SEEN and HEARD ON MAIN STREET

The modern girl may wear a man's clothes, play a man's games, smoke like a man, do a man's work, but we have yet to see one that feels at ease with her feet on the desk.

"That goes against the grain," said the farmer as he put a mortgage on his crop.

LAW MAY GIVE A MAN THE RIGHT TO OPEN HIS WIFE'S LETTERS, BUT IT DOESN'T GIVE HIM THE COURAGE!

"You can't believe what you see in the papers," declared Lena Genster. "It says here the railroads of the country carried 200 million people last year, and we all know there aren't that many people in the United States."

Did you ever notice, said Dad Gummit, that bandits, in-laws and bankers lose interest in you when you're broke?

Definition

LAWYER: A man who induces two other men to fight, and then runs off with their clothes.

"Don't bother me; I am writing to my brother."

"But why do you write so slow?"

"He can't read very fast."

"We were not fighting in the street, your honor, as this officer charges. We were just trying to separate each other, weren't we Bill?"

Putting a little sugar on what you say, believes Dad Gummit, is just as important as putting a little salt on what you hear.

"Hello, Oscar! I hear you've got married. What kind of a match did you make?"

"Well, neighbor, I didn't do so well as I expected; but, to tell the truth, I don't think she did either."

An English cub reporter had frequently been reprimanded for writing too many details, and had been given a final warning to be more brief. So he turned in the following:

"A shooting affair occured last night. Sir Dwight Hopeless, guest at Lady Panmore's ball, complained of feeling ill, took a highball, his hat, his coat, his departure, no notice of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket and finally his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that sort of thing."

LIFE may begin at 40, but it goes like 60 after that.

There was a big-hearted gent on Main street who told his boys that if they sawed the wood he would let them play in the sawust.

A man in Iowa was soundly thrashed by his wife for not paying his newspaper subscription after she had given him the cash to do it. May her crown be trimmed to order and her harp have an extra string.

Mike was Irish and proud of it. Donald was Scotch and fond of it.

Algy Whiffletree says it isn't his fault he is in debt—it is all owing to other people.

Willie: "I killed five flies today—three males and two females.'"

Johnny: "How can you tell a male from a female."

Willie: "Well, three sat on the beer bottle and two on the mirror."

Modern aim: Acquiring new land for surplus populations who are slain in the process.

Anyone can open their mouth—closing it at the right time is hard.

HARVEST DAY IN MOUNT VERNON NEXT SATURDAY

Combined Harvest And War Bond Celebration Planned —Honor 4-Star Mothers.

A county-wide "Harvest Celebration" and Victory Bond rally is now being planned by Mount Vernon to be held in that city on Saturday, September 18th. The day will be in observance of the completion of one of the biggest harvest years in the county, with record crops being handled by concerted effort of farmers, Mexican labor and volunteers.

The 3rd War Loan drive will be given equal prominence and as a special feature the state will present service pins, similar to the one present to Mrs. Cunningham in this city, to eleven Skagit county mothers who have four or more sons in the service. One other mother has been found who has five sons serving, ten more have four boys in uniform. Mrs. E. S. Boyd of this city is among those having four.

The program for the day will open with a 4-H Club exhibit and fair, open to anyone who wishes to make entries, to be held at the 4-H Fair Grounds. At noon there will be a children's parade and immediately following it will be a big harvest parade. A speaking program will be held at 2:00; another parade (military) at 7:30 and then the presentation of awards to the mothers at the Fair Grounds after the parade.

County To Cut Levy For Current Expenses

Too much money in the treasury. This happy state of affairs faces the county commissioners as they prepare their budget for the coming year and their solution to the problem is expected to be a cut in the current expense levy from 10 to 6 mills.

This cut was made in the preliminary budget which was approved this week. The budget will be subject to hearings in October but items cannot be increased, so the tax saving will hold good.

County expenditures for the 1944 months were slightly higher in all departments, due to an effort to keep wages in line with those of private employment. The large reserve makes increases possible in spite of the millage reduction.

The total current operating budget comes to $241,671.31.

