

THIS & THAT

By H. L. D.

For years our out-of-town friends have asked us why we stay in such a little town, hidden in a mountain valley. It is always hard to explain our real reasons. Gene and Mary Brommer got a glimpse of one of the reasons Tuesday evening when a large group, made up of loggers, mill owners, business men, employees, and just plain citizens of the town, friends all, met at the Legion hall to tender them a rousing farewell party! They were deeply touched by the honor and commented on the fact that of all places their work had taken them, this was the first time they had ever been given a party to show how they would be missed in community life.

The group spent the evening in visiting and dancing, which was followed by a pot luck supper arranged by the hostesses. A large decorated cake was the highlight of the supper hour. On it's top was a perfect little log made of cake and frosting and marked with the Brommer brand on the end. This, he said, he would take with him, along with his caulk boots and his power saw, to remind him of his stay here and the timber business he has followed for so many years. He will enter another line of work in California and we all wish he and Mary the best of luck in their new endeavor.

Another reason for our staying is a deep faith in our town and it's future growth. After thirty years of riding the tides of boom and seeming bust, most of us are still here and solvent. Not getting rich as some people count riches, but living a life rich in the experience of real living. It is only in a small town that you get to know people, work with them for the common good, feel their failures with them when after a lot of heartbreaking work a project fails. And to see them rise again out of the ashes of disappointment, to start again at the beginning. Count the Booster Clubs we have had, think back to the good things they have accomplished for Concrete and the valley—their rise and fall. But always when the town gets down again, another group of men of this caliber comes to the fore. Don't ever lose faith in a town that can span men of this kind! Join them, add your experience and judgement, your ideas and your support. A small organization of overworked men have in the past boosted town morale and accomplished many things. Think what could be done with the backing of ALL it's citizens.

Evidence that our town is becoming modern was very plain this week as an official postal drop box was placed on the wall between the bank and post office. Last week's vandalism had forced the post office to be closed to box renters after the postal crew left evenings and weekends at it was feared our old-fashioned treatment of letters mailed after hours might lead to deeper trouble. An old home-made box had been hung inside the mail slot by the crew as the left the office each night. Anyone too lazy to walk into the office and put the mail in the indoor slot, just tossed it into the box behind the door—even though it could be picked up by anyone inside the lobby.

Being an essentially honest community, nobody worried about it and there was never any trouble before. Rather a shame that the reason for our gaining a new convenience had to be the loss of trust in our youngsters.

Cash & Carry Lumber Co. Closes Yard Here

The Cash & Carry Lumber Yard, operated here for the past six years by Wally Warm as a branch of his Sedro-Woolley lumber yard, was closed Monday of this week and stock will be returned to the home yard.

Business conditions here did not warrant continuing with operation of a yard in this community. Don Wertz, manager, will be employed at the Sedro-Woolley yard.

Mrs. Maude Mangini Dies On Wednesday

Word was received here Wednesday afternoon at press time of the passing of Mrs. Maude Mangini, long time resident of this community. Mrs. Mangini died at Memorial hospital at 1:00 that afternoon after an extended illness that had brought her back to the hospital many times in recent months.

Mrs. Mangini had made her home in Concrete and the upper Skagit at many times during the past 33 years. She was married to Gene Mangini, Stone & Webster construction worker, in recent years. Funeral services will be held in Sedro-Woolley at 1:00 Saturday.

Death Comes To Don Eldridge

Death closed the career of Don Eldridge of Marblemount Sunday. He had been ill for a long time and had been awaiting the end at the Skagit View Rest Home in Mount Vernon for several months. Mr. Eldridge was a veteran member of the Upper Skagit school board and an active worker in all civic affairs in Marblemount, where he had been a resident since 1942.

Mr. Eldridge was born Sept. 25, 1913 at Cedar Hill, New Mexico. He was married to Wanda Hyatt at Durango, Colorado on Sept. 4, 1930.

