H. L. D.'S COLUMN—

THIS & THAT

Chuck says so many of you ask about me, (Thank you) and he doesn't know just what to answer. Well I am living the "Butterfly Life". This was always Gar Green's name for a trip in the hills, fishing and just loafing. That's me. No fishing yet, although there is a pier out in the Ocean close by—but loafing, my Doctor said, was a time for a change, a thorough rest, sun and eating someone else's cooking. My Sis, Marie, (Many of you became acquainted with her when she nursed me through a blood clot in my leg at the Mertz place) is a very good cook. I have gained about three pounds already! Hope to pick up several more before I come north again.

Chuck kidded about the last time I was down and it was cold here and the valley enjoyed wonderful weather. But it has held 68 degrees to 70 degrees here and sunshine every day. Some early morning clouds, and some wind off the Ocean, to temper it but otherwise perfect. My tan is coming along fine and will be brown as a berry before I see you.

Marie and Hardy live in a trailer and just my clothes were a problem to solve so rented a little 12 foot trailer they keep for visitors and so have a little hideaway, too, to snatch a nap in or sleep at night. And very important, a gas stove so I can make a cup of coffee.

This is just one of thousands of trailer parks in Southern California. They range from ones like Bing Crosby's for the very wealthy to the ones for retired people on social Security. This one is very nice and neat but can you imagine 54 trailers in a space of about a block and yet each with paved patio to be covered with awnings for out door living, small yards either a riot of flowers or baked adobe, according to peoples inclinations, and a place to park your car? Lots of widows, widowers and older couples make up the population. No kids or pets and a sort of a curfew on any noise from 10:00 p.m. until 8:00 a.m.

A place for quietness, rest and sleep. Just my speed about now. See you before too long.

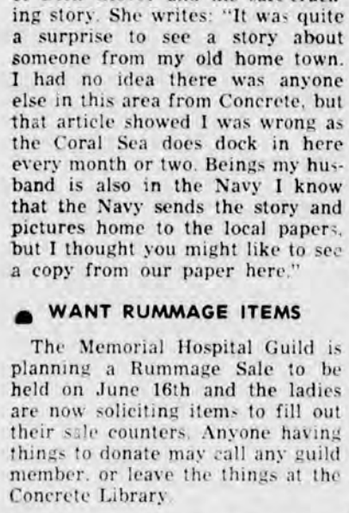
A LETTER was received this week from Mrs. John Dorcey (Eleanore Rhodes) from the Naval Air Station at Cubic Point, Philippine Islands, in which she enclosed a clipping from "Stars And Stripes" of Dick Glover and his safe-cracking story. She writes: "It was quite a surprise to see a story about someone from my old home town. I had no idea there was anyone else in this area from Concrete, but that article showed I was wrong as the Coral Sea does dock in here every month or two. Beings my husband is also in the Navy I know that the Navy sends the story and pictures home to the local papers, but I thought you might like to see a copy from our paper here."

● WANT RUMMAGE ITEMS

The Memorial Hospital Guild is planning a Rummage Sale to be held on June 16th and the ladies are now soliciting items to fill out their sale counters. Anyone having things to donate may call any guild member, or leave the things at the Concrete Library.

● WIGGINGTONS HAVE BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wiggington of Lynnwood, former Concrete teachers, announce the birth of an 8 lb. 2 oz. son on April 26th. He has been named Douglas Scott and joins a little brother, Jeff, and two sisters, Dianna and Shirley.



Monstrous Mushroom

Richard Grimes of this city came across this huge Puffball mushroom last Wednesday at the city dump. The oversize mushroom, probably a result of the continued wet wether, measured over 12 inches in diameter and weighed 12¾ lbs.

Unfortunately the puff-ball was too old when found to be edible. Otherwise—what a meal!

May Use Glaciers To Up River Water Flow

A Washington scientist armed with a bag of coal dust was high in the rugged Cascade Mountains Wednesday on an expedition to tame a massive glacier.

The two-day trip is part of a research project started by the state last summer to determine whether the huge ice blankets of Washington can be brought under control for power purposes.

Hydrologist Fred Hahn went up on skis this week to isolated Haystack Glacier, a 190-acre block of snow and ice about eight miles east of Marblemount, where the State Conservation Department is making the study.

The agency is testing the use of coal dust spread on the frozen cover to absorb heat of the sun and speed up melting of the glacier.