OPA GESTAPO OPENS MOTORING "SNOOP"

The OPA began a crack-down on motorists throughout the state over the week end when investigators, aided by the state patrol stopped several hundred cars bearing B and C cards. Most of them were violating the regulations in regard to pleasure driving and in some cases were using gasoline ilegally.

B and C card holders who were found to have traveled more than the monthly allotment of 90 miles for pleasure will be reported to their ration board. Those found to have used No. 8 coupons, which are not valid until Sept. 22 were also reported for punishment by their ration board, which can mean withdrawal of their ration book.

Ration Book No. 4 To To Handled By Schools

Distribution of Ration Book No. 4, which will be next on the list, is to be handled through the public schools again. The last ration book was mailed to all persons.

Registration for the fourth book of ration stamps will be October 20 to 31st and will be handled by the teachers in the same manner as for the first two ration books.

TOO HOT FOR LOGGING

Woods workers in the upper valley were given a holiday today as humidity dropped and danger of fire resulted from the past few days of blistering sun.

Airplane "Crash" Didn't Happen Last Sunday

The airplane didn't crash. This is the official announcement from the navy department in regard to a plane which was seen over the Koma Kulshan ranger station, over Concrete and again over the lower valley, apparently having engine trouble and flying very low.

Reports of persons seeing the plane circulated by the rumor route until it was said to have actually crashed and burned. Crash crews and ambulances were dispatched to the reported accident but could find no sign of any plane. The navy finally checked and found all rumors false, the plane had made it back safely.

Passes Away In Hospital

Merton Brossard, 66, husband of Mrs. Dora Bossard who is a teacher in the local grade school, passed away Sunday at the Sedro-Woolley hospital after a long illness.

The Brossard's had made their home in this city during the last school term and had recently purchased the Kinnamon house on B street. Mr. Bossard had been an invalid for some time.

He is survived by his widow; one step-daughter, Carlotta Elliott of Portland; a step-son, Oliver Elliott of Seattle; 3 sisters, Mrs. Maud Rholfing of Bellingham, Mrs. Mabel Schneider and Mrs. Edith Antl of Minnesota and a nephew, Lieut Lyle Schneider, USN.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Sedro-Woolley. The Masonic lodge of that city, of which he was a member, was in charge of services and Mrs. Gertrude Lloyd conducted Christian Science rites.

Mr. Brossard was born at Elysan, Minn., July 3, 1877. He had been a resident of Skagit county for forty years, spending most of that time in Sedro-Woolley.

Many Find Good Fishing As Forests Are Opened

Opening of the forests found a large number of fishermen ready and anxious to get at their favorite lakes and streams over the Labor Day holiday and from reports it seems that everyone who took the trouble to walk a few miles into the woods brought out a limit catch of fish.

Limit catches were reported from Thunder Creek, Buck Creek, Illabot Creek, Phinney Creek, Everett Lake, Blue Lake, and many other waters opened to hikers. In almost every case, fishing conditions were excellent, the fish plentiful and cooperative.

With The Boys In The Service

Last week end was almost like "old home week" in town. From all parts of the county the boys came home for a visit. Henry Hoover arrived from California for a visit with his parents and wife and son; Tech. Corp. Clifford White was in town for a few days visit with old friends; John Elkins, was up from Bremerton before leaving for his new navy post at Portland; Dud Ross and Armond Bianchini of the U. of W. Marine training school were home; Elmer Leonard and Adoiph Frank of Fort Lewis visited a few days; and Ted Boyd is home for a visit from Colorado.

A visitor here this week is Miss Gwen Simmons of the Waves and now serving at Corpus Christi, Tex. More about her in the letter that follows, but here's the picture to go with the story.

Miss Gwendolyn Simmons
Former Concrete teacher

A nice letter this week from Bob and Dell Leonard in Corpus Christi, Texas. They report that they had the pleasure of entertaining Concrete's one and only Wave, Gwen Simmons. They write "Although we had one awful time trying to get hold of her we finally did and she came out at her first opportunity. Boy, it really seemed good to see someone from home. She said the same thing. She makes a wonderful looking Wave—very prim and neat, and happy. She's doing a grand job in the Navy training the boys how to use the instruments in the planes they will soon pilot. She's called a "Link Trainer". We certainly enjoyed hearing her tell all about it.