Funeral services will be held at the Assembly of God church at Marblemount Friday, March 4th, at 1:00 P. M. with Rev. Joel Gunderson and Rev. Frank Schoonover in charge. Burial will be made at the Hawthorne Lawn cemetery in Mt. Vernon.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Deanna Cowan; and a son, Stuart, at Marblemount. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Eldridge of Durango, Colorado, also survive him. There are three brothers, Floyd of Durango and Fred and Claude of Marblemount; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Metz of Durango and Mrs. Pauline Strand of Everett. There is one grand-daughter.

In summing up Don Eldridge's contribution to his community, a tribute from Mervyn Peterson of Marblemount seems to fill the need of more than notice of his passing.

"Marblemount has truly lost a great friend in the passing of Don Eldridge. Never in the history of our little town has any one man been as active in community projects as 'Red' was. Helping to form the Boy Scouts here, also playing a big part in forming the Marblemount Community Club, staying very active and helping it along as his health permitted. He also helped form and was active in the local P. T. A.

"Red never seemed to tire at working for something he believed in. After working all day at one job, he would go home and do the chores of running a dairy herd, then often go off to some meeting or local doings where a helping hand was needed.

"Don was a staunch supporter of the Assembly of God Church. He has served on the school board for a number of years and although all of us did not always see eye to eye on every issue with him, he was always open to suggestions. Of men like this you can only say, 'They don't make 'em like that any more.' All of us feel Don was far to young to die, and in closing I would like to say, 'He was one of the best, he deserves a rest.'"

FATHER-DAUGHTER

There was a Father-Daughter banquet for the Rainbow Girls in Sedro-Woolley Saturday night. Attending from here were Durward Sobek and Marilyn; Ray Drake and Carolyn Florence; Ray Ross and Shirley; Jerry Clements and Glenda; Loren Scott and LeEtta; Clarence Kempkes and Susan; Jim Boury and Linda and Mr. Carlson and Kristy.

DOUBLE TRUCK LOAD OVERTURNS AT SAUK

A truck and a trailer filled with shakes jammed the up-river highway for a time yesterday afternoon when a van truck and trailer driven by Vernon L. Glover of Redmond flipped onto its side just east of the Faber ferry turn-out about 3½ miles from Concrete.

The truck was negotiating the winding and dipping highway at that point when, swinging wide for an oncoming truck, the trailer went over the shoulder with the rear wheel. It broke loose, flipped over on its side, throwing the truck into a spin that landed it on its side on the other side of the road.

Driver Glover and passenger Robert Wright were unhurt, but the equipment was badly damaged. The trailer was figured a total loss. Front wheels on the truck were snapped from the axles and the van badly crumpled. The load of shakes was transferred to other trucks before the wreck could be righted and moved away. One way traffic was necessary until about 9:00 in the evening.

Damage to truck and trailer was estimated at about $10,000. The truck was owned by Harry W. Molotte of Edmonds. The driver was cited for negligent driving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bricka announce the birth of a daughter, Sarah Charlotte, on Friday, Feb. 26th, at the Skagit Valley hospital. The little lady weighed 6 lbs. 6½ ounces and joins a little sister and a little brother.

Rockport Bake Sale

The Rockport P. T. A. will hold their annual Bake Sale in May, on the Friday before Mother's Day. It will be May 6th and at this time they also plan to have a bazaar. They are hoping for donations of things from everyone in the area. Articles made for the bazaar may be left with Mrs. Shirley Worley or Mrs. John Beaman.

Two Killed In Sauk Wreck After Driver Bailed On Drunk Arrest

Two Darrington men were dead this week in spite of State Patrolman Stu Reynolds effort to keep them off the highway while under the influence of liquor. The dead men are Charlie Nations, 43, of Darrington, and John Jones, a visitor from N. Carolina. Nations was killed instantly when his car hit a tree on the South Skagit road near the Finney Creek road intersection. Jones lay badly injured in the wreck for ten hours before the accident was discovered. He died Monday of injuries and shock.

