we are still marching on, proud of our record, grateful to our many thousand friends and appreciative of your cooperation as customers."