"We tried to get Tommy Thompson to come out and see us but they kept him so busy he didn't

I. B. Gates Resigns Post On Council; Editor Named

A routine meeting of the town council was held Friday evening for the payment of bills and usual monthly business discussion.

The resignation of Ira B. Gates from the council was accepted and his appoinment as town marshal was approved. Chas. Dwelley was named to serve on the council in Mr. Gates position.

The town's financial condition continued to improve with the receipt of over $500 from a share in federal liquor tax revenues, while expenditures continue at a very low point.

The main street hill sewer project was again discussed but with no further action taken.

Young Folks Wed In Seattle

Miss Ardath DeBolt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. DeBolt, and Srgt. Lawrence G. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cunningham, were married in a simple ceremony which took place in the rectory of St. James Cathedral at 2 o'clock on September 1st.

The bride wore a pale gold California drape suit with cinnamon accessories and carried a white prayer book with short satin streamers. Her flowers were white orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Myrna DeBolt, who wore an identical suit of forest green with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of brown orchids.

Forrest M. Foss was the groom's best man.

The mother of the bride wore a corsage of talisman roses while the groom's mother wore pink roses.

The bride was a former student at Seattle College where she was affiliated with Silver Scroll honorary. The couple are both graduates of Concrete high school.

After the ceremony the wedding party and a group of relatives and friends enjoyed a wedding luncheon at Crawford's Sea Grill, where the traditional wedding cake was cut by the couple.

Srgt. and Mrs. Cunningham left immediately for San Diego, where they will make their home while he is on duty there.

Returns Home For Duration

Mrs. Horace Straight and son of Norfolk, Virginia, arrived here last week to make their home with Mrs. Straight's mother, Mrs. Selma V. Lindbeck, for the duration of the war. Mr. Straight has enlisted in the Navy and has been commissioned as an Ensign. He is a chemist and was employed at the local cement plant a few years ago.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL SHOWS BIG INCREASE

New Grade Pupils Swell Enrollment—High School Total Drops.

Opening day at the Concrete school found the total enrollment considerably increased over last year, due to the addition of new territory to this district and the number of grade school pupils now attending here rather than at the smaller outlying schools.

The increased total enrollment was entirely due to grade pupils as the opening day total in high school was 11 less than for last year, or just 88.

Total enrollment at present is 289 pupils in both high school and grades with 165 boys and 124 girls. The grade school total is 118 boys and 83 girls for a roll of 201. In high school there are 47 boys and 41 girls. About an even percentage of boys and girls is maintained in most grades, with exception of the 1st where boys outnumber the girls almost 2 to 1; and in the 6th and 8th grades where there are three boys to every girl.

The roll by rooms is a follows: 1st grade, 39; 2nd grade, 27; 3rd grade, 33; 4th grade 22; 5th grade, 20; 6th grade, 21; 7th grade, 30; 8th grade, 19.

No Lunch Room Yet

The proposition of getting the school cafeteria and lunch room into service is still unsettled but Supt. Rhodes promises that a definite announcement will be made on the subject next week.

School opened Monday morning at 9:00 a. m. and the first day was spent in acquainting the pupils with their new teachers and running through the schedule of classes. School was dismissed early on the first day but Tuesday regular classes took up the full time.

Football turnouts began with the first day of school and Coach McQuirk is now busy getting his squad in condition for the opening game the latter part of this month. Enough candidates for two full teams are now working out each day, with a good portion of last year's team back in suits to form the nucleus of the first team.

CONCRETE'S PERSONAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN BRIEF

Private Alvin Crinklaw of Fort Bragg, Michigan, arrived in town this afternoon for a few days visit with his parents here.

Miss Charlene Reece left over the week end for Seattle where she entered the Holy Names Academy on Monday for the school term.