The tragic turn of the story is that Saturday afternoon Reynolds had stopped the car on the highway near Lyman and had arrested Mr. Nations for drunken driving. He was given the drunkometer test at Burlington, checked out with a .303 (.150 is considered intoxicated) and booked at county jail in Mount Vernon at 6:40.

At 6:45 the man was out on bail. About 10:00 that evening he was dead in an accident in which his car left the road at high speed.

The patrolman saw the men leave the court house and take a taxi, but was called on other duties and was unable to check to see if they were returning to their car. When he found time to check, the car was gone and he was unable to locate them on the highway.

Martin Discovers Error In Rainy Pass Elevation

Senator Fred Martin, boosting for the North Cross-State Highway, is overlooking no angle that can be used to further the road. In a recent map carried by several of the papers, the elevation of Rainy Pass was listed as 6942 feet—an unusually high figure for a highway route. A check of the facts revealed that this was greatly in error. The correct elevation is but 4860 feet above sea level.

Mr. Martin also checked the exact distance from Marblemount to Mazama (on east side) and found it to be 76 miles—an easy one and a half hours drive when the road is completed.

Blue & Gold Dinner Held At Marblemount

The annual Blue & Gold dinner for the Cub Scouts and their parents was held at the Marblemount school on Sunday. The committee mothers had decorated the hall in the traditional colors for a lovely setting.

The speakers of the evening were Judge Arthur Ward of Mt. Vernon and Jerry Thorn from the Mt. Baker Boy Scout Council in Bellingham. Al Gross entertained with magic tricks.

About one hundred and twenty-five saw the Cubs received their awards. Also honored were Den Mothers Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Hendrickson and Mrs. Martin, who received gifts.

There were five boys who received their Webelo awards: Pat Wortendyke, Gary Roetman, Pat Gross, Carl Hendrickson and Mike Judd. There will be a Webelo den form for them under the direction of Al Gross.

Bob Cat awards went to Timmy Finnigan, Mathew Cassette, Jerry Johnson, Mike and Clifford Howland and Bob and Joel Gunderson. Gary Roetman received his Bear award and Wolf awards went to Bruce Blankenship, Randy Wood, Dale Case and Kim Martin.

The dinner itself was a pot luck with food management under the direction of Ann Blankenship.

REBEKAHS ARE HONORED

The Concrete Rebekah lodge met Tuesday evening for the installation of Past Noble Grand Alta Ford. She presented the lodge with a beautiful dove and a nice filing cabinet. Sig Johnson was presented a nice gift from the lodge for her many years as musician. The lodge is planning a Cinderella Style show and luncheon for March 21st.

HEART FUND COLLECTIONS

The "Heart Sunday" contributions to the Heart Fund Drive here in Concrete last Sunday netted a total of $187.60.

Municipal And School Contests On Ballot For Tuesday Election

Next Tuesday, March 8th, will be election day throughout the state for school and municipal candidates. In Concrete the voters will have three mayors to choose from, plus two complete slates of councilmen. In the school election there are contests on two of the three positions up for balloting.

Voting for the municipal election will be at City Hall, Concrete, where 456 voters are eligible to cast a ballot. For the school vote the patrons will vote at their nearest grade school, or at the Birdview Grange Hall for that area. The polls are open 8:00 to 8:00 for the town election; 1:00 to 8:00 for the school.

Jay Thompson Heads Boosters

The Concrete Booster Club got off the ground in another flight to greater things Monday night when some fifteen citizens gathered for a spirited discussion of problems of the community that needed the attention of a civic group.

The final result was selection of Jay Thompson as chairman; Fred Shular, alternate chairman; Don Ross, secretary and treasurer; and Bob Mitchell, alternate.

First projects in the line of sights will be enlargement of the Lion's Club Dalles Park. Study is also to be made of a program to speed up installation of forest service and state park facilities in the district, with another committee to look into possibility of getting a motel installation here.

The club will now meet regularly on the 2nd and 4th Monday of each month.