The glaciers of Washington, many of which feed power-producing rivers, hold about 50 million acre-feet of water. That is 10 times the amount in the Grand Coulee Reservoir and 90 per cent of the glacier capacity in this country, excluding Alaska.

Hydrologist Hahn's short trip this week to Haystack was to prepare a campsite and set stakes to measure glacier melt.

A three-man research team, including Hahn, meteorologist Stuart E. Shumway and a field assistant, will then go up by helicopter in June for studies that will last until weather forces them to leave, probably in mid-August.

Truman Price, state supervisor of power resources, said the agency has no desire to melt away Washington's glacier reservoir, but induced melting might help to prevent power shortage during infrequent low-water years.

Ultimate objective of the study is to see whether a coordinated program of cloud seeding to fatten glaciers and forced melting to boost water flows is feasible, Price said.

He said such a program could increase the power potential of glacier-fed rivers like the Skagit and Baker in the northwest, Chelan in the north central and Cowlitz in the southwest.

Price said the department also may study possible use of heat-reflective materials to slow down melting and extend runoff later in the summer for maximum power development.

St. Catherine Ladies Hold Tea For New Brides

Ladies of the St. Catherines parish attended a lovely tea at the home of Mrs. Harold Kloes on Friday afternoon in honor of two recent brides, Mrs. Loyal Kloes and Mrs. Marvin Harris. The afternoon was spent in visiting and getting acquainted. Hostesses were Mrs. John Bitonti and Mrs. Jim Ovenell. Vases of pink and white tulips and lilacs decorated the rooms.

Pouring during the tea hour at the pink covered table were Mrs. W. B. Harris. Punch was served by Mrs. Harold Kloes and Mrs. Frank Mathis, after which the honored guests were presented with two beautiful blankets. About fifty ladies attended the joyful occasion.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Walter S. Van DeGrift of Burlington, Mrs. Estes and Mrs. Burdine of Marblemount.

All Denominations Enjoy Church Fellowship

Around sixty attended the lovely Fellowship tea Friday afternoon for the ladies of the Luthern Episcopal and Community Bible Churches as guests of the Mt. Baker Presbyterian ladies.

Vases of Multi colored flowers decorated the reception hall. Pouring at the lace covered table were Mrs. Arnold Kjesbu at the tea urn and Mrs. Guy Morris at the Coffee urn.

A short Missionary program preceded the tea. Mrs. Ray Ross reviewed the work of Wm. Carey, the first Protestant Missionary to India. Mrs. Don Ross was chairman.

● BARBARA STICKNEY'S GIRL

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stickney of Marblemount that Mrs. Barbara Stickney, wife of their late son, gave birth to a 5 lb. 8 oz. baby girl in Tacoma April 29th. The little lady has been named Kimberly Ann.

Operator's Residence At Upper Baker Dam

Final construction at the upper Baker Dam was this modern home, constructed for use of the operator at the dam and the occasional relief or maintenance men. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Martin occupy the main residence section on the left.

Eastern Writers To Have Look At Puget Sound

One of the most ambitious industrial development activities ever undertaken in the Puget Sound region will occur during the week of May 14-19 under the sponsorship of the Carling Brewing Company and the Puget Sound Industrial Development Council.

Editorial representatives of major national magazines and newspapers will be in the Puget Sound region for a week-long tour beginning May14 as guests of Carling and the PSIDC. Cities to be visited include Bellingham, Sedro Woolley, Burlington, Mt. Vernon, Anacortes, Everett, Bellevue, Renton, Seattle Bremeron, Odympia, Shelton, Tacoma—and Concrete.

Latest information is that this group will be in Concrete about 2:30 Monday afternoon for a trip to the upper Baker Dam and a look at the Town of Concrete.

D. J. Dittman, Carling regional vice president and general manager of the company's Tacoma plant, announced the planned tour and said that response to it has been gratifying. Already scheduled to be part of the trip are industrial editors or their representatives from Business Week, Industrial Development Magazine, National Real Estate Investor, the Wall Street Journal, Christian Science Monitor, Time-Life-Fortune, Newsweek, Industrial News and National Petroleum News.

Dittman said the purpose of the tour is to give the entire area as a unit, and each city located within it, an opportunity to "put its best foot forward for the benefit of key editors who can help sell the industrial advantages of Puget Sound to the rest of the nation."

"Our region will require more than 35,000 new industrial jobs by 1970 to fulfill the needs of our growing population." Dittman commented. "The one certain way by which these jobs can be realized

Boat Races To Be On Baker Lk.