Mrs. C. E. Prater returned home from the hospital over the week end after spending several months there for treatment. She is much improved and gaining steadily.

Mrs. E. R. Mosher returned home from Seattle this week after a few days visit with Mrs. McFadden, a former resident of this city. Mr. McFadden was recently killed in an auto accident in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lang of Seattle, formerly of Concrete, are the proud parents of a baby son, born Sept. 1st at the Virginia Mason hospital. Mother, son and father were all doing nicely at last report. The boy has been named David Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Baxter of the Koma Kulshan ranger station, left yesterday to make their home at Eugene, Oregon. Mr. Baxter has been assistant ranger in the Baker river district during the past year.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson in Chicago, that their son "Tommy", former local high school athlete, is now a full-fledged Navy flyer. He received his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas, recently and is now in training with a dive-bomber squadron in Florida.

We note with distaste that OPA snoopers are now working the state to check up on motorists who happen to have B of C gasoline ration cards. If there is anything in this system of rationing and restriction that smacks of inquisition methods it is this type of activity. Lord knows the OPA is making enough liars, cheats and frauds now, but that is no fault of the people involved. If you have to be a liar to live, lots of folks are going to become liars—especially if they know it is common practice. The whole theory of the present bureaucratic set-up is based on an idea that all citizens are crooks. Nobody ever advanced the suggestion that honest people don't have to be hedged in by penalties and regulations if they are treated as honest people. Laws are supposed to be made to control those who step out of bounds and then only after they have committed some crime. Under this new freedom of ours you are a potential lawbreaker to start with and if they don't catch you right away, it's because you are clever and not because you weren't guilty of anything. If the motoring public must be checked on gasoline, let the checking be done in advance, gasoline coupons issued to fill the needs of the individual for an allotted period and let him decide how he shall use it. It he wants to walk to work for a month and use the gas he saves to go see Aunt Minnie, who is going to suffer? Certainly not the OPA or the gasoline supply. If it becomes necessary to drive in continual fear of breaking some regulation issued by some bureau without benefit of congressional law or constitutional authority, then it is about time to get out the old squirrel rifle and start defending our homes again. They ain't doin' right by us and we ain't goin' to stand fer it!

You are beginning to hear that World War I slogan, "Out of the trenches by Christmas." Don't kid yourself too much—the Japs don't even know when Christmas is, and now matter what happens in Europe they are the ones we have to whip before our boys come home.

After a summer of working a high wages we half expected the school kids to demand a reasonable reimbursement for attending classes, with time and a half for after-school sessions.

Nobody knows just how much time it will take our boys to get their fill of spaghetti. And sauerkraut won't be ready for a little while yet.

Italy's leaning tower of Pisa seemingly defies the power of gravity. In a like manner Italy has surendered, yet has not yet fallen.

Whatever became of female impersonators? They could be drawing down good money now at Boeings.

Buy a war bond today. You can't find a better bargain!

Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokio."

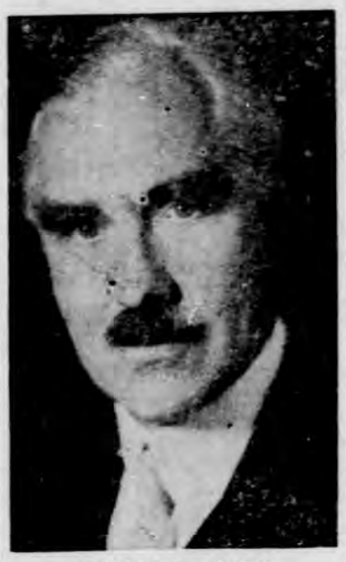
WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen straggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent. Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and all of them clearly demonstrate that war with our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan. The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace.

The Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism—a warrior caste which is ruthless and cruel beyond comprehension.