The club was last reorganized in March of 1954 when the matter of securing small timber sales for valley loggers needed attention. The club at that time rounded up 120 members and accomplished the job.

Second Session Ready For Kindergarten Kids

Another session of Kindergarten will be held at the Concrete grade school starting on March 9th. The schedule will be the same as for the early school-term session.

Parents who has a beginner who was five years of age on Oct. 31, 1959, may enroll them in this class. Application may be made at the office of Howard Boulton, the grade school principal.

NEW PATROL NUMBER

State Patrolman Stu Reynolds recently moved to a new residence in Birdview and with the move came a new phone number. To call him now use VA 6-3868.

MUNICIPAL CONTEST

Interest in the town election is centered around the mayoralty choice between Fred Miller, owner of The Hub; Lowell Peterson, former councilman and Texaco Oil Distributor; and Jay Thompson, building contractor.

In the council race there are six candidates for the three vacant 4-year terms and two candidates for the single 2-year post. For the 4-year positions the candidate are:

HAROLD KLOES
ART PHILBRICK
KENNETH SULLIVAN
MARTIN SPARGO
WAYNE SQUIER
WAYNE WILLIAMSON

For the 2-year term:

KENNETH ELLENBERGER
KENNETH ROBERTSON

The candidates were nominated in caucus with party labels, but new election laws state that all will be under the same heading in alphabetic order, thereby eliminating the intriguing label of "Honest Party", "People's Choice", etc.

No matter who is elected, a complete new city government will be in prospect as only one member (Joe Finden) holds over from the present council and none of the incumbents are running again.

SCHOOL CANDIDATES

The school election also promises to be interesting, although no burning issues have yet been advanced by the candidates to fan public controversy into a hot flame for election time.

In District No. 1 Incumbent V. D. Bates is opposed by Colin R. Thompson. This is the Birdview district.

