oters Approve First Phaseil to Extend Sewer Service

e Town Councilmen votis service the west and sever areas of the town if resed sewerage treatment approved in the sext at next Tuesday's gendettin in special public lest Wednesday followed miss session arranged so theney Hugh Ridgway source questions about the project and ordinance ready for voter action next Tues-

Opposition to the proposed sew-er ordinance developed because some areas were not included in the first plan.

the first plan.

Ridgway explained the system was designed to fit within the town budget and stay under the state-imposed bonded indebtedness ceiling of 10 per cent of assessed valuation.

When the project was approv-d by council and the ordinance filed with the county assessor for inclusion on the November 3 election ballot, Concrete's total valuation was listed as $1.4 million. Since that time it has jumped to more than $4 million due to state evaluation of recently amerged Since that time it has jumped to more than $4 million due to state evaluation of recently annexed Puget Sound Power & Light Co. property and the increase in assessed valuation ordered by the State Legislature from the former 25 percent up to 50 percent of true value. Bonded indebtedness can be increased accordingly. can be increased accordingly.

The attorney advised that if voters approve the November 3 ballot to complete the project as presented, council could then extend the project to the rest of the town and pay for this addition by calling a special election for approval of additional general obligation bonds.

A considerable portion of the obligation bonds.

A considerable portion of the cost of the proposal now on the ballot is for the sewage disposal system and main trunk lines that will serve all the town, it was stressed at last week's public meeting. In answer to questions from the audience Ridgway said he could not predict effects of a "no" vote next Tuesday on possible future receipt of the $186.500 in state and federal funds now anticipated but reminded the group that "they have other people standing in line" for the limited amount of matching funds available.

available.

A special election for another (Continued on Page 8)

Vol. 70, No. 44, Thursday, October 29, 1970

ons Bow to Blaine 26-0

by Couch Jim Menzies aint Blaine High school satmuscled the Concrete Friday 290 at the border

. 49

FOOD

JUICE

CHIPS

BOY

hederites jumped to an hid and were never ser-firestened. Their tough intense and fewer turn-ture their keys to victory. hicked off to open the la erant Lion pitchout by the hosts who and counter set up the of the second quarter. The this failed to convert the state teachdown but led 12-0 at

A 12-play Concrete drive late in the second quarter which moved the ball from the Lions' one yard line to the Blaine's 45 was the only bright spot in the first half.

Rides to Polls

Polls open from 7 a.m. un-til 8 p.m. next Tuesday for the November 3 General Election. Concrete East precincts will east ballots at city hall and Concrete West at the Mount Balter Presbyterian Church Concrete voters may arrange number Presbyterian Church Concrete voters may arrange for free transportation to the polls by calling Lots Thompsen at 833-2133; See Coffell at 833-2223; or Lois Coonc at 833-2225.

Border City

Concrete dominated play in the second half, despite the scoring. The Lions moved the ball very successfully through the air and on short runs by Keith Pyatte but a five-yard offside penalty when Concrete had a second and five on the Blaine six-yard line and three interceptions stopped the offensive. A Blaine back went 85 yards midway through the final quarter for the clincher. Reserves played out the rest of the game for both sides, with a Lion fumble allowing Blaine to score the final quarton on the last play of the game. Concrete dominated play in the last play of the game.

Due to exteremely muddy field conditions. Lion quarterback Jeff

(Continued on Page 8)

Election | Open Tuesday

Voters in Concrete will decide Voters in Concrete will decide the fate of an ordinance designed to finance first phases of a sani-tary sewer system for the town, and cast their ballots along with others to elect county, state and national leaders and establish new laws fiext Tuesday when polls open at 7 a.m. for the state general election.

Seven county offices are at stake Tuesday, with only three incumbents un-disputed on the ballot, These are Arthur Eliason (R) county clerk, Earl F. Ange-vine (R) prosecuting attorney, and Edward Janson (R) treasurer.

Numerous write-in candidates are campaigning for the position of county coroner since none received a sufficient majority of primary votes to settle the issue at that time.

gue at that time.

For assessor it will be Gene Olson (D) against Gordon Lien (R); for auditor Ann Ross (R) against Donald G, Bottles (D); and for sheriff incumbent John Boynton (D) faces Monte Schroeder (R).

der (R).

Donna Kjargaard (D) is challenging Republican Duane Berentson for the state representative's position he has held for eight years. James Costanti (R), appointed to fill the representative's seat vacated by the resignation of Don Eldridge is campaigning for election to the post against Mack Johnson, a Democrat.

On the national level Congress-On the national level Congress-man Lloyd Meeds (D) is running for re-election against Edward A. McBride (R) and United States Senator Henry M. Jackson (D) faces Republican Charles W. Elicker on the general election

County History Group to Meet

Quarterly meeting of the Skagit County Historical Society is scheduled next Tuesday evening at 7:36 in the society's county museum at LaConner, Robert Whipple, Concrete resident and member of the six-man museum board of governors, announced this week. All members and interested persons are invited to attend. Sedro Woolley members will be hosts for the evening.

Halloween Party

A Halloween party for all area young people (seventh graders and older) will be sportsored by the Christian Youth Fellowship of the Community Bible Church. All young people are invited to attend the session, in costume if they wish. at 7 p. m. this Saturday in the Concrete Library building.

HAPPENINGS....

HANDCRAFT—Combining preparations for the ghosts
the due Saturday with educational classroom project, in the Concrete Grade School class taught by Marion "vowel owls" to be mache decorations and in later reading classes. Pictured fr left are Pat Gardner, Michael Stewart, Dani Harris, No. Kevin Jarmin and Heidi Comer.

-Concrete Herald Photo