

Feathers

from the Duster

By The Over-time Editor

THERE ARE times when the writing chore of a small town newspaper becomes almost too much to bear. This week is one of those issues. Coming back from a harrowing, but happily ended series of x-rays and examinations in the hospital over the week end, we found that our small misfortunes were hardly worth a mention in the face of greater sorrows at home. The loss of station master Ed Hamm was the first shock. Then came the day-long dread wait for confirmation of the accidental death of Dick Price.

Ed, up in years and in ill health for some time, was one of our solid citizens. Dick, full of life and enthusiasm and most popular with young and old, was one of those to whom we looked for the future leadership and spirit of our community. How do you take a blow like that—or tell about it properly?

That is when mere words fail to express the thoughts that should be so clearly stated—if not for this moment, for a future time of remembrance.

"The moving finger writes," and so often in sorrow.

AN AVERTED tragedy for two more of our valued citizens happened last Tuesday afternoon at Baker Lake when John Stadlman and Pastor Roy Olson suddenly found themselves in 90-feet of water with an overturned boat. They were fishing at Anderson Creek when the accident occurred.

Each hung on to one end of the unsinkable craft and called for help. They had borrowed an anchor from Lonnie Fessler on the Horseshoe Cove side of the lake and they were expected to return it about 2:00. When they did not show up the Fesslers made it a point to go outside of their trailer to look. They heard the cries and immediately Lonnie and L. T. Payne put a boat in the water and took off to the scene. Being in a light boat they were unable to take the men out of the water, but were able to tow the boat to shore.

In the meantime Mrs. Fessler and Mrs. Payne alerted the crew at Puget Power and they also brought a boat over. Both men were a bit chilled, but all right after their half hour or so in the water. Boat and motor were undamaged, but all their fishing gear was lost.

NOTES in the mail this week: From Harriett Norberg, a few lines to say all is fine and happy at Quincy, which they like real well. They report Steve is now at Sheppard AFB and has seen Tim Roetman, Jr. and Barney Young there.

Council Passes TV Cable Franchise And Air Pollution Act

The town council had a busy session Monday night with the adoption of the TV Cable Franchise and passage of an ordinance on joining the county Air Pollution Control District—plus budget adoption and the acceptance of another bid on street paving.

The TV Franchise will be printed in full in the next issue of the Herald, as will the Air Pollution Control District Ordinance.

Associated Sand & Gravel submitted the low bid on paving of C street and the Loop in Crofoot addition with a figure of $3,487.50. Second low was Tri-County with a bid of $3,510.

On the budget a new Assessed Valuation figure was received, cutting the total about $5,000 to $1,155,529 for the coming year. The budget was passed with the only change being in adjusting the valuation and a $20 a month raise in salary for Attorney Hugh Ridgway. His extra $240 was taken from the $900 allotted to City Planning.

In minor items it was voted to install signs at the dump to tell people where to deposit their refuse. The council also approved the suggestion of new doors and frames for the council chamber to fit in with the new paneling. The rat poisoning program at the dump will be started again soon.

The Volunteer Fire Department was given approval to write the specifications for their next fire truck, subject to council okay.

Mayor Margaret Stadlman was unable to be present, being another victim of the present flu bug invasion.

Voters are reminded that the registration books close on Saturday for the General. Marie Miller and Bonnie Boyd are the registration clerks here.

—GOAT HUNTING TRIP ENDS IN TRAGEDY ON SHUKSAN RIDGE

Dick Price Killed In Fall

A fall from a ledge in the steep country south of Sulphide Creek in the Shuksan ridge area above Baker Lake, claimed the life of Richard Price, 33, well known and popular druggist of the community, Sunday evening. Dick and his ward Larry Holte, 14, had gone into the rugged country for a goat hunting trip. Price was an experienced hunter and woodsman.

