

THIS & THAT

By H. L. D.

One of the mysteries of women that men have never been able to solve is the desire that comes over them every so often to move all the furniture and rearrange the house, thereby upsetting the comfortable routine of their off-work relaxation.

To hear most of the men talk about it one would think it a deliberate uprising against their comfort when in reality after a few evenings at home they are perfectly contented again in their new surroundings—and would have trouble telling just where things were before. We know whereof we speak as we have been a frustrated furniture mover all of our life, not letting even a grand piano daunt us when the mood was on. Our experience has taught us that only one piece of furniture must not be moved, short of complete rebellion—the bed.

No one enjoys getting up in the dark and heading for a door only to smash a nose into a wall that should have been on the right instead of the left.

Perhaps the most frustrating thing these days when the urge to change comes on, is the TV set. That monstrosity that few people want to be without these days, always takes up the best corner of the living room and all the chairs must be in a good position for the potential viewer. Also, a lot of work and money has gone into the indoor-outdoor connection so it must not be moved or it will have to be completely wired again. You would think this would stymie any housewife, but it doesn't. When the urge is on they may go so far as to rewire the set themselves. (It may not play, but it will get action out of the men folk before the next fight or football game just to lick the situation from their own standpoint.)

Actually we think it is a rebellion against inanimate furniture and four walls. The pesky thing must be cared for each day, dusted and polished and they give back little except their beauty or attractiveness of arrangement to compensate for this care. After dusting one chair, in one place, for months it suddenly becomes a challenge to arrange everything and start fresh again. It would be nice just to be able to move into a new house with new furniture for a change but as this is impossible for most of us we resort to moving as many pieces of furniture into as many new positions as possible! Relax men, it only happens a couple of times a year.

Smallpox Vaccination

The Concrete school will be offering smallpox vaccinations for all children in the district on Tuesday, November 10th. The vaccination program is sponsored jointly by the county health department, the schools and the doctors.

Vaccination is necessary about every four years for complete protection.

VACATION MARRED

A report has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamm, driving through Montana on vacation, had suffered an accident at Great Falls. Mrs. Hamm was hospitalized for treatment.

Barbara Jean Harris Dies

Barbara Jean Harris, 2 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Rockport, passed away Tuesday evening, Nov. 3rd at the Orthopedic hospital in Seattle. Graveside services will be held on Friday at 2:00 P. M. at the Union cemetery in Sedro-Woolley. Rev. Guy Morris will officiate.

Survivors are the parents; one sister, Julie Kay; and the grandparents, Harry Harris, Mrs. Marie Klingel of Concrete and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Rockport.

Episcopal Church Buys Old Rockport Depot

The old City Light Depot, long a landmark at Rockport, will enter a new phase of life soon. It will become the home of the St. Martin Episcopal Church in the upper valley.

The building was secured on a bid of $1200. It will be used in its present location for the winter, then moved next year to property donated to the church by the Ray Johnsons above Rockport.

SPAGETTI FEED SATURDAY

The Catholic ladies will put on their annual Spaghetti dinner at the grade school cafeteria this Saturday evening, Nov. 7th. They will hold a food and sewing sale during the afternoon, then serve the meal from 5:00 to 8:00 in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Iasia Cugini and Joe Luprano will act as chiefs in preparing the real Italian meal.

Hallowe'en Party Makes Fine Entertainment

The annual Hallowe'en party at the grade school Saturday night drew a crowd of about 400 young folks for the costume parade, show and feed. And again Concrete was treated to an almost pranks holiday.

The kids polished off 638 hot dogs, many gallons of cider and seemed to have the usual good time in their costumes during the festivities. Costume prizes were awarded as follows:

WITCHES—Kim Boury, Mike Myers, Vickie Whitt.

GHOSTS—David and Ann Barber, Billy Reese, Ruby Parker.

FUNNY—Steven Valentine, Pamela Pamela, John Guill.

CLOWNS—Billy Boger, Bryon and Liana Lynch; and Jane and Stephen Sansburn; Russell Homan.

STORY BOOK—Debra Ueland, Julie Wilkinson, Terry Tracy Davis and Wendy Wyman.

ANIMAL—Aja Smith, Becky Hornbeck, Robbie Meligan.

PRETTY—Judy Hopper, Pamela Hoffman, Linda Martin.

ORIGINAL—Bobbie Barr, Russell McGlenn, Jim Kinley and Leslie Gross.

FUNNIEST—Mike Donnelly, Vernon Garland, Linda Myers and Linda Goodman.

Largest entrant was Vernon Garland; smallest was Kelly Williams.