From the flood of eye witness accounts of atrocity and bestiality one



JOSEPH C. GREW

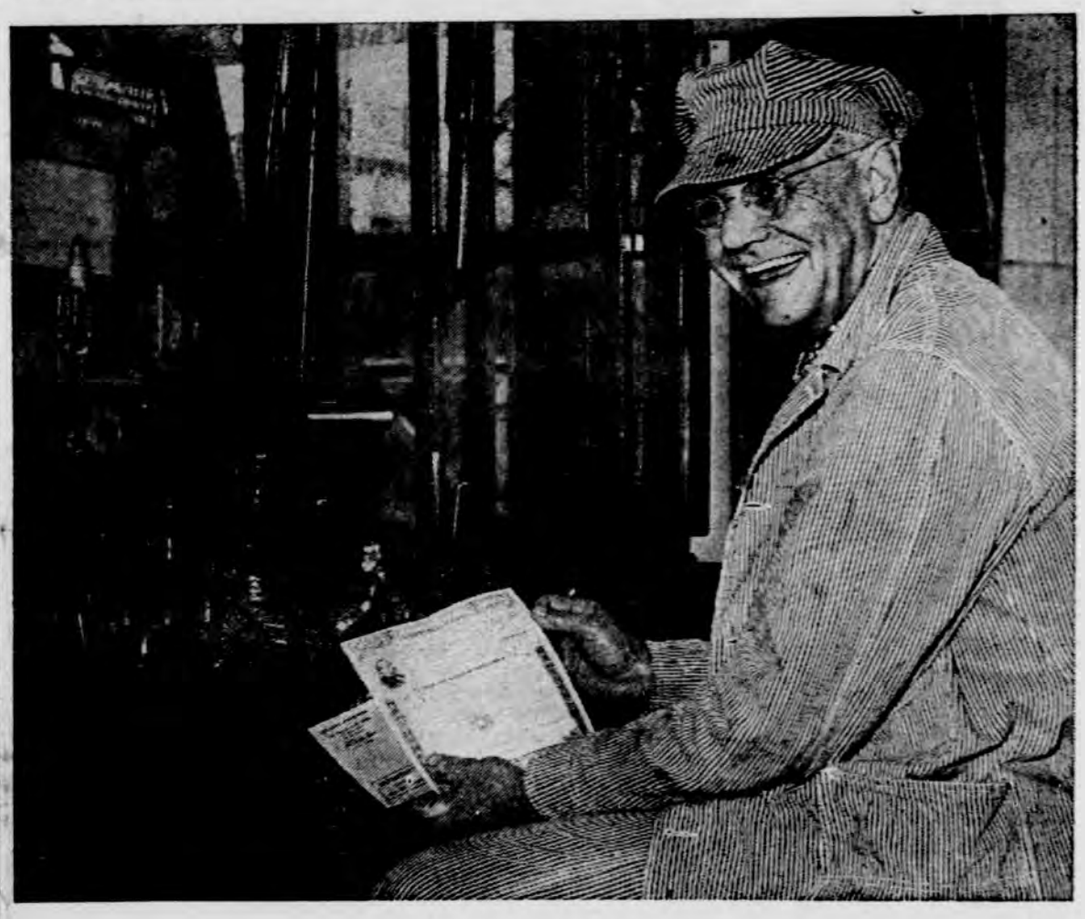
fact shines clear. We must utterly crush that machine and caste and system. If, however, we Americans think that collectively and individually we can continue to lead our normal lives, leaving the spirit of self-sacrifice to our soldiers and sailors, we shall unquestionably run the risk of a stalemate with Japan. I do not have the slightest doubt of our eventual victory. But I do not wish to see the period of our blood, sweat and tears indefinitely and unnecessarily prolonged. We must not fail to realize that we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot be broken even by successive defeats and untold economic hardship, a people who gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation. We must also remember that Japan did not start this war without carefully laid military plans for victory over the United States and a peace dictated by their war lords at the White House.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean incredible waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-filled War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are, I am told, roughly 100 million partially complete War Stamp albums now in circulation. These uncompleted Stamp albums are, in a measure, like a 100 million threats to a speedy and victorious peace. On the other hand, for every War Savings album completed and cashed in for a Bond, you the owner have helped some soldier or sailor take a forward step on the uphill road to total victory.



THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."