The outboard regatta planned for Cascade Days, August 18-19-20, is to be held on Baker Lake, according to Jim Conrad, president of the Northwest Stock Outboard Association. Mr. Conrad was here on Sunday to inspect the waters available for the races and found that the Skagit did not offer enough space for the fast boats that will compete.

With Legion representatives Dave Wright and Marion Ueland, a trip to Baker Lake found that spot an ideal location.

Boats that will be competing in sanctioned races will include those up to 160 horse power. There will be several classes of boats with local competition invited in any of the classes, but especially in those motors up to 15 h.p.

Other stock motor classes will include those from 30 to 40 hp.; from 50 to 70 hp.; and the X class, which is all those over 70 h. p. One boat racing in the association carries two 80 hp. motors!

The races will be one part of the Cascade Days program and are set for 1:00 on Sunday, August 20th.

Dr. Ingwersen Closing Optometry Office Here

Dr. C. Ingwersen, Bellingham optometrist who has been in Concrete every Tuesday for the past year, will close his office here this week. Reason: during the past few months it has not paid to keep the office open.

Dr. Ingwersen said that he was confident that a full time man in this area could work up a paying business, but that on one day a week it was impossible to serve the area satisfatcorily. He hopes to get a permanent man to take over his office here.

Katherine Weckerly of Newhalem and Rheta Gardinier of Concrete were recent patients at the Memorial hospital.

BUSTER WAGONER DIES SUDDENLY IN SEATTLE

Buster Wagoner, former resident of Van Horn who has been making his home in Seattle in recent years, passed away suddenly at his home there Monday evening. Buster is the son of Mrs. Alice Wagoner, and brother of Mrs. Dave O'Connor of this city.

Mr. Wagoner was born on May 20, 1909 and attended and graduated from the Concrete grade and high schools. He left Concrete about twenty years ago to be employed by City Light in Seattle.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Mary; a son, John; six daughters, Rose Mary, Margaret, Catherine, Helen, Cecelia, Barbara and Dorothy. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. George Fadon of Granite Falls.

Funeral services are being held with Rosary today at 8:00 P. M. at Manning & Son's Funeral home in Seattle, and Requiem Mass Friday morning at 9:30 at St. Catherine's church. Interment will be in the Calvary cemetery.

FOREST SERVICE PLANS MULTIPLE USE OF ALL BAKER FOREST LANDS

In the multiple-use management of such a large area of public land as the Mt. Baker National Forest, some single-use areas must also be recognized and provided for.

Although in total acreage these single-use areas cover only a small fraction of the National Forest, they are important to the welfare of individuals, groups and corporations.

The National Forests are for the use of all the people. When exclusive use of a piece of land is needed and desireable, it can often be granted through a special use. An annual fee is usually charged. These permits are mostly on an annual basis and are renewable each year automatically as long as the permit requirements are fully met.

The Baker River District has 17 special use permits. They are of many different types, from a permit for a trail to a permit for a resort. Each special use area is carefully reviewed by the distrct ranger or his qualified assistant. No application is automatically approved. It must first be fitted into the multiple use management of the forest. Other uses, existing or that may develop, ten, twenty or more years in the future must be fully considered. For example, a special use permit for a power line grants use of the land for this purpose by the power company involved. The company pays an annual rental fee for whatever acreage is in the right-of-way. Prior to clearing the land, the going rate for the timber that has to be removed from the right- of-way is paid by the power company.

Although the land under permit, which might be a strip of land 150 feet wide and 20 miles long, can no longer produce timber crops other

New Teachers Are Signed Up

After the recent story on teachers leaving the Upper Skagit School District for jobs elsewhere, the big news from now on will be the replacements being hired for the next term. The first of these became official this week following the meeting of the school board.

The new football coach will be a young man with no question as to nationality—the name is Micheal Finnegan. He will come here from Central Washington College where he graduates in June. He was a first string end for Central for three years, made "All-Conference" in this position. He played his high school ball at Chelan, where he starred both in football and basketball on championship teams. In his four years of high school the football team lost only two games.

Mrs. Lynda Finnigan, now teaching Primary Grades at Naches, will take a position in the Concrete grade school.

For the Math and Science Department the board has selected Walter R. Smith, graduate of the University of Minnesota. He is presently working as a mathematician on the large electronic computors in the space program at Boeing. He has taught one year at Fergus Falls, Minnesota.