The program was sponsored by the Lions Club and Legion Post, with the help of the local merchants.

Next Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th, the all-school play, "Saved By The Belle," will be presented at the high school. There will be two performances, one in the afternoon for the students, and one at 8:00 P.M. in the evening for the public.

This year's play is a comedy farce that takes place in a sorority house. An inheritance from a rich uncle provides the trigger for setting off the amusing events that make up the plot.

The large cast is headed by Laura Lawson as Rita, the girl who inherits the fortune. Others in the play are Judy Pennington, Karen Gardiner, Diane Stokes, Merrill Williams, Caroline Malsbury, Geri Curry, Sharon Lynch, Barbara Mathis, Lyle Gerrits, Walter Remillard and Colen Verner.

The prop committee includes Sandra Gross and LeElla Scott; make-up Sandra Wilson, Jackie Glover, Kay Wittenberg and Will-yne Dickenson. Steve Scott is in charge of lighting with Bob Stafford, George Smith and Dale Williams as his crew. Keith Stadman is in charge of the staging with Leonard Hornbeck as assistant. Mr. Gillis' shop class will make the sets.

Sandra King in prompter and the "voice" is Steve Scott. Mrs. Henrietta Smith is the director.

Between acts the high school Swing Band, under direction of Durward Sobek, will entertain.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roper of Newhalem, John is also a member of the Order of the Arrow, an honorary organization for campers.

Court Of Honor Monday

Four other ambitious boys will be presented with "Star" awards for their work in Scouting next Monday evening, Nov. 9th, in a Court of Honor ceremony at Currier Hall, Newhalem. The boys are Billy Chase, Gary Mellom, Doug Clifford and Jack Wolff, all of Troop 78. Other awards will be presented for advancements in rank by other scouts.

In addition to comic and serious skits by the Scout Troop, slides of Black Mountain Camp and a film of the 1957 National Jamboree will be shown.

Principal speakers will be Mike Mazzone and Jerry Thorne. The ceremonies are open to the public and begin at 7:30 p. m.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Julius Schultze, 18 of this city and Miss Linda Gibs, 15, of Sedro-Woolley has been issued a license to wed. The license was issued at the county court house on October 30th.

Cunningham Takes Big Finney District Sale

L. G. Cunningham was high bidder last Wednesday at the U. S. Forest Service office in Bellingham on 8,300,000 board feet of virgin fire, cedar and hemlock in the Chute Creek area on Finney, in the Mt. Baker National Forest.

His total bid of $214,040.00 with $82.50 per thousand on the fir was one of the year's highest auction prices for old growth fir.

The seven other bidders on the sale were W. Janicki, Carlson & Gay, Three River Plywood, Superior Shake Company, Skagit Veneer & Lumber Company, Anacortes Veneer and Cascade Log.

Arm Crushed In Machine At Levaque Shake Mill

Dean Ledford, worker at the Levaque Shake Mill, was badly hurt last Friday when his arm was caught in a shake splitting machine. The hydraulic splitter makes the cut on the block and then returns upward, and in some way Ledford got his arm above the splitter head and it was severely crushed as the head returned to the top of the stroke.

The left arm was mashed below the elbow. He is now receiving medical care at the Memorial hospital.

One Dead In Car-Truck Crash

Young Driver Cut From Wreckage By Torch, Condition Still Critical: Clinton Yeager, 16, Dies At Hospital from Injuries; Truck Turning At Grasmere Crossing Struck From Side.

One young boy is dead and another lies critically injured in the hospital this week following a car-truck crash at the intersection of Highway 17-A and the Grasmere crossing to the blacksmith shop a mile beyond the city limits of Concrete.

Dead is Clinton L. Yeager, 16, year old Sophomore at Concrete high, who was taking a noon-time ride with a friend, Larry V. Gow, 19, of Index. Gow was driving west towards Albert's store, following a logging truck driven by Leon T. Gott of Marysville.

Gott was making the turn into the Grasmere crossing toward the scaling shed when the Gow car struck the log truck between the truck and trailer, sliding under and being crushed by the trailer reach as it dragged the car around the turn.

Yeager was removed from the wreck immediately and dispatched by ambulance to the hospital. Gow was trapped by his legs in the mass of twisted steel around the right door. It took Mac McGlenn and volunteer workers almost a half hour to cut the boy free with a welding torch.

Freed from the car, Gow was started toward the hospital in the rear seat of Dr. Monzingo's car. A second ambulance met them on the road and made the transfer.

