SEEN and HEARD ON MAIN STREET

In 1954—The present will be known as the year of 'teen-age Metropolitan opera stars, 17-year-old league ball players and the lieutenant colonel too young to be served beer in an Australian bar.

Whoever thought of that Blitzkrieg idea in the first place wasn't so hot after all, the Nazis must be thinking.

The principal of portal-to-portal pay for miners has been approved by the supreme court. Dad Gummit wonders if the ruling also might be made to include employees in the remote reaches of the Pentagon Building at Washington, D. C.

GADGET INVENTOR: One who peddles his failures as the latest in costume jewelry.

A guy from Kansas came to the West Coast and landed a good job in one of our airplane plants. Shortly after he sent this message back home: "Wish you were here. Having a wonderful time-and-a-half."

Eternal vigilance once was the price of liberty, but the price seems to have gone up.

So live, Dad Gummit suggests, that when you die even the undertaker will be sorry.

Sergeant (in a rage): "Of all the blankety-blank, lop-eared jackass so-and-so's!"

Corporal: "Take it easy, Sarge. Don't get your vowels in an uproar!"

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Patrons of a coffee shop found its doors locked, and the following sign displayed: "No Coffee. No Sugar. No Meat. No Help. No Oil. No Heat. No Profit. If you want a square meal, join the army."

The chaplain of a Seabee outfit was trying to organize a choir with a group of volunteers.

"No, no—no," the chaplain interjected. "Only the tenor sings that part. The rest of you just hum. Now don't forget. The tenor will sing alone until we come to the 'gates of hell.' Then you all come in!"

CANNIBAL: One who loves his fellowman—with gravy.

He: "Going my way, baby?"

She: "Sir, the public street is no place to accost a girl who lives at 431 Lenox Avenue, Euclid 9348."

In spite of all that is claimed for some of those perfumes, there are still a number of bachelors.

We're broom mates;
We sweep together,
Dust we two.

So many marriages, like so many businesses, are failures because of the inexperienced people who go into them.

BASEBALL TEAM STARTS SEASON WITH THREE WINS

Darrington, Ferndale and Burlington Lost to Concrete Lions

The Concrete Lions, winners of last years baseball championship, started off this season by winning their first three games. Only one of these was a league game the other two being practice affairs. Losers in these games were Darrington, Ferndale and Burlington.

Coch Winton Gates youngsters from Ferndale, after beating Mount Vernon, lost their game to the Lions by a score of 7 to 6. The Eagles were romping along with a 6-0 lead in the last of the sixth when Concrete softened up Cleary Cone for three runs and added another three to knot the count in the seventh. Neither team scored in the eighth inning then Concrete bunched three hits in the ninth to push across the winning run. Batteries were: Concrete—Reynolds and Bishop; Ferndale—Cone and Talman.

The first conference game was played on Friday on the Burlington field with Concrete scoring 2 to Burlington's 1. A very slow game with both teams weak on batting. Concrete scored 4 in the fourth and again in the seventh inning, Burlington getting theirs in the sixth. Bob Johnson led in hitting with a single and a triple. Batteries: Concrete—Reynolds and Bishop; Burlington—DeLahunt and Lucy. Stu Reynolds, who is expected to lead his team into victory again this year, had fifteen strike outs to his credit to DeLahunts 7.

The next game will be played against Anacortes on their field. The Seahawks won their first conference game, also, beating Sedro-Woolley.

County Now Third Class

Skagit county passed the 40,000 mark in the census this week, to change from a fourth to a third class county, according to word received from County Coordinator R. S. Reaney, April 22, has been set as the deadline for the census and to make sure that everyone alive at 12:01 a. m. on the 7th of February is enumerated. Any person who has been omitted from the count is asked to fill out a blank containing the necessary information.

All members of a household should be enumerated, including those temporarily absent on business, at school, or in military service, and boarders and lodgers who sleep in the house.

All blanks turned in will be checked for duplications, which will be eliminated from the count.

A number of blanks have been sent to the Herald office where they may be obtained by anyone who is not certain he has been enumerated.

"FORT" NAVIGATOR WINS AIR MEDAL

Taking over the lead position of a Flying Fortress group when the assigned leading plane was knocked down by Nazi flak, half way to the target at Regensburg, the Fortress "Rount Trip" on which 1st. Lieut. Winston A. Heacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heacock of this city, was navigator, recently led the Eighth A. A. F. bombers through anti-aircraft fire and vicious fighter plane attacks to successfully bomb the Messerschmitt Aircrafts Components plant deep in southeastern Germany. Lt. Heacock charted the course of his group both to and from the strongly defended target.

MERRYWEATHER - WHITELAW WEDDING

Of interest to many friends in this city is the wedding of Miss Betty Merryweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merryweather of Long Beach, California, to Ensign Robert Whitelaw on February 27, at the home of her parents.