When they failed to return on Sunday evening at dark a hunt was started for them, but was unavailing due to darkness. But early Monday morning young Holt had made his way out and contacted one of the group to report the accident. He was exhausted and overwrought, but could not be sure that Price was dead.

As soon as a representative from the Watcom county coroners office arrived Holte directed a party to the location of the body from the meadow below.

It took them about an hour to carry the stretcher to a flat place above the cliffs where it could be picked up by helicopter. It was not until late in the afternoon that word came of the tragic close to the story.

Reconstructing the accident from the boy's story and findings of Ranger Bill Knechtel, it appears that Dick was on a flat spot on the ledge above Holte when he spotted a goat and fired a shot. He then apparently ran toward the edge of the flat area and lost his footing.

He fell down a series of 10 to 20-foot ledges about 150 feet down the cliff, then slid and rolled and slid another 200 feet down a slope until his body lodged against a tree. Another 500 foot slope lay below.

Young Holte made his way to the body, found no sign of life, so started out for the road. The accident occurred just about 7:00 at dusk, so he was unable to get out until dawn.

Making the trip in to locate the body were Bill Knechtel, Dave Jenkins, Whatcom deputy, Al Brown, Phill Dodd, Don Ladue and Reid Sims.

Lions Lose To Langley By 14 To 6 Score

By Larry Comstock

Friday night the Concrete Lions lost their first league game of the season by a score of 14-6 to the Langley Falcons.

The first quarter was scoreless while each team was receiving each others punts. The Concrete Lions tallied in the second quarter after a 40-yard drive into scoring territory. A pass from Lee Hoover to Mike Hill for three yards gave Concrete the first 6 points of the game. The kick on the PAT was low.

Langley got its first touchdown in the final quarter on a 35-yard pass play to Orr. Orr ran for the extra point to make the score 7-6. In the last minute of the game Langley scored again on a pass for 15 yards to make the score 13-6. Orr ran for the extra point to make it 14-6.

Concrete is 0-1 in league play now. They play Lake Stevens at Concrete next Friday.

Contract Let For Fill On River Washout

A bid of $35,950 has been accepted from the Stoen Construction Co. of Seattle for the filling of a portion of the south bank of the Skagit River about three miles east of Hamilton. The section is where a deep cave in was caused by river action.

The erosion necessitated the blocking of the South Skagit highway to one-way traffic at that point. The U.S. Corps of Army Engineers had estimated the cost at $55,000. The county will repair the roadway when the job is completed.

FOR THOSE who so kindly shared our concern over a preliminary diagnosis that indicated a tumor pressing against the inside of an upper jawbone, we happily report the final and intensive x-rays revealed no serious surgery necessary. A further approach to a nagging tooth ache where no tooth now exists will follow at a later date. And our deepest thanks to all for their sympathy.

Actually the sympathy should have been for wife Alice, who was faced with a month or over of gathering a crew to continue the publication of the Herald, and the operation of a print shop. Help was offered from all directions, top writers down to shop men. The problem was one of timing, the most intricate task of all.

"PICKED UP ALONG THE WAY"

—By PASTOR ROY OLSON

"That man does not possess his land, his land owns him." I didn't pick this up from anywhere. I made it up myself.

I made it up out of years of observation, however. I have observed that it is not only a piece of land that can possess a man. It may be any number of other things. This has been true ever since man was commanded by his Creator to possess the earth and conquer it. Man somehow got mixed up on what God intended for him, and let the things of earth possess him. And that has brought on a lot of misery!

Do you possess a farm? If so, does it take just about all of your interest, your effort and your time? Does it make a slave out of you? Does it make Sunday no different than any other day for you? Then perhaps it would be well for you to stop and ask yourself if you possess your farm or if it is the other way around.

The same goes for your business, any kind of business. It is so easy to get into the thought pattern that calls for "keeping your nose to the grindstone" seven days a week, until you "get your feet on the ground." May I make a little prediction? Just let that habit pattern get to you and the day will come when you find it next to impossible to change, no matter if you have long since paid off the mortgage. Your business now possesses you. You may find that the ground you wanted to get your feet on has turned to quicksand.