Lives About 7 Hours

Young Yeager, badly crushed about the head and chest, died at 7:00 that evening. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yeager of the South Skagit. He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Allen and Franklin in the Navy at San Francisco; three sisters, Mrs. Louisa Wegers and Miss Joyce Yeager of this city and Mrs. Helen Jordan of North Carolina. A grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Yeager, lives in Sedro-Woolley.

Larry V. Gow, 19, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wold of Birds-view, and formerly attended school here, quitting recently to take a job at Index. Last reports Wednesday were that his condition was still serious, as he had "almost every bone in his body broken." His weakened condition has hampered full examination of all possible injuries.

The state highway patrol investigation listed the cause of the accident as excessive speed and inattention by the part of the driver of the car.

Sues City Light For Fall From Diablo Incline Lift

John T. Purvis of Bellingham, who fell from the lift at Diablo in August this year while on a visit to the City Light hydro-electric projects, is suing the City of Seattle for $201,536 in personal damages for injuries received.

Purvis filed suit Monday. He claims to have been disabled ever since the fall with back and ankle injuries.

Short Session For Town Council Monday Night

Council meeting was quiet and short Monday evening, the mayor sweating out possibility of lack of a quorum for some time before enough councilmen appeared. The main order of business was payment of necessary bills and a few reports.

Police court fines for the past month brought in a total of $112. The payment for the recent black-topping at crossings put the city street fund $2,109.51 in the red for the moment.

A letter was received from the sewer engineer, stating that he was interested in doing the work for the town, but had been unable to make a visit here. Arrangements were made for him to spend today looking over the situation, and meet with council members tonight.

Mrs. Ben Solomon was present to ask if the town would repair the private road on her motel property, as it was being used as a public thoroughfare in spite of all her efforts to post it. The town attorney ruled that the town could not legally maintain such streets and that it was the property owners responsibility to keep trespassers out.

A report was made of damage to the airport by cars breaking down fences and cutting up the air strip. A new section of fence and some grading was recommended.

MRS. M. E. LARSEN ILL

Mrs. Merce Larsen of Van Horn was taken to the Burlington hospital Wednesday morning by ambulance after she became suddenly ill at her home.

BABIES - BABIES - BABIES

On October 27th at the Memorial hospital a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Martin of Rockport. The little lad has been named Jack Douglas.

October 30th Mr. and Mrs. Ken Coone of Vashon Island welcomed a daughter, Allison, Marie, at the Memorial hospital. She weighed 8 lbs. 11 oz.

November 2nd a son, Steven Edward, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoover of this city. He arrived at 9:37 A. M., weighed 7 lbs. 8½ oz.

At Gorge Dam Down To Bedrock

A recent view of the excavation for Seattle City Light's second stage construction of the high Gorge Dam. The hole was 140 deep and the contractor, Merritt, Chapman & Scott, was nearing bedrock. Pouring of concrete on this section of the big dam is now under way.

It probably comes as unbelievable news that a cash-on-the-barrelhead start has been made on the North Cross-State Highway. With nearly two million dollars to be spent, even the most pessimistic are beginning to admit that someday we might have a car-width trail to Okanogan.

Lower valley partisans are having a newspaper fight over the juvenile department and its hopes to move into big time operation in the county. The commissioners are being berated for allowing (under protest) a $1,000 survey to be made by an organization dedicated to promoting large juvenile departments—and then failing to accept such a report as gospel. There is also much talk about lack of a juvenile department building to house our young criminals. To hear the talk, without investigation, one would imagine the county overrun with young hoodlums. Such is hardly the case. The 183 "bookings" of juveniles in the county jail last year included repeaters. Few were held any length of time and average number in the juvenile quarters at any time was less than five. No need to build a $300,000 facility for these. An attempt is made to include child welfare in the same category with delinquents. Here again the inference is made of overcrowding the jail. The state and county cooperate on foster home facilities for such cases and do not use the jail as a lodging place. Our commissioner reports no case where demands have exceeded the number of foster homes immediately available. Then there is the charge of filthy conditions and children being thrown in with criminals. Again a rather severe indictment of the law enforcement personnel, who are quite proud of their jail and its operation. We realize, and most people should, that much of the fuss is propaganda. Records are open to anyone, the sheriff is happy to show his jail, the commissioners are just as ready to talk facts and figures. What little problem we have now, or face in the future, is not going to be solved with hysteria. The approach of righteous indignation is acceptable only when justified.

The true test of pure cold courage is to hear your phone ring and deliberately not answer it.

VanDoren may have missed a few questions at the first legal quizzdown, but he came through with the right answers when the chips were down. And, as they say, confession is good for the soul, even if it ruins you financially.