Donald Sundeans Resign

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sundean have resigned their teaching positions here to accept one for Mr. Sundean at Mount Vernon.

Claude Wilson, presently teaching at Marblemount, will replace Mr. Sundean here at high school and will also serve as assistant football coach.

Marvin "Jim" Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harris of this city, and a graduate of Concrete high, will go to Marblemount to be head teacher there. He graduates from W.W.C.E. this June.

Other Replacements

Miss Shirley Ann Axtell, a graduate of Oregon State College and now teaching in Portland, will also teach in the Marblemount school.

Douglas Fowler, another W. W. C. E. graduate in June will handle the commercial subjects in Concrete high school next year. Mr. Fowler and his family have been making their home here during the past year, Mrs. Fowler working in Joey's Cafe part time.

A third replacement will be Mrs. Elenora Eliason, who will graduate in Library Science at W.W.C.E. in June. She will take over as librarian at the high school. Mrs. Eliason has resided in Arlington most of her life and returned to college to complete her degree after raising her family.

● TRANSPORTATION DIRECTOR

Stan Brown, former grade teacher here and now at Sedro-Woolley, has been appointed director of transportation for that district.

● MRS. J. Z. HOCKETT DIES

Mrs. J. Z. Hockett, a former Van Horn resident, passed away Saturday in Everett. Funeral services were held their yesterday.

Will Seek Valley Tour Promotion

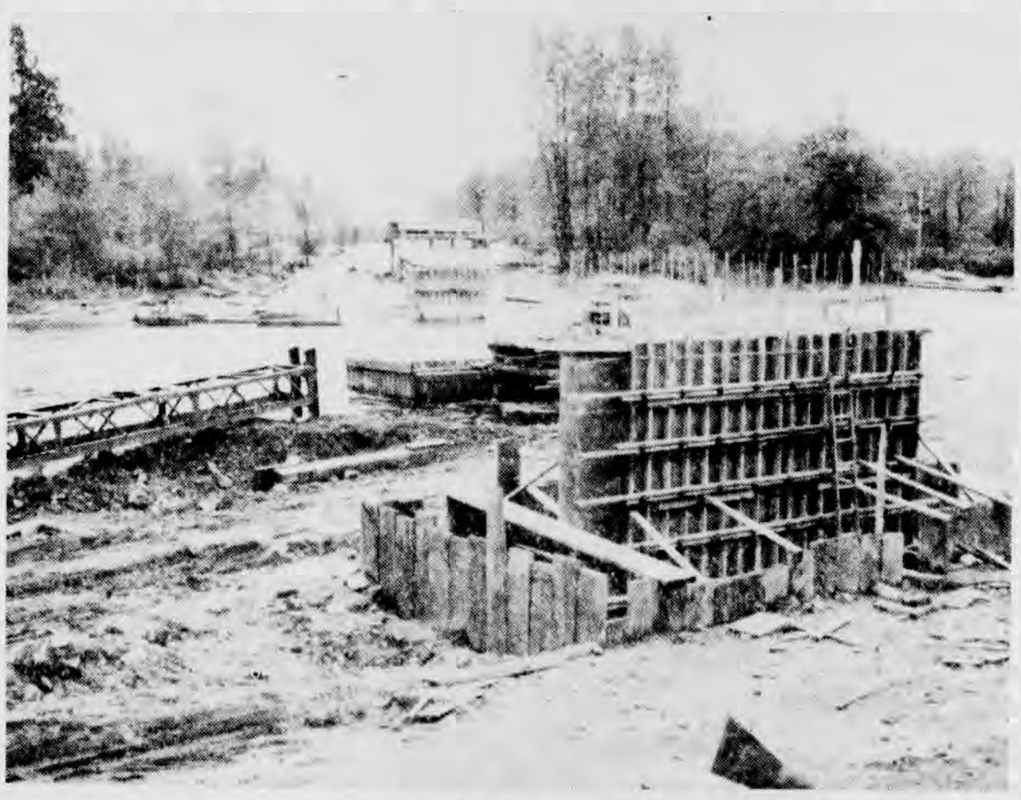
A few months ago a try was made locally to interest the business men of the upper valley in some sort of action toward promoting the upper Skagit, but the try failed as few turned out to even talk over the prospects.

Ernie Green of Marblemount is giving the idea another try with a form letter mailed out this week to all business and professional men in the valley, calling for a meeting Monday evening, May 15th, at 8:00 P. M. at the Legion Hall here.