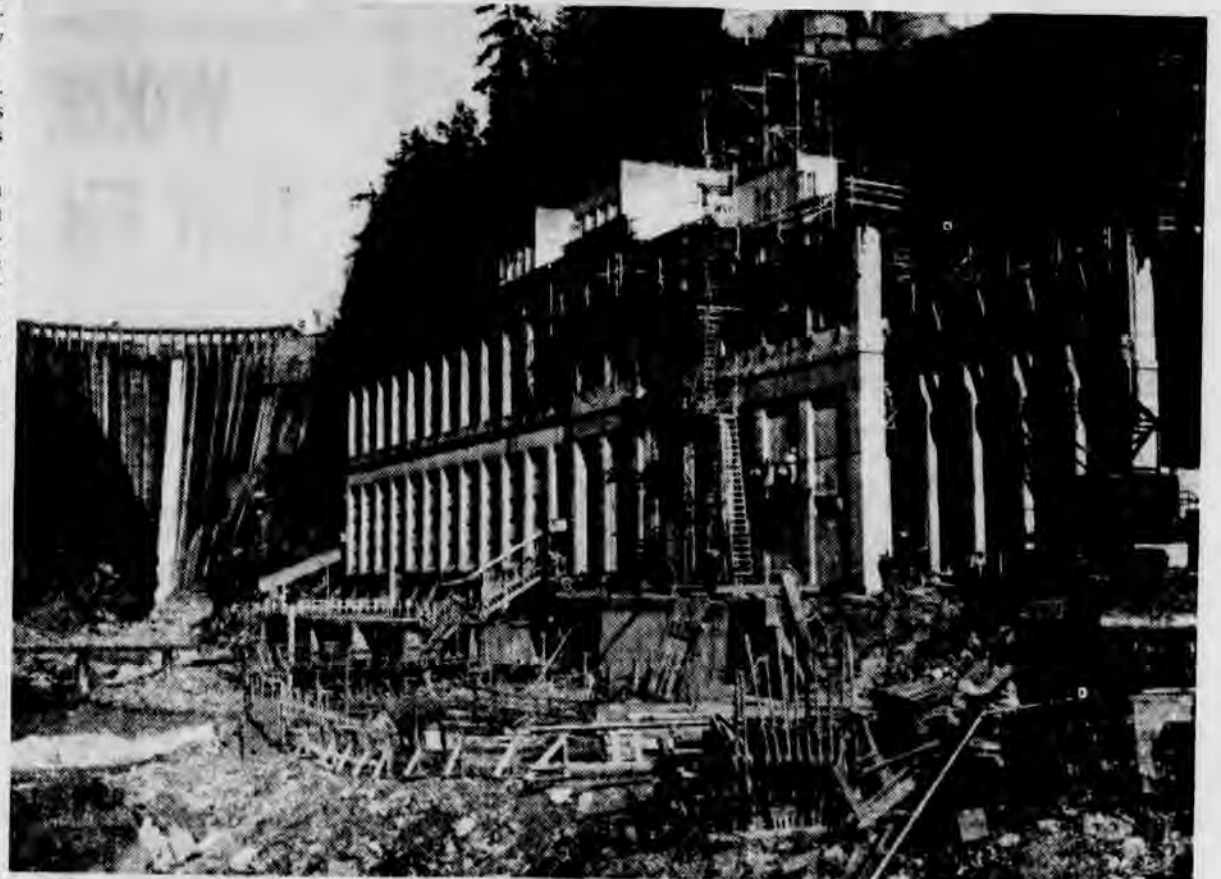

At Marblemount a three-way contest developed between Thomas R. Buller, Mervyn Peterson and Heyward Cowan. This is the post vacated by the resignation of Don Eldridge, who died on Sunday.

The lone man unopposed is John S. Livie, present school clerk, who has Director Post No. 3 in Concrete. All positions carry a four-year term.

Voters in all districts will vote on all candidates. In addition they will cast ballots for candidates for the County Board of Education. In this there is no opposition. R. T. Reep is the Mt. Vernon candidate and Mel Holland seeks the Anacortes position.

Kathleen Gross Still In Top Honors Group

Miss Kathleen Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gross of Sauk, has been named to the fall honor roll at Lewis & Clark College at Portland. There were 69 students listed as having a grade point average of 3.50 or better, with a study load of 15 hours of more. Miss Gross is a freshman chemistry major.

New Powerhouse Is Rising To Completion

The new Lower Baker River Powerhouse project moves along at a good pace in spite of the bitter cold weather of the past week. The project is now about 60% completed and it is expected that the job will be finished up late this fall. The new powerhouse is an extension from the original building built back in 1925.

Who was the good samaritan? The state patrolman who took the drunken driver off the highway and booked him in jail—or the bondsman who immediately set him free on bail so that he could continue his unthinking and irresponsible drive to death? A fatal accident here over the weekend once more brings up the question of just whose life and liberty is at stake when a drunken driver is apprehended. Is his freedom so important that he should be allowed to kill himself, or would he be best served by a common-sense restraint. The law make no distinction as to condition of intoxication in issuance of bail. It should. In this case a bail release turned a potential killer loose on the highway just minutes after he had been stopped to prevent such a thing from happening. As fortune would have it other motorists escaped the menace, but it could have been otherwise. What alcohol does to a driver's reasoning is well known. What such cases do to legal reasoning is a mystery. It's enough to drive the law enforcement officers to the bottle themselves.

We were surprised at the amount of energy and enthusiasm engendered by a few sunny weekends. At our place we happily report all yard work caught up to October—of last year.

Tuesday's election will brook no excuses to those who constantly complain of "no contests". Both the town and school ballots will have ample choice for the voter. No cut and dried endorsement necessary, but a free choice between men of different personality and abilities. This is what makes the game worth the trip on Tuesday. Put in your nickle's worth.

Men shoppers are the best, say grocers, because men have a flair for picking up those extra, expensive delicacies that practical women ignore. And the men can do it without having to explain to some husband why the grocery bill is so high.