"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."

"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the war-alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. This entire industry stopped making whiskey months ago and has been working night and day producing nothing but war-alcohol."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that really is."

BACK THE ATTACK

The Third War Loan—starting September 9—gives all us stay-at-homes another chance to show our colors—another opportunity to help our country and to help ourselves at the same time.

The Treasury Department has made it clear that if the Third War Loan is to be a success, common everyday citizens must put a lot more money into War Bonds than heretofore.

The quota assigned for the people of the United States—apart from banks, insurance companies and other corporations—is the largest amount of money any Government has ever asked of its citizens.

And the money can't be raised unless everybody—not just the other fellow—resolves to go without things in order to buy more War Bonds.

In every community where there are employees of the Great Northern Railway, their co-operation in making the Third War Loan a success can be taken for granted.

Twenty-two thousand of these Great Northern men and women are buying War Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan. Many of them are buying additional War Bonds from their local banks and postoffices, and are cheerfully accepting whatever sacrifices are involved.

So that credit for the bonds they purchase through the Payroll Savings Plan may be allocated to the states and counties in which they live, and their bonds delivered with the least possible delay, the Great Northern Railway became an agency for the Treasury Department for issuing Series "E" bonds. More than 15,000 of these bonds are issued every month at the Company's offices at St. Paul. The Great Northern is not reimbursed in any way for this expense.

Through the Federal Reserve banking system, every bond issued by the Great Northern is credited to the quotas assigned to the state and county in which the employee makes his home.

Besides BACKING THE ATTACK with their Dollars, these Great Northern men and women are BACKING THE ATTACK with their own services—meeting every requirement of the Government for the transportation of troops, their equipment, and vital war materials over the Great Northern Railway.

And along with millions of other Americans, they will BACK THE ATTACK with EXTRA War Bonds in September.

Hubby: "I don't know her well enough yet."

LABOR'S ASSEMBLY LINE

the "LIFE LINE" of FREEDOM

DURING this Labor Day week, America is one vast assembly line. It's a long one, too. It reaches around the world to carry the necessities of Victory to the Seven Seas and to the many fighting fronts. Here in the Pacific Northwest the pulse of fighting America beats strong, as men and women work to supply the tools and weapons of those who have left their peace-time jobs to go out and fight in Freedom's cause. From this assembly line, strong hands and stout hearts are moulding Washington's raw materials into ships, tanks, planes, ammunition, and so on.

These are big jobs—a real challenge to all of us to do our part to win an early victory. A welder in a Puget Sound shipyard is doing more than just helping build ships. A riveter down at Boeing's is doing more than just helping build "Flying Fortresses." They're both helping "drive nails" in Hitler's and Hirohito's coffins

And let's remember this as we work—we aren't working for the owner alone—we aren't working for ourselves alone. The whole thing goes deeper than that. We're working for America and all it means! We're working for those loved ones of ours out there in the danger zone where Death grins and beckons—when a minute lost is a life lost.

Always in our minds are the Puget Power employees now in the armed forces. There are 472 of them, nobly serving and courageously ready to make the supreme sacrifice so that the American Way of life may be preserved. We are extremely proud of these men and women. We are looking forward to their safe return at an early date. Jobs with their Company are waiting for them and all their pals will hang the "Welcome Home" sign out

And—as for our "Puget Power Family" here at home: there is never a time when it holds more significance than it does around Labor Day. Manpower is the foundation upon which is built Puget Power's ability to better serve customer and investor alike. The men and women making up the personnel of Puget Power have able minds, stout hearts and skilled hands. The 3,183 people of Puget Power have the wide experience and extensive knowledge that is essential to successful operation in the various fields of service that the Company renders. They have been efficient in the providing of these services and cooperative in the sale of them. They are doing an excellent war job. Their special skills, accumulated knowledge and combined experience will be invaluable in the Company's post-war development just as they have been in the progress of the past.

During this Labor Day week, we say to American Labor—that as a product of a free America we are determined to keep America free.

Sincerely,

Frank M Laughlon

"Stop it, Helen, the OPA just froze you at 97 cents."