His theme is promotion of a campaign to draw the tourists into the valley by preparing information on the various scenic resources, the hunting and fishing, and the other features such as summer homes or cabins on the various lakes and streams.

Speakers at the meeting will be Chamber of Commerce presidents from Sedro-Woolley, Mount Vernon and Burlington, who will tell of promotion methods and ideas applicable to the upper valley.

ROCKPORT BRIDGE GOING UP SMOOTHLY



Another in the series of progress reports on the Rockport bridge shows the second pier on the North bank under way. After completion of the piers on this side, piling will be driven for staging to be used in erecting the steel span. Completion of the bridge has been assured by early fall. —Herald Photo

Once more the call has been broadcast for all the staunch supporters of the valley to gather and discuss what can be done to boost its economy from run of the mill commercialism into the realm of tourism and recreation. For many years this tune of our wonderful natural attractions of river, streams, dams, snow topped mountains and hanging glaciers has been played with all the variations by people who love the outdoors. California would be charging so much a look. Here, up to now, few have been interested in even telling anyone about it. We don't mean to reverse the old city-slicker idea of picking pockets while the rubes look at the tall buildings, but when you find people who find pleasure in our kind country, we should at least make them welcome and provide for their comfort while they are here.

Practically every criticism of the previous administration, made so casually during the political campaign, has come home to roost with a baleful stare at the present occupant of White House. You don't just point out weaknesses and have them go away. Our country takes a lot of management and it isn't easy work for the top man. And it didn't take long to discover that party label was no guarantee of perfection in performance. The cry for vague help from the people is the first apology for overconfidence. The wordy debate is over, from now on the wounds are real.

This weather is hard to get used to—especially those sudden, momentary sun-storms.

In England the Rolls Royce is no longer a tax-deductible item for company executives, so production has dropped to a frightening low point. Now over here we would keep building them and ship any surplus to underprivileged countries.

In all the excitement of shooting a man into outer space somebody forgot that there were seven heroes ready to be honored, but the vehicle only had room for one. In our book we still have seven heroes, one with a hash mark.

We all have to face up to reality occasionally. Like realizing that some of our friends are growing old—then taking a quick look in the mirror to make sure you have them worrying about it.

Now is time to wonder if first space settlers will migrate for gold or a place for religious freedom.

is through an expansion of our business and industrial community. So that we can maintain our dynamic and vital characteristic as an area, all of us must begin now to cultivate more jobs through business and industrial growth.

"Puget Sound has something special to offer industrially that few other sections of the country possess," Dittman continued. "From Bellingham south to Olympia, there is room for business and industry to establish itself and grow wthin an area of economic and geographic unity. We want to illustrate that fact on our tour by demonstration."

Moehring also disclosed that editors of daily newspapers in the cities to be included on the tour have been invited to join the touring group during the week's activities. The program will start on Sunday, May 14 with a boat cruise of Puget Sound, and will conclude on Friday, May 19, with a tour of the industry in the city of Tacoma.

Forest Service Stresses Multiple Use Philosophy

than Christmas trees under this single dominant use, it does benefit wildlife. The growth on both sides of such a long ribbon of clearing is beneficial to browse animals. Insect life so valuable to game birds can develop in the opening. Hunters find power line right-of-way helpful in orienting themselves in cross country travel.

To help take care of the increasing number of vacationists who regularly enjoy a national forest vacation, there are 16,000 summer homes under paid special use permits on the National Forests. Each occupies approximately one-half acre, and the permittee is granted exclusive use of this land. Summer homes are screened from highways and are not permitted adjacent to lakes, along fishing streams, near public use areas or scenic attractions.

Where there is a public need for hotels, resorts, lodges, and cabin camps they are permitted on national forest land under special use permit. Many of the potential resort sites have long been recognized by forest officers, and have been reserved unimpaired for this purpose.

The flexibility of the multiple-use principle of management permits the thousands of special uses of every description on the National Forest to make water, timber, recreation, wildlife, and forage resources more productive.

Concrete Ladies Attend Rebekah District Meet

District 10 of Rebecca Lodges held their semi annual meeting in Sedro Woolley last week. Among the officers seated were Mrs. Wm. Cupples vice-president, Mrs. George Ely, her right supporter and Mrs. Jack Solomon, her left Supporter. The local lodge gave the flag tribute and it was given by Mrs. Dow Parker and Mrs. Glen Bust. The high light of the afternoon for the Concrete lodge was the presenting of the attendance cup to the Noble grand, Mrs. Guy Mosher, which is retained by a lodge receiving it three times in succession. This is a new cup just starting. The Langley lodge having won it permanently at the October meeting in La Conner Rebecca meeting.