The Booster Club showed a spark of life Monday night as it became apparent that even a little enthusiasm is better than the carefully nurtured gloom that has been so populary here of late.

Even the March lion needs a psychiatrist. He came in Tuesday, confused and uncertain, with a bit of cold, a bit of wind, a bit of warm sunshine and a bit snow. Crazy mixed-up myth.

The more people predict something will replace the horse, the firmer the horse gets established in the role of just being a horse. Latest comment is that the airplane and parachute will replace the pack-horse. Relieve maybe, but not replace. There isn't anything that can beat a horse for tenderizing a 200 lb. pack of trail groceries with a well-executed roll in the dust.

It may not be true that we evolved from monkeys but every once in a while someone substantiates the theory by making an issue of it.

In proposing talks between Cuba and the United States, Castro had language trouble. What he means is that he will do the talking and he wants us to listen.

May we be the first to suggest that February 29th be made a national day of some kind—say the day to file income tax returns.

Cost of living has dropped again for the second month in a row. Don't panic yet, maybe somebody in Washington has goofed again.

"Of course," she replied. "They're my husbands night-caps."

Boy Scouts Hold Camp Session In Winter Cold

Boy Scout Troop 78 of Newhalem held a "Primitive Campout" last weekend near Baker Lake. Winter notwithstanding, nineteen Scouts with Assistant Scout Leader Roy Clifford and Junior Assistant Leader John Roper, built their own lean-to's and cooked their meals over open campfires. Saturday evening was spent around a council campfire. Sunday some of the boys participated in a "Lost Child" hike, in which they were to find the "child" from trail signs and construct a stretcher from available materials for carrying "him" out. The outing came to a rather subdued halt when the capacity of the Troop's bus was found to be insufficient some four miles from home. However, two of the boys got a ride to Newhalem and came back with gas and the Troop finished the trip in style.

QUALITY CEMENTS FOR EVERY CONSTRUCTION NEED

As always, the main topic of interest on the upper Skagit is how things are progressing on the new Gorge dam. With pouring of concrete around the clock, the structure seems to rise while you look at it. This latest picture was taken last week by E. L. Simcox, our Diablo Reporter. Up she goes!

NEWHALEM-DIABLO NEWS—

Know Your Neighbor...

E. E. BARNETT

Upper Skagiters who haven't seen too much of the rest of the world can get a lot of satisfaction out of E. E. (Barney) Barnett's statement, "There's no place I'd rather live," because Barney is qualified to speak on the subject, having seen most of the "other places" there are.

A trip from Hamilton, Montana, where he was born December 3, 1914, to Aberdeen, Washington at the age of three set the pattern for his future wanderings, although after about a year there and another in Bellingham he settled for some 20 years in Burlington. It was there he went through school, being graduated from Burlington high school in 1934. It was also while there that he courted Miss Helen Pulliam of Mt. Vernon, who became Mrs. Barnett October 29, 1935.

After a few years in that area, during which period Jolene (now Mrs. Merle Cordray of Big Lake) and Judy (Mrs. Howard Clark of Marblemount) were born, the family moved to California where Barney went to work as a riveter for Douglas Aircraft. Working up to lead man, Barney stayed there some four years, buying a home in Venice and adding Janice and Jerry (now Concrete high school students) to the family. However, this pleasant life was interrupted right after Christmas, 1944, when ignoring deferment, Barney joined the Maritime Service.

After two months training at Catalina Island he shipped out as Engine Room Oiler on a tanker to start an extended Pacific cruise in which he stopped at Singapore,

Japan, Iran and the Philippines among other places, and passed through the Panama Canal. This pleasure cruise ("Boy, was that living," says Barney) came to a violent end in 1946 when his ship, the S. S. Sackett Harbor, broke in two in a storm when they were four days out of Japan. Miraculously no lives were lost in the mishap, although ten men had to be rescued from the sinking forward section. Barney, with the rest of the crew aboard the stern half, brought that portion to Alaska under its own power, where it was put into service as an isolated power plant for Anchorage until power was made available from an interior source. A few years ago the ship was sold to a firm which put on a new bow and recommissioned it. One of Barney's neighbors, E. L. Simcox, Sr., was instrumental in this sale. It's a small world.