Birdsview

Mr. and Mrs. Bill King have a new baby girl, born Sunday afternoon at the Memorial hospital.

P. F. C. Robert Swettenam and wife, Betty, left Monday for their home at Gardinier Field, California.

Mrs. E. Rathvon and daughter Ethel were guests of Mrs. Vivian Bates Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dexter and son Dale drove to Yakima Wednesday to visit with relatives.

Fred Neilson left Friday for Keyport where he will train as a mechanic for the navy.

The Economic club motored to Stanwood last week to hold a meeting with Mrs. Mary Cornwell, who recently moved to that city.

Mrs. Nellie Savage of Seattle spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. Hazel Warfield, Mrs. Betty Swettenam and Lois and Maryln Brayton were guests of Dorothy Hausse Friday.

Mesdames Alice Stephens, Gussel Gee, Lottie Fredrickson and Ruth Stephens were shopping in Sedro-Woolley Friday.

Helen Sharpe and son Pvt. F.C. Clifford Sharpe of Langley Field, W. Virginia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Savage Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Savage and house guest, Evelyn Johnson, motored to Bellingham Tuesday. Miss Johnson will attend Bellingham high school.

The grange held their regular meeting at the gym Tuesday evening. The special feature of the evening was a talk by Miss Wright, who spoke on home-made dryers and dehydrated food.

The Birdsview school district has started its children for a trial term of school at Concrete. The bus leaves the school garage at 8:00 a. m. with Zola Pulsipher as driver.

Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Swanson and daughters Eleanor and Harriette of Mount Vernon were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bloom and Wesley Bloom Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stephens, Ward Gates, Eugene Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens and Mrs. Alma Wuscher attended the wedding of Miss Thelma Stephens of Sedro-Woolley and Pvt. James Willis of Camp Lyman Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Stephens of SedroWoolley.

Mrs. Edgar Rathvon and children of West Birdsview and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Fredrickson of Sedro-Woolley; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fager and Mr. and Mrs. Eber Wedin of Everett; Delrose and Micheal Walker of Mount Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bloom enjoyed a picnic dinner at Bloom's park on Sunday. These people were all former residents of Osage City, Kan.

Miss Zola Pulsipher entertained the local W.C.T.U. at her home Thursday afternoon. There were thirteen ladies and eight children present. After a short business session Miss Pulipher held some very interesting and amusing contests. The foundation of the contests was fruit, and prizes were won by Edna Joy, Alice Stephens, Rose Rathvon, Gussel Gee and Mae Richmeyer. At four o'clock the hostess served a delicious lunch of shaped sandwiches, fancy cookies, fruit jello and coffee. The centre piece on the table was a large bowl of apples, organges and sprays of leaves and blackberriess. The napkins had various fruit designs. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Mesdames Rose Rathvon, Myrtle Gee, Ruth Stephens, Linda Bloom, Lottie Fredrickson, Alice Stephens, Thelma Bates, Mae Richmeyer, Gussel Gee, Edna Joy, Hazel Warfield and Miss Lois Brayton.

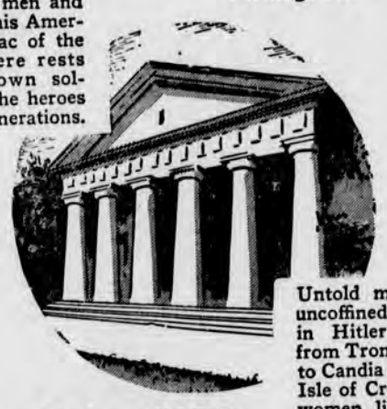
BONDS OVER AMERICA ★ ★ ★

Side by side sleep 50,000 service men and women in this American "bivouac of the dead," where rests "the unknown soldier," and the heroes of many generations.

Arlington



Untold millions sleep uncoffined, unknelled in Hitler graveyards from Tromso, Norway, to Candia on the Greek Isle of Crete, men and women like ourselves who sought only to make the world a better place.

To the People of this Community:

ARE YOU REALLY AT WAR?

