SO WE PROGRESS in phone compunication, or supposedly so Frankly the number of nation-wide calls I make do not receive any relief from not being able to stick a finger in the "O" hole and letting some one who knows what it is all about place the call. Numbers always did confuse me and the very thought of having to dial over five numbers at one sitting may end my career entirely as stub-fingered click soloist.

We do, however, still get to ear a friendly feiminine voice when making a distance call as when making a distance call as the moment you dial the first signal some gal is going to ask you what number the call is to be charged to. As long as she is going to be that friendly, we'd just as soon chat a while as she makes sense out of the string of figures we have pinned down by the forefinger of the free

Now, if we could direct dial, free, any phone in the county we'd consider the step one of great value and might in time memorize those we use several times a week. That may, God willing we survive, come at a distant date. In the meantime if you don't get a call from old Fumble-phone Charley, call us we can't find you.

AS A TRAINED and exper-AS A TRAINED and experienced football watcher we feel the hobby suffers a little at the high school level. Not from the play, which is kids learning a tough game, but from the side lines where the game is some-times completely demoralized by flagrant, inefficiency. Such as why go to the expense of hiring a head linesman and then handicapping him by picking a kid or two out of the crowd to set the yardage markers? The game would be much smoother for players, coaches and officials if there was as much competition and training for these jobs as there is for yell-leaders. Give a letter and make it an honor

Next we don't think it would too much to ask that there (Continued on page 4)

U. S. Timber Cutback Is Restored Here

The order to cut back 10 per cent in timber sales from na-tional forests has been reversed to add aonther 400 million board feet of timber in Washington and Oregon to the sales sche-dule before the end of this fiscal

Council Ponders Leasing Costs

The prospect of leasing, with set monthly payments that will continue indefinitely was considered on two town projects atthe council session Monday evening. One was taking a twoyear lease on a telephone fire reporting system at a cost of about $40 a month; and the sec-ond was leasing of a police car to replace the present vehicle at around $100 a month

Both items have features favoring the plans. The new system for fire phones would elimin-ate costs of moving phones as firemen change residences, but would almost double the monthly service charge. The proposal is for 10 lines which can automatically service 20 phones with fire calls over the regular phone system lines. Only a small con-version cost would be made on version cost would be made on the private phone to put it on the system from any point. No separate phone would be needed. The plan will be studied by the fire department before any decision is made.

On the police car the council was split on whether to repair the present car or go to the lease proposal. Finally a call for bids was issued to get the exact cost of the change over. A two-year lease had been quoted at about $110 for full service guarantee or about $20 less if the town provided maintenance.

The council approved the appointment of Marie Miller as Food Stamp agent for this area.

Negotiations with Lone Star Cement Corp. for the water sys-tem are continuing. The town has decided on a revenue bond/ plan of payment, but there will be a vote necessary for citizen approval before any final deal, is made.

The next session of the council has been set for Dec. 3 instead of Dec. 2nd.