Mrs. Whitelaw and her parents made their homes here for many years before moving to California.

The young couple are now residing at Oak Harbor where Ensign Whitelaw is stationed.

Boot's Progress . . . . By Editor

The average "boot" upon entering his naval training station, is filled with a mixture of feels—uncertainty, uneasiness and plain fear is soon dispelled, leaving the recruit quite satisfied with a state of complete bewilderment.

In a few minutes you spend in the receiving station more happens to a person than you would think could possibly be done in several weeks. It is in this department you get the first glimpse and experience with navy efficiency and tempo. Raw recruits who have never before taken an order are lined up in formation within the receiving room. As soon as their papers have been found in order, the navy, in the person of some veteran of several months, gives a few crisp, concise orders. They are, briefly to discard all civilian effects brought with you—such as hair dressings, candy, combs, diaries, magazines, books—and to line up OVER THERE! Any questions on the part of the recruit are sharply dealt with. Then it happens.

The haircut! That is the one stroke that most quickly transforms the civilian into just another "boot." As haircuts go, this one is something special that has to be seen to be appreciated. A battery of six or seven barbers (?) await the line of recruits and within very few minutes those wavy pompadours or slick parts have vanished like magic. It is said the average haircut in this barber shop takes

With The Boys In The Service

Word has been received here that Toots Prater, who has been stationed in Australia was married to an Australian girl there March 13.

Henry Hoover, in a letter to his parents, says that he is now a gunners mate, 1/c.

Only one letter this week from you boys. What's the matter, afraid to write to the Missus? Just address them to the Editor, Chuck Dwelley. He is still editor, you know, and the only way we can keep track of you and how you are doing is through your letters. "Keep 'Em Coming."

Our letter this week comes from far off China where Joseph Bitonti is stationed. The letter follows: "Hi Chuck: Just a few words of good cheer and 'Ding Haw.' In China that means O. K. I have been receiving the Herald O. K. (Continued on Page 4)

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH FILINGS FOR 1944 PRIMARY

Declaration of Candidacy For Election Filed First Day by Both Parties

April 12 opened the political campaigns in Skagit county and the State of Washington. On that date filings began with the county auditor by candidates seeking nomination at the primary election, which will be held July 11 this year under the soldier vote bill, enacted by the recent special session of the legislature.

In Skagit county filings Wednesday, Arnold Nelson, Republican, from the first district, and E. C. Carr, Democrat, from the third district, had filed declarations of candidacy for reelection. Grant Sission, Republican, filed for the post of state senator from the 40th legislative district.

With the majority of the county offices holding over until the 1946 election, the bulk of interest is expected to lean toward the legislative posts.

Skagit Republicans will sound the opening guns of the new campaign on Saturday, April 22, when they meet in the Skagit county court house for their biennial convention. County Chairman James P. Kean will preside at the session which will open at 10 a. m.

Democrats have not officially announced the date of their county convention, although it was indicated that it would probably be held in Mount Vernon on the same day as the G. O. P. meeting.

PUBLIC HEARING TO BE APRIL 18

A public hearing on the school district reorganization proposal will be held at the Concrete school on Tuesday, April 18. The reorganization, plan which was defeated at the last voting, will be fully explained and the many advantages of the plan outlined. Meetings for the same purpose were held this week in Rockport and Marblemount. Vern Leidle, county superintendent of schools, attended the meeting and also will be present at the hearing to be held here.

The plan, which has the backing of the boards of directors of all the districts involved, would have many advantages for the school children, and make a fair sharing of cost of high school facilities and bus service possible. The reorganization would not raise taxes, as under the Forty Mill Limit law there is a ten mill tax levied on all real property to be used for the current operation of schools. Six mills of this goes to the grade schools in a non-high school area and the rest in a county non-high fund to be distributed in proportions to claims made by each high school. This fund is generally less than one-half the cost of educating the children in any consolidated school district. In the proposed reorganization this fund would be completely available for use by the district as a whole, to the advantage of all children.

Voting on the plan will take place April 22 between the hours of 1 p. m. and 8 p. m. Polling places will be at the Concrete school, Marblemount school house, Rocky Creek school, Birdview school and Rockport school.

Fire Permits to be Required After April 14

Starting April 15 and continuing until October 15, permits will be required for all outside slashing fires, burning of brush, land cleaning or camp fires, Harry Osborn, district fire warden, announced today.

Permits will be issued only for ten day periods, Osborn said. Debris should be piled and made ready for burning before application is made for the permit.

Permits can be obtained from H. E. McQueen, local fire warden, for the Concrete and up river communities and at the Forestry building in Sedro-Woolley for the part of the valley from Concrete to Sedro-Woolley.