What does being at war mean to you? Less gasoline for your auto? Less sugar in your coffee? Higher prices for your food and clothes? Separation from your husband?

3rd WAR LOAN Buy More Bonds

Sure, it has meant all those things, some serious and some really trivial for a period when your actual safety is at stake.

But has the war meant BLOOD, SWEAT AND TEARS to you? In many instances YES. The first stage of invasion has already pushed our casualties over the 100,000 mark.

The gold stars which decorate thousands of our homes today are a challenge to the vast majority of us to do our best in the Third War Loan. No good American wants to see one more gold star added to the firmament of glory. We educate our youth for life, not for death. If they die, they die so that we might live. Every extra War Bond you buy today will back the invasion so that the war will be shortened and so that there will be less blood, sweat and tears for you and your friends.

WOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street –she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.

(Story from an actual report in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Remember: It takes both—taxes and War Bonds (and more War Bonds)—to run the War and combat inflation!

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to all those who so thoughtfully sent gifts and flowers while I was in the hospital. I also wish to thank my neighbors and friends for their kindness during my convalescence at home.

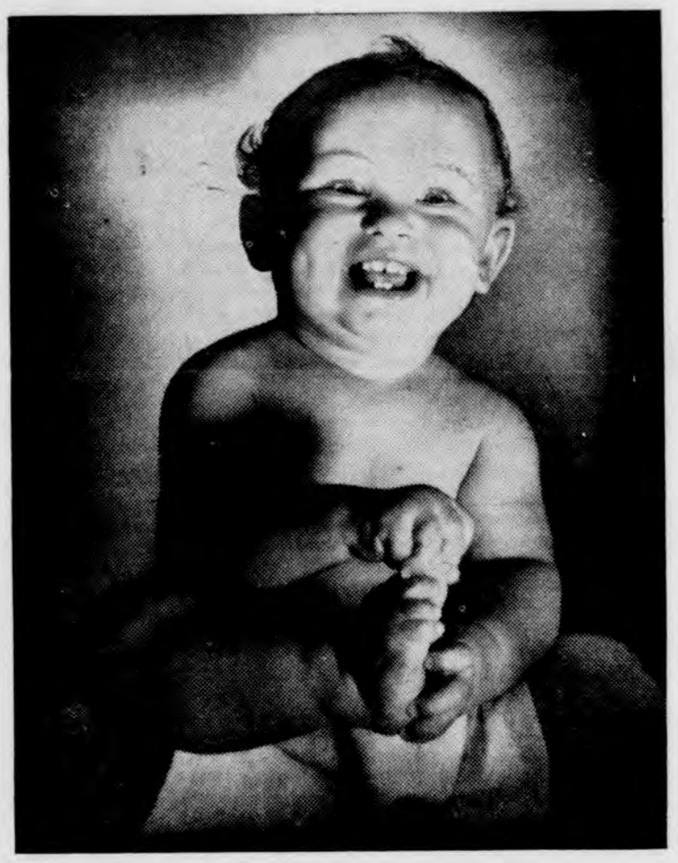
I'm doing nicely, thank you... with DARIGOLD Evaporated Milk"



Yes, indeed, baby will do well when Darigold Evaporated Milk is used in his formula as directed by the physician. Darigold Milk is whole milk from tested herds. Nothing added—nothing taken away except some of the water content. All the food values of whole milk are present.

And Darigold Milk is homogenized which means its fat globules have been broken down to tiny particles—more like human milk. Sealed in tin, Darigold Milk is sterilized, convenient, always uniform, and always ready for use. You can depend upon Darigold Evaporated Milk for infant feeding and for all milk purposes.

DEPEND UPON DARIGOLD FOR QUALITY

DARIGOLD IS A Sweet Cream BUTTER

Yes, madame—it's made from sweet cream of whipping consistency . . . Cream you would be proud and happy to serve on your table. That explains Darigold's fresh, appetizing fragrance. Its clean, delicate taste. Its longer keeping quality. Darigold Butter is more than a highly nutritious food—it is a delicacy for the finest table.