Receiving his discharge in Seattle soon after, Barney lived briefly in Mount Vernon, then moved back to California until 1948, when he again moved his family to Washington, helping his parents operate their dairy ranch near Ellensburg. After about a year the Skagit beckoned again, and they returned to Burlington where Barney worked in the Post Office until 1951, when he started with City Light as a Laborer working out of Newhalem. The variety of work in this position was real spice for Barney, who worked on anything and everything from Rockport to Ross Lake. However, desire for advancement got the better of him, and he became a clerk in the Newhalem Commissary, where he worked until his appointment as Assistant Commissary Manager in 1957, which required his moving to Diablo. "Not a bad requirement," says Barney today. "Diablo is also a pretty nice place to live."

Barney comes by his principal hobby, flying, naturally. In the early 30's his father, F. L. Barnett, operated a flying service out of Burlington, flying brave passengers in surplus World War I Jennies; this was one of the few flying services in the country in those days. A grandfather before he could find time to fly, Barney figured an old dog could indeed learn new tricks, took lessons and was licensed in 1956. He bought an interest in a plane, but later sold out. He is looking forward to buying into another in due time. Living on the Skagit and flying his own plane, he feels, will make life perfect.

Cards were played during the afternoon with Vera Hunziker winning first prize and Kathy Schultz the consolation prize. The honor guest was presented with a going-away gift.

Explorer Scouts Enjoy Bellingham Weekend

Members of Explorer Post 78 of Newhalem were treated to a fine weekend when they traveled to Bellingham Saturday for a preliminary swim meet with members of Bellingham's Explorer Post 104. Although they lost the meet, they were treated so royally by the victorious hosts that even defeat was not bad to take. The boys will nevertheless be in there stroking when they meet again March 12th during the Explorer's Rendezvous at Ault Field on Whidbey Island.

After the swim meet and a sumptuous meal the boys danced to the music of the "Frantics" at "Blow-down Donovan's" (a teenager dance hall), where they were well received by the local belles. While accommodations had been arranged for the entire Post, only six of the boys could take advantage of their hosts' offer to stay over; these lucky six were treated to a conducted tour of the submarine "Sea Fox" on Sunday.

The trip to Bellingham was the first activity in which any of the cars were driven by the Explorers themselves. R. A. Thompson, Advisor to the Post, says that although he gave no instructions on driving to the boys, they drove well and carefully. "I am very proud of their adult driving on this trip," said Mr. Thompson, "and will encourage having the boys drive on outings when they respond to responsibility in this manner."

Since being re-chartered a month ago, Post 78 has become very active and has added six new members, some from Concrete. In addition to other activities the boys are actively engaged in rejuvenating one of the boats turned over to them recently by Boy Scout Troop 78 of Newhalem. They plan to have both boats on Diablo Lake early this summer.

Jack Berry, who lives east of the mountains, was visiting with old friends in camp for a few days last week.

"PERCE STRINGS" by Cascade Supply

LET'S TALK ABOUT BUILDING WITH ECONOMICAL PLYWOODS—

We carry a very good stock of plywood, and there is a very good reason for this. Plywood has proven the most popular and most economical, labor-wise, building material yet devised for the everyday home owner-builder. A strong panel of smooth surface that can be worked into handsome cabinets, furniture or remodeling projects.

A minimum of tools are needed to do a creditable plywood job. It goes together quickly in absence of tedious joining and fitting problems. It is a popular lumber item and goes as part and parcel with our hardware stock as a "must" for the home carpenter.

We like it, too, for it's easy to handle and store. Easy to sell, too, because we have equipment to quickly saw to perfect measurement any size piece you need. Buy plywood, we sell it.