The dancing dolls of the lodge performed during the entertainment in the evening. They were Mrs. Fred Crinklaw, Mrs. Jack Solomon, Mrs. Dow Parker and Mrs. Grant Nelles. Concrete lodge will give the degree work in the evening at the next meeting which will be held in Burlington on October 28th. They hope to win the cup the second time.

● MRS. PHIPPS PASSES

Mrs. Emily Phipps, mother of Wendell T. Phipps of Mount Vernon, died May 3rd at a rest home in Kirkland. Mr. Phipps was superintendent of schools here for several years.

Sauk News

By Jeanne Poe

Mr. and Mrs. Les Kelly of Seattle, former residents of Sauk, were calling on old friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawson Hornbeck attended the funeral of Ross Bauer in Mount Vernon Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Larsen were calling on the M. E. Larsens of Van Horn Saturday evening.

Sam Barker was in Mount Vernon Thursday, having minor surgery on his elbow.

Jim Wallace of Ukiah, California, arrived home Tuesday for a short visit and left for Wenatchee on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tingley and Tammy of Sedro-Woolley were Sunday callers at the Grant Robbins home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Poe and Jeannie were Saturday dinner guests of the Dennis Klingers.

Mrs. Iras Wortendyke and Mrs. Edith Sloan of Marblemount visited with Mrs. Verna Mobley Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Martin and family of Rockport were Sunday dinner guests of the Rawson Hornbecks.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thistle of Seattle spent the weekend at the Sam Barker home.

The Van Horn Pinochle club will meet Thursday at Vivian Justices.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wright and daughters were the Sunday dinner guests of the Guy D'Amicos in Concrete.

Mrs. Ben Gross attended a Tea at the Presbyteran church Friday.

Callers during the past week at the Sam Barker home were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Buller of Marblemount on Saturday evening, the Hei Albert family of Marblemount on Sunday, and Verne Lillien of Arlington on Monday.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank the ladies of St. Catherine's parish for the lovely "get acquainted" tea. It was a pleasure for my mother and I to meet each of you. Also, a special thanks from both Loyal and myself for the two beautiful blankets.

Thanks, BLANCHE KLOES

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to all those who so kindly remembered me with flowers, cards and gifts during my stay in the hospital recently. Also special thanks to the doctor and the taxicab service.

MRS. NELS GREEN

CARD OF THANKS

I am taking this way to thank each and everyone of you ladies for the lovely party and gift. It was indeed a pleasure to meet and visit with all of you.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS News Notes

Eight Pollyanna Bluebirds met last week and finished their Mother's day gifts. Colleen Peacock furnished the treats.

Nine Happy Bluebirds worked on their gifts for their mothers. Tammara Lee furnished the treats.

Eight Merrymads worked on their Mother's Day gifts. Debbie Ueland was the treat hostess.

Seven Merrymakers went to the park on a walk and saw how many plants they could identify. Shirley Parker had the refreshments.

Seven Rainbow Bluebirds made picturs from Moss and Sticks that had gathered. Cecelia Bianchini was hostess for treats.

There was a Campfire leader's meeting last Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Roy Pyatte. Beautification was discussed. All groups are working on flower barrels to be placed in town on the 26th in cooperation with the Garden Club. They also discussed a Flag Day ceremony with the Scouts to be held later on.

There will be a Bluebird Fly-up ceremony May 25th at the grade school.

● PSALM OF THE WELFARE STATE

The government is my shepherd, I need not work. It alloweth me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside the still factories; it destroyeth by initiative; it leadeth me in the paths of the parasite for politic's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending, I shall fear no evil; for its doles and its vote-getters, they comfort me. It prepareth an economic utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren. It filleth my head with bologna. My in-efficiency runneth over. Surely the government will care for me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever.

WEEKLY PUBLISHER'S REPORT OF BRIEFING BY PRESIDENT KENNEDY AND STATE DEPARTMENT

The following is part two of a three-part report being made to the weekly newspaper editors of the state by their President, Walt Woodard, publisher of the Bainbridge Review, who represented them at the recent Foreign Policy Briefing by the State Department in Washington, D. C.