In spite of the apparent disadvantages of quick riches, there are few who would not be willing to try to overcome them. The disrupting factor is not the opportunity, but the opportunists.

What's Going On At Newhalem And Diablo

Frank Farrand, City Light Veteran, Passes

Frank L. Farrand, 78, father of Milton "Mike" Farrand, communications foreman at Newhalem, died in Seattle last Tuesday after a long illness.

The elder Farrand was also a City Light worker, having been employed as lineman for 25 years before retiring in 1942. He was born in Minnesota, lived in Alaska for a time before coming to Seattle.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rex Madison of Seattle and his son, Mike, at Newhalem. He also leaves two sisters, and five grandchildren. His wife, Louise, died last December.

HALLOWE'EN FUN

The Diablo pre-schoolers, disguised as ghosts, goblins, black cats and witches enjoyed a Halloween party on Friday afternoon. Earlier in the day the older kids whooped it up in their class rooms and then paraded through the hall in their very clever costumes. On Friday night they were all around again ringing doorbells for "Trick or Treat."

MORE HUNTING SUCCESSES

Earl Lyerly got a spike buck Thursday on Davis Mountain, about a mile up from Ferry Bar bridge; a two-pointer was brought in by Dick Stretch who was hunting above Ross Dam with Jim Ritchie Friday; Marsh Rowland picked one off Friday, also on Davis Mountain near Ferry Bar. Gene McGill and Frank Young got one deer between them by the T.V. site above Diablo.

Mel Kays shot a nice deer near Gorge Creek on Sunday.

Walt Harrison and Wes Hotchkiss, who were hunting near Lake Chelan over the weekend, returned home Monday with a two-point.

Tex Clausen killed a spike deer between Newhalem and Diablo on Thursday and Webb Wenrich got a 4-point at the boat landing at Diablo.

Items Of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weller and family who have lived at Newhalem and Diablo for the past several years, moved last week to Seattle to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Child visited recently at Ferndale with Mr. and Mrs. John Byers.

Frank Powers drove to Seattle Monday to meet Mrs. Powers, who has spent the past few weeks visiting at Palm Springs, California.

Skip Barnhardt and family, who have been living in an apartment on Rock Hill for several years, moved last week into the house recently vacated by the Jack Devines.

Roy Hunziker of Snohomish visited Tuesday at the George Hunziker home.

Mrs. Thelma Roper of Spokane visited over the weekend with her brother, Mickey Howell, and other relatives here.

JIMMIE PRESENTS . . .

Let's all go over to the Kit Carson Cafe to celebrate my winnings! I'll treat you all to one of those Rare Beef sandwiches, which is made on garlic bread, has an au jus sauce and comes with a crisp tossed green salad! Let's Go!

NOT A JOKE!

For the second time in six months, bicycle spokes have been cut in Diablo. For the benefit of those young people who do not already know, a "prank" (a trick played on someone in fun) becomes "vandalism" (malicious or ignorant destruction) when other person's things are damaged.

We seldom spank (or thank)
The little lad who plays a prank:
But the other guys (any size)
We cannot stand who vandal-ize.

Hallowe'en Dance At Newhalem Proves Fun

Dancing to the music of the Nighthawks, over 200 people fully enjoyed themselves at the Annual Veteran's Club Hallowe'en Dance in Newhalem Saturday night.

First prize turkey for costume went to sisters Lorraine Robideau and Winnie Anderson, who were dressed and made up as Ubangis. Totem pole costumes were good for the second prize turkey for the Vic Hundahls. Six other merry-makers got the bird for holding lucky tickets.

Dance chairman Vic Bradley expressed the Club's appreciation for the large and enthusiastic turnout.

NEWHALEM NOTES

Mrs. Elsie Higgins of Sedro-Woolley visited Monday and Tuesday with her son Dale and family.

Charlie Drake was in the Memorial hospital for several days last week recovering from an appendectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cuthbert of Marblemount visited Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howell.

Marvin Schultz, accompanied by Kenny Miller of Seattle, left on Thursday for the Blue Mountains, where they will hunt for elk for several days.

Frances Johnson of Diablo was hostess at a pot luck luncheon at her home on Wednesday. Guests were Lillian Motz, Idella Swenson, Kathy Schultz, Ellen Wright, Delores Hundahl, Marie Morehouse, Vera Hunziker, Joyce Harrison, Dorothy Child and Bernice Klein.

Mr. Johnson of Anacortes was at Newhalem Workshop Monday evening to demonstrate a knitting machine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boddy of Diablo were in Seattle for several days last week.