Eddie Rickenbacker, after that long and terrible experience on a raft in the trackless ocean, had this to say, "Let the moment come when nothing is left but life, and you will find that you do not hesitate over the fate of material possessions." Think that over and then take a little stock of yourself. When your possessions possess you, you have had it!

An electric heat original. Yours for the asking.

If you're building a new home, you may well want to get this heat cost guarantee. It's offered only by electric heat. Here's how it works.

A Puget Power Registered Electric Heat Contractor looks at your new house or plans and determines how much it should cost to heat your new home electrically.

Then we guarantee the amount. In writing. For two full years. That way, you know exactly what your electric heating bill should be. And you know before you ever install the heat.

Since the guarantee doesn't obligate you in any way, you can end the whole thing right there if you want to. But if you should decide to have electric heat installed, the guarantee goes into effect for two full years.

And if your annual heating costs exceed the guaranteed amount, you'll be refunded the difference. Sound fair enough? Give us a call.

Cars could become safer than they are by the simple act of adding an expensive, full coverage insurance policy to each accident citation fine.

A rash of vandalism of public property this past week may be sort of a protest against the re-occurring comment that present spending will be paid, with interest, by the upcoming generation.

One candidate filed his expense statement as one can of paint to cover the dates on his previous political signs. This man is either a career office holder in the making—or should be drafted as nominee for state treasurer.

Community College Program Outlined

The Legislature's Joint Committee on Education concluded their series of hearings on community colleges this week in Aberdeen.

Senator Lowell Peterson, a member of the committee, said that the Education Committee was charged by the 1965 Legislature to investigate the feasibility of separating the community colleges from the K-12 Administration.

Public hearing have been held in Spokane, Everett, Seattle, Yakima and Aberdeen in relation to the Arthur D. Little Consultant firm's report on a survey of community colleges. Recommendations contained in the report would set up 20 community college districts in the state, each administered by a board of directors. A new state board would also be created under this plan.

Senator Peterson says the report indicates that community college enrollment will increase 15% in the next 15 years. Of this increase 100% will occur in the next ten years. Further recommended is that 30% of the operating costs of community colleges be borne at the local level with the balance being financed by the state. Any existing bonded indebtedness should be assumed by the state.

Senator Peterson stated that general endorsement for separation of the community colleges from the K-12 program has been voiced throughout the state.

Cascade River Park

Sunday was one of the most beautiful days one could expect this time of the year and a goodly number of investors were out to enjoy it. The MacKays of Vancouver, B.C. spent an industrious week clearing and landscaping their lot and had as guests on Sunday, Mrs. Isabel and Miss Gail McEachnie. The Moores are so happy with their new cabin that they spent several days here this past week. The Savages were up with relatives to inspect their new cabin.

The J. C. Campbells were gathering in their picnic tables and other outdoor furniture and did some relaxing. Karber and Decker were in and reported catching some real nice fish. Excuse me the color of Hunsteads cabin is flamingo pink. Sorry. The Stevens in Div. 2 were seen clearing their lot. The Fogs were in and were relaxing. The Halleys had relatives in to view their property and were making a short side tour up to see Ladder Creek Falls. Grace Stevens was seen with a paint brush in hand and was putting the finishing touches to her trailer (looks great) with the new roof over and deck for relaxing.

The Throckmortons, the Sholes, Louise Christensen and the Thurstons were all busy clearing out the brush at their favorite spot at C.R.P. The Strindens were enjoying a picnic on their property and were making arrangements for a driveway and plan to spend as much time as possible here this winter. Mel and Dorothy Harrison were busy as beavers by the water edge clearing and landscaping their patio. The Don Harrisons have the shakes all on the roof of their chalet. Chuck Wylie now has a floor furnace in his cabin.