For years, we Americans have been pouring our hard-earned tax dollars into foreign aid. Here and there, a few Americans have died trying to help other nations. What have we got to show for it? Part of it, at least, is in things like "Yankee, Go Home" signs. . . . a pushing around in such places as Laos. . . . a U. S. vice-president spat upon. . . . a U. S. president not able to visit Japan. . . . the scorn of the world on the goof-up in Cuba. . . .

Why do we do so poorly?

There are so many reasons it will take tight writing to cram even the most important into this article. Some of them will anger you. So be it. Anger, intelligently directed, very well may mean our survival. At any event, here is an amalgamation of what 17 of your nation's top foreign policy experts, including the President, himself, say. An independent Republican, I listened to these Democrats as a Doubting Thomas. I heard no partisan bickering. This is what I heard. . . .

In the years after World War II, colonialism has crumbled away at a pace much too fast for an orderly transition from serfdom to freeman. Consider, for example, Africa. It has 220 million people with 90 per cent of them illiterate and speaking 800 different languages. Only recently did many of them know the wheel and the plow. Yet, suddenly, across Africa swept the hot winds of freedom.

Four years ago, there were four independent nations in Africa; today there are 27. When freedom came to the Congo, that nation had only twelve—12, count them, 12—college graduates with which to form an elite corps for government leadership.

The boundaries of many of these nations have been drawn hastily and, perhaps, in error. In Southeast Asia and in Afrca there are many new nations whose boundaries, instead of containing tribes, actually divide them. In other instances, new boundaries accentuate ancient tribal rivalries. A line on a map, which he can't read, doesn't mean too much to a native only a comparatively few years away from savagery.

As the great, post-war, international champion of freedom for all mankind, the United States faced this global new-nation confusion with an ill-prepared foreign service. It still was the custom to give high diplomatic posts to rich men's sons; mostly what we knew about these new nations came from businessmen and missionaries. One top State Department official told us: "The 'Ugly American' makes us stop and think. It is overdrawn, but it has served its purpose. Where there is this kind of smoke, there must be some fire. We regret the 'unholy attitude of condescension' and are trying to do something about it."

All this would have caused us to do poorly enough, but superimposed on the whole mess has been the Sino-Soviet bloc, pledged to the sucess of international Communism and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created to serve the state.

With a singleness of purpose no democracy can match, the Soviets moved into a commanding lead in the space race, then used it to impress the leaders of new nations in this fashion: "Look, comrades, you are just where we were 40 years ago. But look where we are now. That first man in space was one of our glorious comrades. Do not listen to the decadent, capitalistic U. S., whose friends once bossed the colonial empire from which you now are free. Come with us, comrades."

Our answer is individual freedom, but that is vague talk to a native whose ancestors never experienced freedom.

Avoiding direct nuclear war and direct conventional battle, the Soviet outflanks us by using the new-nation confusion as a shield to forment international Communism. The Soviets only need to win one election. Cuba is the closest-at-hand example.

What's more, the Soviet causes us to look even more poorly because the Presidium operates in total secrecy. That secrecy is one of our most dangerous obstacles. Meanwhile, we operate in democracy's fish bowl.

Finally, we in the U. S. contribute directly to our poor international results. There is one, overshadowing contribution we make to our own failure; let's save that to the last. Here are some of the others:

A democracy, we do not have the mobility in programming military weapons or space vehicles which the Soviet dictatorship has. For example, the pentagon, trying to cut back the B-70 effort to make way for what it feels is a more advanced program, has had to buck indignant congressmen from the 35 states where there are B-70 contracts.

We call it the "Far East," but the natives over there don't think they are "far" from anything. "Near West" might be a smarter way to win friends.

We call it Communism and, thus, incorrectly honor an "ism". There isn't a Communist nation in the world. Not even the USSR qualifies; it is a nationalistic dictatorship.

Our foreign aid money would do more to reach men's minds if it were spent for "nation planning" instead of for hit-and-miss specific "projects."

But, say our foreign policy makers, the one thing which is hurting us the most internationally is our failure to achieve complete equality for all our races. Remember that two-thirds of the world's population is composed of colored people.

Here is one, jolting example: The Voice of America proudly told and retold the world of the Supreme Court's decision against segregation. . . .and then along came Little Rock. This sort of thing hurts us wherever colored people are trying to decide between the conflicting ways of life being offered them.

It hurts us "immeasureably."