Once again the question of school consolidation for the upper valley is coming up for vote. Past experience has been that such issues are seldom decided on merits, but rather on personal feelings and sentiment. The old school buildings are hard to abandon after many years of pleasant memories and few parents desire to send their children very far from home for schooling if it can be prevented. However, time moves along and with the speed of progress there are changes to be made. School consolidation is one of the changes that has become quite important in order to give all the youngsters the same advantages in schooling. In this modern world, larger modern schools offer a curriculum far beyond what can be obtained in the smaller districts. For one thing, teaching staffs provide greater facilities for individual instruction. Modern equipment fills other needs. Taken as a whole the larger, better equipped school can turn out better students at smaller cost than the smaller districts, while at the same time giving the students more opportunities, more variety of instruction and better preparedness for higher education. It's their future that comes first now.

This week the editor wishes to thank the merchants for the fine send-off. To read one's paper as the subscribers do is quite an experience and the full page dedicated to us brought quite a thrill when we read it miles from home. Our many years in Concrete have been for the greater part enjoyable and the fact that our stay there has been successful makes it more of a home town to us than any other. Like the other boys away from home, Concrete is tops among them all and like the other boys it can't be too soon until we are back again for peace and security.

War bond advertising is again being considered by the government, relieving the newspapers and private advertisers of the publicity burden. This is one newspaper that will welcome such a proposition. The full time of one editor is all we can afford to donate from now on.

We see by the paper that Wendell Willkie is out of the race for the presidency. That narrows it down a bit for the GOP. The "One World" retains its champion.

Multiple births are crowding the war news off the news pages. Creating life wholesale is a novelty, nowadays.

The Chaplin that once made the world laugh now makes the world a little sick at the stomach.

BACK THE INVASION

Railroads must have more men—more women.

As preparations go forward for the decisive assault on Hitler's Fortress of Europe, greater tonnages of war freight must be delivered on schedule to ports of embarkation. Troops must be moved swiftly and safely. The flow of materials to war industries must continue without interruption.

To do this job, railroads must have more men—more women.

6,000 Great Northern employees are in the Armed Services—most of them experienced railroad workers. All railroads are operating under similar handicaps—while handling more than twice the volume of traffic moved during the first World War. And the peak demand is still ahead.

Draft boards, as a whole, appreciate the importance of railroad jobs—have been cooperative. But to meet their quotas they have had to take men whom the railroads could ill afford to lose.

These employees must be replaced by other men and women who are not presently employed in war industries at their highest skills or in the production of food and other necessities.

Invasion days will be anxious days. They will be days when every true American will want to be doing something to support the sons, brothers, fathers and friends who will be fighting for footholds on Hitler's shores.

Back the invasion with a railroad job—a job with action.

Many jobs are open to men and women who have had no previous railroad experience.

BOOT'S PROGRESS

have to happen to a new recruit in the first few moments of his recruit training. He has yet to be enrolled, questioned, examined, inoculated and outfitted with all clothes and gear he will use during his stay at the camp. Normally you would think this could only be accomplished after several days. Not so, the system is such that several thousand recruits can be "processed" every day. A company of seventy-five or eighty men is a matter of minutes.

Minus hair a man feels naked enough, but they don't stop there. In a few moments you don't have a stitch of clothes and you watch them packed into a cardboard box for shipment home. Completely disarmed and without protection other than a sheet of paper and a small canvas bag containing your toilet articles, the first order is a good shower. The step into the shower room is like the one Alice

Silver Lake Scout Camp to be Reopened

The Silver Lake camp for Boy Scouts is to be re-opened this summer for Scouts in the Mount Baker Area, which includes Skagit, Whatcom and Island counties, according to arrangements made at the district meeting of the area council held in Bellingham recently.

Although the camp needs considerable building repair and clean-up work before it can be used, Scouts and Scouters in the area will be assigned to this work and will have the camp in shape by the opening date, July 9.

A district camporee, planned for all Scouts in the Mount Baker Area on May 20 and 21, will be preceded by a Scouter's meeting some time earlier in the month. Camp site for the three meetings will be announced later.

took through the looking glass—from then on things happen. Only this time there are hundreds of Mad Hatters shouting at you—do this, do that, step here, step there.

Again the assembly line system is put into action and men pass by one doctor after another, being checked for everything from everything from ears to toenails. At the end of the assembly line blood tests are taken and each man is given two inoculations, one in each arm and a vaccination as an extra prize. If he can walk after this—some of them don't—he goes on to the clothing department.