Elliott Button, accompanied by Lou Ambrose of Seattle, spent a few days bird hunting near Ellensburg.

Mrs. Lucille Payne of Concrete was an overnight guest Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Howell.

Ray Gunderson of Burlington was transacting business and visiting friends in camp Thursday.

SURPRISE VISIT

Surprise birthday greetings were delivered in person to Gladys Lindblom when daughter Karen and friends arrived from Seattle for the occasion Sunday, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boulton of Concrete. The celebration included dining out down the valley.

Miss Lindblom is teaching second graders at Shoreline Grade School in Seattle.

PISTOL CHAMP BILL NEWBY

Bill Newby Home From Army Duty With Honors As Expert Sharpshooter With National Pistol Team

Specialist Fourth Class William C. Newby who enlisted in the U. S. Army in October, 1957, and is now home again with his discharge, closed his army duty by becoming an outstanding member of his command's pistol team. After only three months of intensive training he performed at the National Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, and not only took six individual awards, but finished second in the nation with the .38 caliber pistol.

Newby was picked to represent his major subordinate command in the Commanding General's Pistol Matches at Ft. Eustis, Va. His performance there led to his selection as a member of the Small Arms Marksmanship Board for further training as a member of the Fort Eustis Post Pistol Team.

There he took complete charge of the reloading program, which enabled the post team to perform at peak ability. He is a member of the National Rifle Association and holds its rating as pistol expert.

During army duty Bill Newby completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colorado; then went to mechanics school at Fort Knox, Ky. From there he was placed on duty in the Arctic group, seeing service at both Goose Bay, Labrador, and Thule, Greenland. Upon his return to the United States he was assigned to the 123rd Transportation company until May of this year when he began his pistol training.

Newby was a star high school athlete at Concrete and makes his home at Marblemount where his wife, Andrea, awaited his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Farrand were in Seattle for a few days last week to make arrangements and attend the funeral of his father, who passed away last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Child drove to Seattle Sunday where he had a medical appointment at Virginia Mason Clinic Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Menne were in Seattle for a few days visit with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Blaine and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ray and daughters spent the weekend in Seattle with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blaine.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Minch are now driving a new Nash Rambler station wagon, purchased last week down the valley.

Mrs. Lois Ehle and sons of Kirkland were in camp for several days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gay.

Mrs. Paul Gay had the misfortune to cut her hand badly Tuesday. Several stitches had to be taken in the wound.

Looking About

By Mrs. Charles Stone

Keith Gardiner and Loyal Kloes spent the weekend at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ell Kell of Seattle visited Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. George Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. Merce Larsen of Van Horn returned last week from visiting the past three weeks in Arcata, Calif. with their daughter, the Norman Smiths. Enroute home they visited at Bonneville with Mr. and Mrs. David Larsen and at Troutdale, Oregon, with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Orr and family of Tacoma spent the weekend at the Art Orrs and Ervin Schraders.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Joy and family visited at Lake Stevens Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Day.

Mrs. Victor Anderson and children spent the weekend at Carbonado with her folks, the Roy Dickinsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sydenham of Upper Baker were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hicks. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Larson, Karen Nelson and Danny Garde of Bellingham. Plans were made for the "Pioneers for Christ Retreat" to be held this weekend, Nov. 6th, through Nov. 8th at Langley.

The next meeting of the Faculty Wives will be on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Neil Munn.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boulton were in Yakima Wednesday where Mr. Boulton attended a conference for state school principals.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Thosath and Terry spent an enjoyable Sunday afternoon on an air tour of the upper Skagit power dams. Joe Morgan of the Skagit Air Club flew them over Baker, Upper Baker, Gorge, Diablo and Ross dams and around Glacier Peak, and then on an extended sight-seeing tour of the Cascades, going as far as the Canadian border. They ended the trip by passing over Mt. Baker and looking down into the steaming volcanic crater. Upon returning home they were later "buzzed" by Morgan's plane passing over the house as he returned to the Bay View Airport. He was blocked out by fog there and had to return to the Concrete field, leave his plane and go back home by car.

OVERHEARD IN THE LUBE ROOM

A motorcyclist was speeding down a back woods road past a mountaineer's shack.
The old mountaineer who had never seen a motorcycle turned to his wife and said, "Lawd'amighty Suzy, looka that." And with that he raised his rifle and started firing away.
"Get him, Jed?" asked his wife.
"Hit the varmint, but didn't kill it," he replied. "I kin still hear it growling . . . but I shor made it turn that pore fella loose."