Puget People Serve in Many Ways

From Little Leagues to local Chambers of Commerce, you'll find Puget people working with their neighbors to help make our communities a better place to live. Recently we took a survey and found that about half of our 1600 employees are actively working with youth groups, community service organizations, charitable fund-raising drives and similar groups. We're proud of these people and their community activities. We're also proud of the job they perform in bringing dependable low-cost electricity to all the people of the 270 communities we serve.

YES . . . a Priest CAN Forgive Your Sins!

You may not accept the idea of confessing your sins to a priest, as Catholics do.

Perhaps you believe that Confession is not of divine origin . . . but only an invention of the Catholic Church. And possibly you will insist that God alone has the power to forgive sins and you therefore confess directly to Him.

Catholics know that Christ Himself instituted the Sacrament of Penance, which includes Confession, when He said to His Apostles: "Receive ye the Holy Ghost: whose sins ye shall forgive, they are forgiven them; whose sins ye shall retain, they are retained" (John 20:22, 23).

If they were faithful to these instructions, could the Apostles have neglected preaching Confession and Penance from the very beginning of their ministry? They and their disciples went everywhere proclaiming the doctrine given them by Christ, establishing churches, and appointing bishops and priests upon whom they conferred the same authority.

Christ was not speaking in parables when He said: "Whose sins ye shall forgive, they are forgiven them; whose sins ye shall retain, they are retained" (John 20: 22, 23). No words could be plainer. And the subsequent actions of the Apostles leave no doubt that they understood exactly the responsibility and the authority vested in them.

The writers of the Church, whose testimony bears witness to the traditional belief and practice from the earliest days of Christianity, insisted on Confession as the necessary means of regaining God's favor. They tell us that Confession was made, not to laymen but to priests who exercised the power of forgiving sins by virtue of Christ's commission. Origen and St. Cyprian in the 3rd century; Pacian and Aphraates in the third, and St. Chrysostom and St. Augustine, in the fourth, all left historical testimony of the acceptance of the Sacrament of Penance by the first Christians.

For 1,500 years, the faithful of all Christendom confessed their sins to a priest, just as Catholics still do, the world over, today. And every Catholic, whether he be the ruler of a nation or the humblest of men, must be truly repentant and must confess his sins if he wants God's forgiveness.

Holy Scripture clearly tells us that Christ did establish the Sacrament of Penance. If you want to know more about this Sacrament which can bring the grace of God into the most sinful heart; if you want to feel a new and tremendous inner sense of spiritual rebirth, write today for our free pamphlet No. 46, or for the free correspondence course about the Catholic Faith, or both.

Plans were formulated for the Day Camp to be held in this area June 26 to 28 at Rockport State Park. This camp will be open to all Scouts in Rockport, Marblemount, Newhalem and Diablo.

Brownie Troop 103 of Rockport had a cook-out at the Martin Pressentin home last Tuesday. The girls practiced fire building and did such a good job they couldn't let it go to waste. The fly-up girls are doing the work required for the rank of Tenderfoot.

The third annual meeting of the San Juan Girl Scout Council was held in the Mount Vernon Elk's Club Wednesday, April 20th, when displays were set up from Troops in Marblemount, Oak Harbor, Anacortes and Sedro-Woolley.

Girls from Troop 77 of Marblemount took part in a "living flag" ceremony. The girls were Lynn Peterson, Carol Wortendyke, Susan Blankenship, Sandra Merritt and Nora Williams.

The Mount Vernon Neighborhood women were in charge of the decorations, which were in the gold and green theme, and golden nasturtiam seed packets were at each place setting through the courtesy of the Mount Vernon Kiwanis club, in honor of the Golden Years.

After the meeting the girls from Troop 77 retired the colors.

"Don't You Have Some Kind Of Cleaner That Takes Out The Wrinkles?"

Sorry, lady, but there just isn't anything that can iron out a rumpled fender and hood. In fact, it's much easier to give friend husband the glamor treatment and break the news to him while he's in a good mood.

After that—what's a few smash-ups between friends? And speaking of friends, we would like to be yours and have you drop in often for our happy Texaco service. Good for your car, good for you. Try it.

Heard In The Lube Room

The professor was lecturing: "I predict the end of the world in fifty million years."
"How many?" cried a frightened voice from the rear.
"Fifty million years."
"Thank God," said the voice with a sigh of relief. "For a moment I thought you said fifteen million."