Outfitting is one of the miracles of training camp. The system has been perfected to the nth degree and a person is amazed at the dispatch with which he can be fitted from head to foot. Each man starts with a pair of socks, to protect his feet. Then he is measured for waist, chest and height. Armed with a slip of paper giving these details he starts down a long counter—first receiving a mattress cover to put his clothes in. As he passes the different shelves, one man calls out his size and another tosses out the required issue of clothing. As he catches them he puts on one set, so that by the time the end of the line is reached each man is completely dressed in dress blues. The strange part of the procedure is the speed and accuracy. Out of 100 men, the average wrong sizes to be exchanged is less than 10 pieces.

Once dressed in blues, you then strip and dress in whites and dungarees, have your entire issue piled in a certain way and naked as a babe trot along with them to the stenciling room where each piece is stamped with your name and company. There you find out for the first time the number of your company during your training. As your clothes are stamped you dress in the dungarees and blue demin shirts that will be your every day dress and are herded out to a loading platform to await transportation to your barracks.

You're actually and positively in the navy. If someone gave you the chance to go home, this is where you would grasp it like a drowning man.

WITH THE BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Enjoy reading it very much.
"We the alumni of the Concrete high school are proud of our series and honored to represent our team. By the good teaching we had, and coaching we had from a swell fellow, Brown Wiseman, the man who gave us our start in team work. We all salute you Brown. And to that charming woman, who taught this ex-Tech, Sgt. Joseph Bitanti. I want to thank her very much. To you Mrs. H. C. Ely, I hope to thank you some day in person. Yours very truly, Joseph Edward Bitanti."

Chuck reports that the navy is a swell place to be although it is no picnic. Following are a few excerpts from his letters: "I am writing now because we just had some shots in the right arm and it is already getting sore. By morning I probably won't be able to write."
"Today was selection day and are still way up in the air as far as what we will do. Interviews will be next—then they will decide. The fellow today said we would not know until we were assigned and given our orders. My choice today (we have four) was for 1. Quartermaster; 2. Control tower; 3. Fire control; 4. Torpedoman. The first is work on the bridge of a ship, steering supervision, etc. Second is control tower or directing take off or landing of airplanes on land or carrier. Fire control is directing of fire, range finding and target spotting. Torpedo man is maintenance of torpedo mechanism and such. Then again I may wind up in something entirely different. The above are schools and would mean further training."

"My arm is getting sorer by the minute and three guys have already got chills and fever and are feeling very tough. Hope I can get away without it."

"Time out to eat. Shrimp salad and spaghetti tonight. Not too bad. Guys are getting sick all over the place now—boys are those shots hitting. I'm still O. K., but my assistant just got it, so, I may be next."

Next Day: "Saturday night on the station and a big night for the boys in 390. We got off the well known list today and so were able to take advantage of ship service for the first time. I skipped chow to get over there early—ate two ham sandwiches and had a milkshake, then a half dozen doughnuts and a coke. By that time I had all I could hold. The rest of the time I spent upstairs in the library catching up on the Seattle Times, Life, Time and the New Yorker. They have everything you could ask for in the way of magazines—plus a swell library of the latest books. Also there are plenty of easy chairs to make reading a pleasure. I can see where I will be spending my spare time from now on."

"Today was our toughest yet. With almost the entire company sick or feeling bum from the shots yesterday, they gave us the works. We started with swimming in the morning. One full hour of intensive action. By the time we had finished the swim we were all almost ready to drop—so they had us put on a relay race for the last event. Then they informed us that we had to go upstairs by way of a rope net from the water. We went up 21 feet, came down to nine feet and jumped from there into the water again where we were to tread water until the signal was given. We finished up about ten minutes later.

"As if that wasn't enough we went right out and took a shower and changed into our gym trunks. This was for physical fitness. It consisted of one full hour of strenuous exercise. We bent, we jumped, we held our arms outstretched for ten minutes at a stretch, we did exercises we never thought existed until the sweat was pouring off like a running brook."

"The rest of our schedule included two hours of wig-wag signaling, an other hour of physical fitness. Our chief saw the shape we were in and talked them out of the exercises. The men were so tickled he could have had anything he wanted."

"So tonight the company is very quiet. Even the ones who went to ship service came back early. Some way I escaped the chills and fever and am just plain tired. Chuck."

Road Tinkering Is Costly...

To get the most out of motor funds pavements should be of CONCRETE

Actual figures from the 27 states which publish comparable records show that surface maintenance costs for concrete average only $97.18 per mile per year. For the paving material that makes the next best showing in economy the cost is almost double that of concrete. For all surfaces other than concrete, the cost averages 3 1/4 times as great—although concrete in general carries the heaviest traffic.

Concrete Costs Least

Concrete gives the greatest load-carrying capacity per dollar of cost. It is the safest road—skid-resistant, highly visible. And it saves large sums on maintenance. All good reasons why your new roads should be concrete.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday, Judge. Aren't you in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several counties where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise'."

"Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices", "Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck". Doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?"

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor...plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."
